

HOUSE GIVES 3RD READING TO BANK ACT

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, June 18.—By a vote of 156 to 31 the House of Commons today gave third reading to the bill amending the Bank of Canada Act...

The amendment will increase the capital stock of the bank from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, the new shares being held by the government...

The promise of the Liberal party at last election had not been fulfilled, said Conservative leader Bennett. Certainly the people had been led to believe that the bank would be changed from a privately-owned, privately-controlled bank to one both publicly owned and publicly controlled.

The bank had always been publicly controlled but it was not to be half publicly owned and half privately owned. All the powers of the bank remained untouched and unchanged.

Mr. Dunning and the government were to be congratulated on maintaining the Bank of Canada as the Conservatives left it and in issuing "currency in terms of public need" as it had always been issued, in whatever volume was needed for the business of the country.

The government, with the election over, realized it could only maintain Canada as a country which paid its debts by adhering to sound monetary policies. Only in that way could the system go. The only alternative was a change in the system, establishment of a socialist state as proposed by the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and the people did not want that.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) CHELSEA, June 19.—The civic administration of Chelsea, with default on June 30 probable, faced another problem today.

The board of sinking fund trustees refused to accept a suggestion today that it purchase $125,000 worth of city treasury bills issued in 1934.

The Bank of Montreal, the civic bankers, has offered to grant the city $188,000 for payment of essential civic services in June if the sinking fund would purchase the $125,000 worth of bills filed with the bank two years ago.

Inability to obtain a bank loan led Mayor Andrew Davison to announce payment of interest on debentures would be defaulted June 30.

MRS. CATHERINE FORD In the calm peaceful stillness of the Sabbath morn June 14, 1936, the gentle spirit of Mrs. Catherine Ford winged its way to God at an advanced age of 92 years.

Prof. Stevenson Honored By Shurtleff College

Prof. George N. Stevenson, for 21 years head of the English Literature Department of Shurtleff College, was honored when the college this morning at its one hundred ninth commencement conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters (Litt.D.).

He has taught in schools and colleges for 30 years. He came to Shurtleff in 1915 and has given of his best to the advancement of the college since that time. He is loved and respected by hundreds of students who have attended Shurtleff during the last 21 years.

Prof. Stevenson was born and reared on Prince Edward Island, Canada, where he obtained his elementary and secondary school education. He attended Prince of Wales College on Prince Edward Island for one year, then went to Kentucky University for four years, receiving his bachelor of arts degree in Greek, Latin and English and later receiving his master of arts degree in English, Greek and Latin.

He later attended the College of Bible at Lexington, Ky., and received there the classical diploma granted to students having a bachelor of arts degree in the classics and three years of theological training. He was the honor student in his class at Kentucky University and valedictorian of the class at the Lexington College of Bible.

Mr. Stevenson continued his graduate study at Syracuse University in New York where he obtained a master of arts degree in English literature and spent two additional years there completing required residence work for the degree of doctor of philosophy in English. He also attended the University of Chicago during the summer session of 1923. The honorary degree granted to him this morning was presented in recognition of his years of devoted service to Shurtleff, and the basis for the doctor's degree rests substantially upon the years of graduate study in the various institutions which altogether constitute more than the required graduate work for a doctor's degree in course.

The teaching experience of Dr. Stevenson before coming to Shurtleff College includes seven years teaching in the public schools of Prince Edward Island, Canada, and one year in the state of Kentucky. Besides his teaching, he has been an active public speaker. He has occupied the pulpit as supply preacher for Baptist, Presbyterian, Methodist, Evangelical, Lutheran and other churches of Alton and vicinity and has delivered commencement addresses for high schools, and certification addresses for grade schools. He frequently has been called upon to speak by three parent-teacher associations and various civic clubs in the community.

Dr. Stevenson is the author of "Outlines for Studies in English Literature," copyright 1931. He is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, national literature society of The American Association of University Professors, and of The National Council of Teachers of English. (Alton, Ill., Evening Telegram, June 8, 1936)

Prof. Stevenson is a brother of Mr. W. H. Stevenson of Charlottetown. He was born at New Glasgow, Prince Edward Island.

Youths To Study Undersea Life Off Bermuda (C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) TORONTO, June 18.—Equipped with a $80 diving helmet made by himself, Charles Schwenger, 16 year old Toronto student, will leave tomorrow to study undersea life off the coral reefs of Bermuda. Accompanying him is a fellow student at Upper Canada College, Bronson Hartley, 16, whose home is in Bermuda.

The whole apparatus weighs 233 pounds. The helmet is the top part of a boiler with shoulder grooves cut with a hack-saw. It has two plate glass windows built in by Charles. A manual double-action pump feeds air through 50 feet of rubber hose. The helmet is equipped with the apparatus to work in depths of 30 to 40 feet.

Alberta to Issue Prosperity Certificate (C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) EDMONTON, June 18.—Alberta's "prosperity certificate," which the government hopes to place in circulation within two or three weeks, will act as an extra medium of exchange, according to Premier Abernethy, and will not replace but supplement present exchange media.

Mystery Trawler "Girl Pat" Captured After Merry Chase

The Grimsby trawler, Girl Pat, which quietly slipped away from England last April, the crew and captain neglecting to inform the owners, visited Corubion, Spain, set out on a search for treasure and was finally sighted off the British Guiana coast where she was captured. A charge of marine theft has been laid against Captain George Osborne.

By Central Press Canadian EDMONTON, June 17.—The lantern-jawed Norwegian trapper, Evan Peterson, last night was to see "Telaruk the Terrible" before that Eskimo killer dropped from eight five years ago after butchering the Thelon River trappers, Emil Bode and Jean Olson, deserted his barren lands trap lines early this month and for the first time since shining in the northland's crime-light came to Edmonton for a short vacation.

With him came Howard Price and Alex. Knox, who discovered the bodies and set Royal Canadian Mounted Police on their longest and hardest man-hunt. Five years have dimmed the horror to the outside world of the killing of the two trappers, but in the minds of R.C.M.P. patrols the murders are as fresh as the day Price and Knox found the bodies.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police replacements, fresh men going into Canada's far north for three-year service, all carry description of the Eskimo slayer. Telaruk remains the most wanted man of the high north. The vast wilderness, charted only along the main water courses which reach from Hudson's Bay to Bering Sea and from parallel 80 to the islands of the Arctic, is the hide-out where "Mountie" muckers have sought "Telaruk the Terrible" for five years. Fresh, young, eager R. C. M. P. replacement men, leaving Edmonton for their first service in the north on June 2 swore they would all take a crack at laying the elusive Eskimo by the heels. Telaruk is known to be alive.

ORPHANAGE (Continued from Page 1) where we can listen to reports of the work of the past year given briefly and think of the year ahead. "As you will hear from our Treasurer the women's organizations have raised nearly four thousand dollars truly a splendid amount in a year that saw little relief from the depression. How deeply grateful we should all feel that our work has been so very successful and it is indeed an inspiring fact to go on and do it better in the future.

"As the greater number of you will not remain in Charlottetown for the annual meeting tonight and as it is my privilege to act as chairman of finances on the Trustee Board, I am going to give you a short statement of the finances of our orphanage at the end of 1935. As you are aware the "Home" is free of debt, and let me say here that if it was not for this Auxiliary, that has passed fifty-five (55) thousand dollars to the Trustee Board, the Orphanage would not be free of debt today.

Table with columns: Date, Amount, Description. Includes entries for Dec. 31, 1934, Receipts 1935, 1935 expenses on buildings, on maintenance, on wages, on Ch'town office.

It was shortly after Price found the bodies that Royal Canadian Mounted Police started the search for Telaruk, but his red-coat has ever caught sight of him. The only white man to see "Telaruk the Terrible" when he was being sought by the "Mounties" was Evan Peterson. The slim Norwegian met the wanted Eskimo when the "husky" was headed south out of the Thelon River country after the slaying; but as the meeting happened in March, the trapper had not heard of the murders yet and did not know the hue and cry was on for Telaruk.

For five years Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrols have regularly visited Eskimo encampments in the Barrens on the coast and in the islands of the Arctic searching for Telaruk without success. He is alive; other Eskimos have seen him and the search continues. Peterson, Knox and Price will head north again the third week in June with new outfits to work their Thelon River traplines again.

P. E. I. ORPHANAGE REPORTS "BALANCED BUDGET" FOR YEAR

(Continued from Page 1) "As chairman of the board may I express my gratitude to the members for their faithfulness and helpful co-operation. The Trustees Board is deeply indebted to all friends for valuable assistance and unfailing generosity; among their number are: The Clergy, numerous individual collectors, The Press, Guardian, Patriot, Journal and Agriculturist, Drs. Tidermarsh, Lantz, Campbell and Ayers, the several Auxiliaries, Quaker Mary Newdrew Guild, The L. O. B. A. and our efficient Secretary."

MEDICAL REPORT Dr. F. W. Tidermarsh presented the following medical report: "I have the honor to submit herewith the medical report of the Orphanage for the year 1935. The children committed to our care have enjoyed excellent health during the year, although two became seriously ill. One child developed acute appendicitis with peritonitis which required operation on two occasions, and a second contracted pleurisy. Both children made an uneventful recovery. One child developed a double rupture, and was operated upon with successful cure. Fourteen children had diseased tonsils and adenoids removed.

There were sixteen complete physical examinations made on children prior to admission. Four of these were tuberculosis contacts. The food supplied the children and their environment leave nothing to be desired. Thanks are due Dr. J. P. Lantz and Dr. Donald Campbell for surgical services rendered the children and to Dr. Ayers who attended to their dental requirements. To Miss Beers and her capable assistants are due the credit for the continued well being of our charges."

ADOPTION COMMITTEE REPORT Sixteen children were admitted and thirteen were discharged during the year 1935. Fourteen of the admissions are children of parents unable or unfit to care for them. One parent, the mother of four, is a patient in the Provincial Sanatorium. Four wards of the Provincial Guardian were given temporary shelter. No children of unmarried mothers were admitted during the year just closed. Our doctors report will tell you of the many demands on his time which is always given so cheerfully. The Adoption Committee is deeply grateful to the P. E. Island Hospital for the very special care our surgical cases demanded; doctors and nurses giving of their best to save the life of one baby who was dangerously ill for many days.

Our dear, mate girl, still at school in Halifax, continues to justify our efforts on her behalf. One real problem for many years, a mentally deficient boy, has at last been given care in another institution. Our sincere thanks to all those who help in any way to care for the children in our charge. THE ADOPTION COMMITTEE Mrs. Arthur Henry, Chairman Mrs. H. H. Horne, Mrs. H. H. Henderson.

MATRONS REPORT The following was the report of Miss Beers, Matron at the Prince Edward Island Protestant Orphanage: "It does not seem very long since we met together for our last annual meeting, yet another year has rolled by and another year's work on behalf of the dependent child has to be accounted for. In presenting this, my 9th annual report, it is pleasing to note that our effort year by year, better known and understood and consequently is meeting with greater recognition and appreciation. This has been a very difficult year.

We began the year with 44 children in residence, admitted 16, discharged 13. 2 children of divorced couple were granted temporary shelter. 6 wards of Supt. neglected children accounts for 8, the 6th, a girl aged 13, mother dead 3 years, living with father and brothers in conditions beyond description. It certainly was a revelation to see this girl develop physically and mentally. She quickly grasped the fundamentals of decent living. Backward in school from non attendance, she made good progress with her daily attendance here.

Four children, one family, mother a patient in Provincial Sanatorium and father in debt, were granted temporary shelter. One of the group, a boy of eleven had double hernia on admission. All bad tonsils and underweight and were heartbroken at being taken from their home. The boy had hernia reduced by operation in P. E. I. Hospital. They gradually adjusted themselves to the changed condition of living and made rapid physical gains and will be in the normal group this summer.

Two, we note, one age 9 months and one 2 years, began life under a cloud but not a shadow is visible in their happy chubby faces today. You look around at the sturdy little toddlers of three, bright eyed, clear healthy sun tanned skin, quite unshaded by strangers. They will come up and tell you of the play adventures of the last few hours. Two year neglected were little hair starved neglected babies, suffering from various ills, and afraid of every one. You see a tiny baby sleeping in her carriage. Her story is, mother a patient in T. B. San., daddy looking after 3 of her family, friends 2 others.

"Christmas time was never as wonderful and all who gave of their plenty to brighten the lives here, we trust in some way you feel repaid. The Masonic group and the Gyro boys visited us as usual Christmas morning. Your staff have been encouraged to give a high type of service to those committed to our care and their examples and conduct, must always be above reproach. We are only human and make mistakes; but from us the children never know the story of their broken lives, to teach them to interpret their lives on the highest plane is only done by example. Words to a child are sounds and he learns to put meaning into them from the actions of those about and it can only be accomplished by patient personal service, each child led step by step.

You will note the continued improvement of our grounds. All the continued interest and painstaking effort of our one and only man, no money being spent for beautification, just hard grubbing. Beautiful surroundings add much to the sum total of your children's happiness. Like the brook I could go on and on. In closing I want to say a well meant thank you to the children's friends the Guild, ever,

R. C. M. P. Still Searching For Slayer Of Trappers

Story Of Murder By Eskimo Revealed By Neighbour

By Central Press Canadian EDMONTON, June 17.—The lantern-jawed Norwegian trapper, Evan Peterson, last night was to see "Telaruk the Terrible" before that Eskimo killer dropped from eight five years ago after butchering the Thelon River trappers, Emil Bode and Jean Olson, deserted his barren lands trap lines early this month and for the first time since shining in the northland's crime-light came to Edmonton for a short vacation.

With him came Howard Price and Alex. Knox, who discovered the bodies and set Royal Canadian Mounted Police on their longest and hardest man-hunt. Five years have dimmed the horror to the outside world of the killing of the two trappers, but in the minds of R.C.M.P. patrols the murders are as fresh as the day Price and Knox found the bodies.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police replacements, fresh men going into Canada's far north for three-year service, all carry description of the Eskimo slayer. Telaruk remains the most wanted man of the high north. The vast wilderness, charted only along the main water courses which reach from Hudson's Bay to Bering Sea and from parallel 80 to the islands of the Arctic, is the hide-out where "Mountie" muckers have sought "Telaruk the Terrible" for five years. Fresh, young, eager R. C. M. P. replacement men, leaving Edmonton for their first service in the north on June 2 swore they would all take a crack at laying the elusive Eskimo by the heels. Telaruk is known to be alive.

ORPHANAGE (Continued from Page 1) where we can listen to reports of the work of the past year given briefly and think of the year ahead. "As you will hear from our Treasurer the women's organizations have raised nearly four thousand dollars truly a splendid amount in a year that saw little relief from the depression. How deeply grateful we should all feel that our work has been so very successful and it is indeed an inspiring fact to go on and do it better in the future.

Table with columns: Date, Amount, Description. Includes entries for Dec. 31, 1934, Receipts 1935, 1935 expenses on buildings, on maintenance, on wages, on Ch'town office.

It was shortly after Price found the bodies that Royal Canadian Mounted Police started the search for Telaruk, but his red-coat has ever caught sight of him. The only white man to see "Telaruk the Terrible" when he was being sought by the "Mounties" was Evan Peterson. The slim Norwegian met the wanted Eskimo when the "husky" was headed south out of the Thelon River country after the slaying; but as the meeting happened in March, the trapper had not heard of the murders yet and did not know the hue and cry was on for Telaruk.

For five years Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrols have regularly visited Eskimo encampments in the Barrens on the coast and in the islands of the Arctic searching for Telaruk without success. He is alive; other Eskimos have seen him and the search continues. Peterson, Knox and Price will head north again the third week in June with new outfits to work their Thelon River traplines again.

MOSS' DEATH A MYSTERY

Coroner's Jury Rules Out Verdict Of Suicide.

(By Thomas T. Champion, Canadian Press Staff Writer) OXFORD, England, June 18.—(C. P. Cable)—The mystery of how T. Pateon Moss, third-year student of Balliol College, Oxford, met his death may never be solved, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury today. The jury ruled out the theory that the Toronto-born student committed suicide.

The jury found that Moss' death was caused by asphyxiation. Replying to the coroner, Sir Bernard Spilsbury, eminent pathologist, said he had definitely ruled out the possibility of suicide. "Only a madman would commit suicide," he said.

Moss' remains were found May 15 in the ashes of a burned hay stack at Stadhampton, eight miles from here. The following was the report of Miss Beers, Matron at the Prince Edward Island Protestant Orphanage: "It does not seem very long since we met together for our last annual meeting, yet another year has rolled by and another year's work on behalf of the dependent child has to be accounted for.

In presenting this, my 9th annual report, it is pleasing to note that our effort year by year, better known and understood and consequently is meeting with greater recognition and appreciation. This has been a very difficult year. We began the year with 44 children in residence, admitted 16, discharged 13. 2 children of divorced couple were granted temporary shelter. 6 wards of Supt. neglected children accounts for 8, the 6th, a girl aged 13, mother dead 3 years, living with father and brothers in conditions beyond description. It certainly was a revelation to see this girl develop physically and mentally. She quickly grasped the fundamentals of decent living. Backward in school from non attendance, she made good progress with her daily attendance here.

Four children, one family, mother a patient in Provincial Sanatorium and father in debt, were granted temporary shelter. One of the group, a boy of eleven had double hernia on admission. All bad tonsils and underweight and were heartbroken at being taken from their home. The boy had hernia reduced by operation in P. E. I. Hospital. They gradually adjusted themselves to the changed condition of living and made rapid physical gains and will be in the normal group this summer.

Two, we note, one age 9 months and one 2 years, began life under a cloud but not a shadow is visible in their happy chubby faces today. You look around at the sturdy little toddlers of three, bright eyed, clear healthy sun tanned skin, quite unshaded by strangers. They will come up and tell you of the play adventures of the last few hours. Two year neglected were little hair starved neglected babies, suffering from various ills, and afraid of every one. You see a tiny baby sleeping in her carriage. Her story is, mother a patient in T. B. San., daddy looking after 3 of her family, friends 2 others.

"Christmas time was never as wonderful and all who gave of their plenty to brighten the lives here, we trust in some way you feel repaid. The Masonic group and the Gyro boys visited us as usual Christmas morning. Your staff have been encouraged to give a high type of service to those committed to our care and their examples and conduct, must always be above reproach. We are only human and make mistakes; but from us the children never know the story of their broken lives, to teach them to interpret their lives on the highest plane is only done by example. Words to a child are sounds and he learns to put meaning into them from the actions of those about and it can only be accomplished by patient personal service, each child led step by step.

You will note the continued improvement of our grounds. All the continued interest and painstaking effort of our one and only man, no money being spent for beautification, just hard grubbing. Beautiful surroundings add much to the sum total of your children's happiness. Like the brook I could go on and on. In closing I want to say a well meant thank you to the children's friends the Guild, ever,

MANCHESTER—Advance of handicrafts and cultural work and decline of the billiard table and "rough house" room, was noted by Viscount Cranfield, head of the Lancashire and Cheshire Boys' Club.

BRIMMINGHAM—Fixing of a time limit of 24 playing hours and use of a new ball every three hours should brighten cricket. R. E. Wyatt, Warwickshire captain, believes.

WARNS AGAINST REPEAL OF SECTION 98

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, June 18.—Conservative leader Bennett today offered to take Minister of Justice Lapointe on a tour of Ottawa tonight and show him Communist activities which the former Prime Minister said flourished in the capital city as well as in other parts of the country. There were associations advocating force to overthrow constituted authority.

The invitation was extended when the House was passing a government bill to repeal Section 98 of the Criminal Code over the protests of the Conservative leader. The invitation was neither accepted nor declined. Liberals, Social Crediters and the C. C. F. seemed to be unanimous in advocating repeal of the section, a stringent law against revolutionary associations dating back to 1918. Among its far-reaching provisions is one empowering judges to sentence a man to 20 years in jail for importing or selling a book advocating revolution. Another provision would be used by police to empower anyone to search private homes merely on suspicion it might contain seditious literature.

Repeal of the section, Mr. Bennett said, would give Communists and revolutionaries "added opportunities and greater scope for seditious operations." In his judgment it was a mistake now to repeal the law under which no decent, law-abiding citizen could be harmed. Its provisions might be rendered less harsh but as a bulwark against revolutionary associations it should be retained.

The Minister of Justice called it a hangover from the days of the war and a blot on the name of Canadian justice. Under a strict interpretation a man importing a book on the American Revolution could be jailed for 20 years. The proper means to fight Communism was to use strict justice, not force and persecution, Mr. Lapointe continued.

He was not in sympathy with revolution, "but I wish to protect law-abiding citizens." There were sufficient teeth in other laws to combat seditious literature, since the law was to be used to repeal the section clauses of the Code. "We have in the Code," Mr. Lapointe said, "which is based on the common law of England, all the provisions which made English law and justice sufficient to meet all emergencies."

Section 98 has been amended by the House many times in the past but turned down by the Senate. There have been indications this would not be repeated this year.

Halifax Receives Greetings From English Borough HALIFAX, N. S., June 18.—While the maiden voyage of the Queen Mary across the Atlantic to New York has now become history, an echo of that trip reached Halifax when messenger Fred Gates of the Canadian National Telegraphs delivered to His Worship Mayor Craig here an artistically executed parchment scroll containing greetings from the County Borough of Halifax, in the west riding of the County of York, England, to the City of Halifax in Nova Scotia. The scroll, which was enclosed in a cylindrical leather case, was carried by the Queen Mary on her maiden voyage to New York.

The message is as follows: County Borough of Halifax, to the Mayor, Aldermen and citizens of Halifax, Nova Scotia. We, the Mayor, Aldermen and burgesses of the Borough of Halifax, in the west riding of the County of York, England, welcome this opportunity presented by Cunard White Star Limited on the occasion of the maiden voyage of R. M. S. Queen Mary to extend friendly greetings to our namesake town of Halifax, Nova Scotia. By these greetings we earnestly hope that this auspicious occasion will strengthen the many ties of mutual regard and friendship which exist between our respective towns and prove instrumental in preserving peace and prosperity for the mother country and her dominions beyond the seas.

Given under the corporate common seal of the Mayor, Aldermen and burgesses of the Borough of Halifax, this 16th day of May, 1936. (Sgd.) Walter Benard, Mayor. (Sgd.) Percy Saunders, town clerk.

Mr. J. D. O'Connell, for his splendid Christmas gift year by year, to our Doctor and his colleagues, for their continued effort on behalf of our Institution, without any thought but the welfare of the children. They meet the needs of the children very often it is a thankless task when their best efforts are criticized. Do you ever ask yourself why they do it year after year? Is there any analogy in this? "Weeds just weeds, you have seen them there. Along life's bye-paths ugly or fair. Stealing the showers, sharing the sun. Daring, daring to over run. Weeds just weeds, they saw one day. A human weed by the side of the way. And over the broken petals furled. They read—For God so loved the world."