2 Candidates Nominated By PC's In 4th District Queen's

Wellington MacNeill, livestock dealer of Southport, was nominated for councillor and Alexander J. MacPherson, Bellevue farmer, was selected as assemblyman at a Progressive Conservative nominating convention of the fourth district of Queens held at Belfast last night.
Both ballots were contested. Mr. MacNeill and Mr. MacPherson were each approved by two candidates.

For Assembliesman Mr. MacPherson was opposed by Lloyd Martin, Cherry Valley farmer and by Chester Martin from Caledonia. He also won on the initial ballot.
Mr. MacNeill's nomination was moved by Brendan Curran, Alberry Plains, and seconded by George Lawton, Pownal. Capt. Riley's nomination was moved by Chester Hancock, Belle River, and seconded by L.E. MacMillan, Wood Islands. Mr. Judson's nomination was moved by Ambrose MacMillan, Pownal, and seconded by George Jenkins, Millville.

For the assemblyman ticket Mr. MacPherson's nomination was moved by George Grant Orwell Cove, and seconded by Russell Compton, Belle River. Chester Martin's nomination was moved by F.A. Smith, Newton, and seconded by D.L. MacPherson, Caledonia.
The largest nominating convention within the memory of the oldest delegates present saw only three delegates short of a 100 per cent attendance.

Besides the official delegates dozens of interested electors filled all remaining seats. Some were required to stand.
Besides the candidates, who all spoke briefly, the meeting heard W. R. Shaw, provincial P.C. leader, John A. MacDonald, M.P. for King's, H. Bennett Carr, provincial Y.P.C. president and Mr. Russell Driscoll, P.C. candidate for third Queens.
The annual meeting was held

Suggests Rural Zoning To Help Save Some Top Farms

By PETER SYPNOWICH
Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO (CP)—Zoning laws for farmers were suggested Tuesday at the national conference of the Community Planning Association of Canada.
Eric Baker of the Ontario Conservation Council said city residents are subject to zoning but nothing is done in rural areas to preserve farmland.
"Should we not plan for the benefit—rather than the conversion—of agricultural land?" he demanded.
"Protective zoning can be helpful to groups of owners of farm land as well as to owners of city land."

Rocket Pieces Rain Back But No Injuries

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) A new-type Polaris test rocket was deliberately destroyed high in the sky Wednesday and the shattered pieces rained back on the cape. No one was hurt.
It was announced officially that the rocket was "destroyed by the range safety officer after it failed to program in a planned southeasterly direction."
After 43 seconds of flight, the rocket burst apart while soaring through a thick cloud bank. Two huge sections crashed back to earth from about 50,000 feet.
The larger portion struck and exploded only a few yards from the launching pad where its journey had started. The second piece splashed into the Banana River, some six miles south of the launching site.
The river separates the cape and nearby Cocoa Beach from the mainland.
An official spokesman said: "Security and recovery teams were at the impact point in the Banana River within minutes after launching, and marked the

Mr. and Mrs. John Dawson Enjoy The Family Reunion

Under a cloudless blue sky with golden sunshine and the quietness of a typical August day prevailing over the garden of the gulf an unusually happy gathering of the family of five sons and two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dawson, Albany, P.E.I. met at the home of their son, Clifford Dawson, Cape Traverse, P.E.I. and were reunited for the first time in twelve years.
The weather was delightful for the occasion and young and old enjoyed a dip in the beautiful waters of Cape Traverse beach.
Then all sat down to a bountiful turkey supper and dainty eats served on the spacious lawn of Clifford's home. Mrs. Dawson was assisted in serving by her two daughters and five daughters-in-law.
As the day was gradually deepening into the mellow twilight all wended their way homeward feeling very happy that they had spent such an enjoyable afternoon together reminiscing over bygone days.
Present with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dawson, Albany on this occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Webster, (Mary) and Bertram, Velma, George
