Adjudicator Is Critical Of Festival Selections

SUMMERSIDE — Strong criticism of the music chosen for various classes in the P.E.I. Music Festival was expressed by adjudicator, Alec Redshaw Saturday afternoon as the week-long event concluded at civic auditorium.

Mr. Redshaw, a very popular adjudicator at Summerside, because of his vast knowledge and for the time he devoted to each contestant in order to help further his singing or playing skill, said "something will have to be done about the selection of music or your festival will be killed stone dead".

His critical remarks followed Class 83 (b), girls solo class for ages 12 and 13 years. The selection they were required to sing was "In Quietness" by Webber.

Mr. Redshaw said "I am in sympathy with the singers and teachers but the song is impossible—it is not for 12 and 13 year old voices. Their performance was no indication of what these girls can do." He added "I do hope your committee will do something about it".

Mr. Redshaw also referred to a group singing class heard earlier, in which, he said, only one choir was entered and they preferred not to sing because of the song chosen.

Top mark Saturday was an 86 awarded to Gordon Murray of Kensington in Class 182, piano sight reading for 18 years and under, one of several first place awards won by this young and talented musician throughout the week.

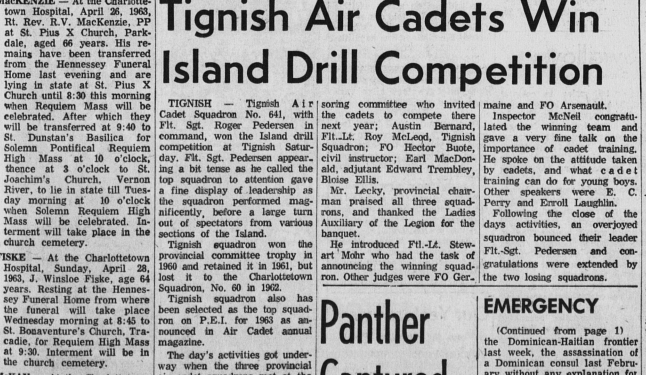
ONE OF THE inspecting officers, Flt. Lt. Stewart Mohr, is shown as he moves with his inspecting party between two ranks of air cadets in Tignish Saturday. The competition was won by the Tignish squadron.



THE ANNUAL drill competition in which the three air cadet squadrons in the province vie for the provincial committee trophy was held in Tignish Saturday. Shown above as they advanced in line are all three squadrons just after they had entered the grounds of the Church of St. Simon and St. Jude for the inspection and drill.

Tignish Air Cadets Win Island Drill Competition

TIGNISH — Tignish Air Cadet Squadron No. 641, with Flt. Sgt. Roger Pedersen in command, won the Island drill competition at Tignish Saturday. Flt. Sgt. Pedersen appearing a bit tense as he called the top squadron to attention gave a fine display of leadership as the squadron performed magnificently, before a large turn out of spectators from various sections of the Island.

Tignish squadron won the provincial committee trophy in 1960 and retained it in 1961, but lost it to the Charlottetown Squadron, No. 60 in 1962.

Tignish squadron also has been selected as the top squadron on P.E.I. for 1963 as announced in Air Cadet annual magazine.

The day's activities got underway when the three provincial air cadet squadrons met at the Legion home and marched to St. Simon and St. Jude's Church grounds to compete for the drill trophy.

No. 641 Squadron was the first one to drill, followed by No. 53 squadron of Summerside under command of WO2 Dale Mitchell, and No. 60 squadron from Charlottetown under command of WO2 Eric Bentley. In this competition the cadets were judged on their appearance, bearing and foot drill both with and without command.

Following the drill competition a banquet was held for cadets, officers and invited guests at the Legion home. Grace was said by Rev. David MacDonald.

Russell J. Perry, master of ceremonies and village commissioner welcomed cadets, officers and guests to the village of Tignish and introduced head table guests: Rev. Floyd McGaugh, Rev. David MacDonald, Inspector A. S. McNeil of L Division of RCMP; Reginald Elderschaw, president of Tignish branch of Royal Canadian Legion; E. C. Perry, chairman of sponsoring legion committee; David Lecky, provincial chairman of the P.E.I. division, Air Cadet League of Canada; FO A. Arsenault, FO A. Germaine, Flt.-Lt. C. E. Mooty, DFC, Flt.-Lt. P. O. Cameron.

Others present and introduced were: J. Pope McMahon, chairman of the Charlottetown sponsoring committee, FO Keir Costain; director, Clarence McFadden; Errol Laughlin, chairman of the Summerside sponsoring committee who invited the cadets to compete there next year; Austin Bernard, Flt.-Lt. Roy McLeod, Tignish Squadron; FO Hector Bude, civil instructor; Earl MacDonald, adjutant Edward Trembley, Bloise Ellis.

Mr. Lecky, provincial chairman praised all three squadrons, and thanked the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion for the banquet.

He introduced Flt.-Lt. Stewart Mohr who had the task of announcing the winning squadron. Other judges were FO Germaine and FO Arsenault.

Inspector McNeil congratulated the winning team and gave a very fine talk on the importance of cadet training. He spoke on the attitude taken by cadets, and what cadet training can do for young boys. Other speakers were E. C. Perry and Erroll Laughlin.

Following the close of the days activities, an overjoyed squadron bounced their leader Flt.-Sgt. Pedersen and congratulations were extended by the two losing squadrons.

Extension Of Hall Is Planned

In connection with extending the New Glasgow Junior Farmers Hall, it was announced at the April meeting held recently, that plans call for an 11-foot basement and the extension of the hall another 30 feet.

The building committee reports that it has received an estimate from one contractor so far, and that others were due to visit the site and will quote prices.

All quotes were expected to be in hand in time for the May meeting.

Following a brief discussion, it was approved that the club would undertake to adopt a child in Korea, for a period of least one year.

Acting president Charles Chandler announced that the club had been presented with a gift of a "Dedicated Prayer" from Dr. George Fisher, which will be hung in the hall.

Other business conducted was the presentation of a number of reports. The evening closed with entertainment and refreshments.

Two Cars Are Damaged

SUMMERSIDE — A collision at the intersection of Notre Dame and Spring streets around 5.30 yesterday afternoon resulted in extensive damage to the cars involved.

The accident occurred as a 1960 model driven by Jack Arsenault of Summerside was going north on Spring Street and a vehicle driven by Mark Allison Croken of Charlottetown was proceeding east on Notre Dame.

Estimated damage to each car was in the vicinity of $300.

Panther Captured

PARIS (AP)—A black panther that sent shivers through a Paris suburb for two days went back to its circus cage Saturday night—a wet and angry animal.

The escaped panther's reign of terror ended when three animal trainers flushed the snarling, clawing jungle cat from a hiding place under a girls' school

"I thought he had me a couple of times," said trainer Jack Rex, who directed the capture in the cramped, 3½-foot-high area beneath a one-storey wooden school.

Using a heavy net for protection, the trainers managed to drive the panther out of an opening and into a waiting steel cage. Twice the panther attacked Rex under the school.

"He went for my neck both times" said the veteran trainer. "I was on my back with just that net in front of me. If I had relaxed he would have had me."

A cheer went up from several hundred onlookers when the panther leaped into the cage. The big cat's eyes flashed hatred and he clawed and snarled at the bars as a waiting crew quickly loaded him in a truck to return to a nearby circus.

Fear had ruled the Paris suburb of St. Denis since Thursday night when the panther broke out of a cage. Rex, who had received the panther from Bangkok, Thailand, just two days before, had warned:

the Dominican-Haitian frontier last week, the assassination of a Dominican consul last February without any explanation for the crime and the refusal of safe conduct to all but six of the 28 persons who had taken asylum in the Dominican Embassy since June, 1962.

Baguidy said the Dominican charges were simply preparations for military action which has been planned for a long time.

Washington sources said an undisclosed number of prisoners were taken by the Haitians reported to have invaded the embassy.

ISLAND

Charlottetown, a medical student this year at Dalhousie University. Most of the group, boys and girls, are high school and college students and come from various parts of the province including Charlottetown, Summerside and Kensington.

Mr. Ellsworth and his group have arranged for personal television appearances for the Island band in Bangor and Boston. The band will be included in national newspaper and radio publicity and in the programs and brochures put out by the Bi-Centennial Corporation. There will also be news reel cameras on hand for the celebration and the eclipse. The Governors of Maine and Connecticut, according to Mr. Ellsworth, will be on hand to personally greet the Island band.

Also, the Ellsworth committee has generously offered to promote Prince Edward Island's 100th centennial in their programs, on television and during the week-long list of events. The Mayor of Ellsworth is sending special invitations to prominent Island leaders to attend the celebration.

INVITE FLOAT

Mr. Fraser has suggested to Mayor A. Walthen Gaudet that the Confederation float, which generated such excellent publicity on its appearance in last year's Grey Cup parade in Toronto, accompany the Lovat Scots Pipe band to Ellsworth and take part in the parade. Since then an invitation has been issued from the New England city to the Mayor to attend the fest.

The band from the Island, which is the resident pipe band at the Highland College each summer, will be completely outfitted in new kilts of the Lord Lovat clan, for the occasion. These have already been ordered from Scotland.

Prince Edward Island has an historical connection with Ellsworth, Maine. According to Dr. John Orville Ellsworth, PhD, professor of Genealogy, the Ellsworths who lived on the Island years ago were the ancestors of Chief Justice Oliver Ellsworth for whom the City of Ellsworth is named.

NOT SURE OF CATCH, BUT LIKES IT

Although no one seems definite as to its species, one thing is certain—its a real nice fish. The three pound, three ounce fish, which has been called a rainbow that spent some time in fresh water and a landlocked salmon, was caught in fresh water by Barry MacEwen, Stanley Bridge, shown holding the catch. Mr. MacEwen intends to have it mounted and personally believes it to be a rainbow trout.

S'side Harbor Ice Goes Out

SUMMERSIDE — Summerside residents are expecting the weather to warm up now that the harbor ice has gone out, although a little later than usual.

Most of the ice made its demise Saturday but quite a bit remains as it clings to the shoreline in some areas.

The last time the harbor ice went out was on the night of Jan. 8 when two local youths were marooned on ice pans, one being rescued by the "Abegweit" well out in the strait after a six-hour ordeal that could easily have ended in tragedy.
