

Uniform Color Rumored Green

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Hellyer has declined to confirm or deny reports that green may be the color chosen for the uniform of the unified armed forces.

At first he made no reply when Michael Forrestall (PC-Halifax) asked him in the Commons about news reports on the uniform.

When Mr. Forrestall protested his silence, Mr. Hellyer said the report is "strictly speculative and certainly is not from any reliable sources that I know about."

He promised that when a decision on the color is made it will be announced after the members of the forces have been advised themselves.

"It's about as pure as speculation can be," he said about the report when Mr. Forrestall asked whether it has any basis in fact.

EXPO SONG HEAVED OUT

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP)—Radio station CKNL played the official Expo 67 song for the first time and announced it won't be played again.

"It is our way of saying it is lousy music," said Bill Loeppky, music and program director for the station.

He said listeners were asked for comment when the station played the vocal and instrumental versions of the theme song — Hey Friend, Say Friend — released this week to radio stations by Expo.

"About two dozen people called to say it was lousy," said Mr. Loeppky. "Only two said it was great, including a 12-year-old listener."

He said the song doesn't have anything to do with Expo, Montreal and Expo were not even mentioned in the lyrics.
