very right to go into the gallery just as any citizen would but once they started to shout they were subject to removal.

The organization the men represent claims coast-to-coast membership but has no connection with either of Canada's two major labor bodies.

A. A. MacLeod, Labor-Progressive member for the Ontario Legislature for Toronto-Bellwoods, addressed the convention this morning.

The only one of four national party leaders invited to speak to show up, Solon Low, Social Credit leader, bluntly told the convention that the main purpose of his brief appeared to be "to inflame rather than to convince."

He scored the "intemperance" of its language and said he was not surprised the Prime Minister "is a little reluctant to see you."

The men elected from the House were Collette, Harry Gulkin of Montreal, Fred Collins of Vancouver, Gerard Begin of Quebec City, George Stiger of Hamilton, Frank Haslam of Welland and Charles Fine of Toronto.

They marched on Parliament Hill after their convention was notified Mr. St. Laurent could not see them.

It was at Collins' suggestion at their convention in a downtown dance hall that the delegates, some 50 strong, filed up Parliament Hill, picketed the entrance for half an hour and then tried to arrange interviews to present their brief.

Their brief said unemployment has reached "alarming" proportions and advocated a 50 per cent increase in unemployment insurance benefits, start on a nationwide program of public works, and initiation of a policy of peaceful trade and friendship with the whole world.

LONDON, April 27 — (CP) — The Dock Labor Board tonight warned striking London longshoremen they will be fired unless they return to work by Monday. Communist backing of the week-old wildcat walkout again denounced the Government's use of troops to work ship cargoes.

Well Known Local Lady Passes

The funeral of the late Miss Mary Emma White was held yesterday from St. Paul's Church, Charlottetown, at 11 o'clock. Many friends were present at the Church to pay their last respects, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Paul's, and members of the W. C. T. U. were in attendance in a body.

Miss White had recently suffered a stroke, and passed away at the P. E. I. Hospital on Tuesday, April 26th, in her 87th year. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clement White of Charlottetown, and was the only survivor of the family of eight children. The pallbearers at the Church were Harold Messervy, Stanley

Central Guardian In Rattenbury Case

In the Court of Chancery here yesterday Vice-Chancellor George J. Tweedy ordered an accounting of all financial dealings between Harry Winchester and the firm of Rattenbury Limited and the liquidators of the firm and also between Harry Winchester and Nelson Rattenbury and the estate of Nelson Rattenbury.

In a 23 page judgment, the Vice-Chancellor pronounced on the case of N. Rattenbury Limited by John M. Rattenbury, liquidator, vs Harry Winchester and others, executors of the estate of Nelson Rattenbury which was commenced before his predecessor, Vice-Chancellor A. E. Arsenault, on Nov. 3, 1944. Reginald H. Rogers became liquidator on Feb. 18, 1950 on the death of John M. Rattenbury.

The Court found that certain properties mortgaged by Nelson Rattenbury to Harry Winchester or to mortgages who assigned to Harry Winchester were actually the property of N. Rattenbury Limited although no deed had been executed to the company.

From the evidence of entries in the day book, ledgers and journals of the company and testimony of Joseph Francis the Court held that Nelson Rattenbury had sold the properties to N. Rattenbury Limited and had consequently become a trustee of them for the company before executing subsequent mortgages which were therefor declared null and void and ordered to be delivered up and cancelled, except where the property was now in the hands of a third party without notice in which case an accounting of the proceeds was ordered.

A mortgage from the liquidators of the company to Harry Winchester was declared void so that it represented personal indebtedness of Nelson Rattenbury. A 1935 mortgage by the company which was confirmed by the liquidators in 1937 was upheld but an account ordered of the rents and profits of the property received by Harry Winchester.

Counsel for the complainant were Messrs. J. B. Johnston and H. F. MacPhee K. C.; for the defendants, Messrs W. E. Bentley, K. C., and D. J. K. C.

It is understood that the defendants intend to appeal.

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Meeting

The bi-monthly meeting of the Charlottetown Junior Chamber of Commerce was held last evening at the banquet room of the Old Spain. A very delightful dinner was served.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, and the regular business sessions were then carried out.

Mr. Stuart Lancaster gave a report on the financial standing, which was very successful for the last year, while Mr. Fred Pound, chairman of the membership committee, gave a report of the committee meeting held last week. Membership cards have now been distributed.

Mr. Louis Doyle gave a report on the ways and means committee. An anniversary dance has been planned for May 4th at the Clover Club. It is hoped it will be another big success.

In another business conducted, the self development committee held a meeting at Mr. Robert Youder's. Seven members were in attendance, and it was decided that more classes are to be held in the future. The chairman of the tourist committee, Edward Pineau, read a report of the meeting held last week. A tourist service meeting is planned for early in May, to better the tourist trade in the city. They also plan to take an active part during the summer months.

Mr. Ralph Dumont gave a report on the arch committee. The project has been postponed due to the construction of the Trans-Canada Highway. A dinner is planned to be held at Sandy's in the near future, which was reported by Ewen Keefe of the social committee.

Following the business discussions, the meeting adjourned until next Wednesday, at the City Hall.

Thompson, Frank Fox, Victor Purdy, Ivan Horris and Jack Cook.

A life member of St. Paul's Women's Auxiliary, Miss White was also well known for her work with the W. C. T. U., for whom she wrote many columns for this newspaper during the past fifteen years. Those who knew her, often remarked on her great energy, and her friendliness and congeniality towards all with whom she came into contact.

Ten years ago Miss White had the misfortune to fall on an icy sidewalk, breaking her hip. Although the accident resulted in her using a cane until the time of the death, she managed to be as most as active as previously, and attended church services especially, with great regularity.

Interment took place in the family plot in Cornwall cemetery. Pallbearers at the cemetery were Andrew MacEachern, Ewen MacMillan, Gordon MacMillan, Leslie MacEwen, Lea Howatt and Russell White.

New Currie Bldg. To House Varied Firms

The western corner of Kent and Queen Streets opposite the City Hall will have a new look appearance this fall after the Currie Building has been completed and occupied by various firms and offices.

Several well known City firms and mainland organizations will install their headquarters in the new structure. Among them will be the Abegweit Gift Shop which will operate as a basement store.

The W. K. Rogers Agencies Limited will transfer their site of business from their offices in the older part of the Currie building to the first floor of the new construction. Moving into the Agencies present headquarters will be a branch store of Robinson Supplies Limited, an automobile accessories organization with their head office at Kentville.

Mr. H. J. A. Brown, Orthopedic Chiropract will have an office on the second floor. Negotiations are underway with an outside firm who may occupy the remainder of the area on this floor.

Construction of the brick building is scheduled to resume next week following a lay off during the winter. The foundation and first floor have been laid and next week the men will begin the erection of steel. The building, a 69 by 40 structure is expected to be ready for occupancy around September 1.

A heated warehouse will be built in the backyard behind the shoe store. The two story structure will be used by Currie's and Robinson's, the Kentville firm, with the ground floor to be occupied by the latter. It will be a 75 by 30 foot structure.

The new corner building will have entrances from Queen and Kent Streets. A corner entrance, designed similar to that of the former Hughes Drug Store on Queen Street will lead into the new structure.

W. K. Rogers Agencies Ltd. The basement Abegweit Gift Shop will have an entrance from Queen Street.

The entrances from Queen and Kent Street will lead to the second floor, and will provide a means of entering the building on one street and leaving on the other. The entrance on Queen Street will be made between Currie's Shoe Store and the present offices of W. K. Rogers Agencies.

A modern central heating unit recently installed in the main building will heat both the old and new building as well as the Kent Street. Operated by a heavy fully automatic burner it consists of hot water boiler with heat distributed by circulation pumps.

Island-Bred Swine Win Honors At Shows

Island-bred swine have been making a name for themselves in competitions throughout Canada recently, as shown by the placings they have made in the various centres.

Island-bred young sows were named champions and reserve champions in competitions at Edmonton, Alberta and Saskatoon and Prince Albert, Saskatchewan. At Brandon, Manitoba Island swine were among the top winners and sold for the highest prices.

Island swine again were in the fore at the bacon hog fair in Ontario as the first place carcass was bred from an Island boar. A progeny of boar contest recently completed in Manitoba was won by a boar of which the sire and dam were imported from this Province. The entry of this boar had the highest percentage of Grade A hogs.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT

JOHNS-MANVILLE

"YOU DON'T PAY A PENNY FOR THIS!"

Many comfort-loving people who know that the homes will be warmer in winter and cooler in summer if properly insulated, consider the cost of insulating a luxury! Nothing could be farther from the truth! Figure it this way. Write down the amount of your average fuel bill. Then deduct 25% (a conservative figure) from that amount and see how quickly you'll be repaid! And remember, with Johns-Manville Rock Wool Home Insulation you insulate once, but that saving goes on year after year for as long as the house stands!

J-M Rock Wool Insulation will save you up to 30% on fuel and give you a house that is warmer in winter and up to 10 degrees cooler in summer! It's a luxury, yes, but one that saves, instead of costs you money. For more information, write Canadian Johns-Manville, Sun Life Bldg., Montreal, or see your nearest J-M dealer.

H. R. Vessey Re-elected Local Legion President

President H. R. Vessey was re-elected at the annual meeting of the Canadian Legion last evening, in a close race with Mr. J. J. Trainor.

With approximately 125 members in attendance, the election of officers took the better part of the evening with numerous nominations being made from the floor for every office.

Officers elected were as follows: Hon. President, Charles H. Hine; President, H. R. Vessey; 1st vice-President, I. M. Brown; 2nd vice-President, J. J. Trainor; Chaplains, Rev. W. McCabe and Rev. J. T. Ibbott; Sgt. at Arms, A. MacLeod, and executive members, P. Hughes, P. Sharp, P. Campbell, U. MacDonald, U. Murnaghan, G. Bears, E. Nicholson, T. Gallant and I. Whelan.

In his presidential report for the past year, Mr. Vessey spoke of many new problems that had been dealt with, and of the splendid support he had received at all times. In reference to the canteen he mentioned that because of enlarging membership it had been necessary to obtain permission to operate the canteen six nights weekly.

"The weekly auction 45's card party has been continued," he said, "and revenue received has enabled us to in part supply cigarettes and fruit to our veterans in hospital and the Sanatorium. The Garrison messes located at the Armouries, have assisted in this worthy work; also about 15 branches of the Provincial Command Canadian Legion. To all of these we extend our thanks."

"Another most worthy endeavour entered into was the Martin Fund. Comrade Martin of Vernon, P. E. I., was seriously injured and sustained the loss of both legs. I would especially commend the Benevolent Irish Society for their splendid donation, the proceeds of a dance conducted for this fund."

"I cannot conclude an account of entertainment without mentioning our Paarderg Day celebration at which we had a number of South African veterans as our guests," President Vessey stated. "Also in attendance were His Honour Lt. Gov. J. A. Bernard and His Worship the Mayor, B. Earle MacDonald. A fine entertainment was provided with Comrade Earl Nicholson acting as master of ceremonies, and many talented artists performing during the evening."

The past year saw the regular Legion parades with Memorial Sunday and Remembrance Day parades magnificently attended. It was a grand feeling to participate

Mr. H. R. Vessey

In such splendid parades and to show to the public that the veterans will never forget the sacrifices of our comrades "over there."

The Poppy Campaign was quite successful and the local merchants and the general public are highly commended for their interest and fine support of this worthy object. The proceeds enable the Branch to give aid to unfortunate veterans' families and widows in need.

Contained in the House Committee's report as submitted by S. Bryant, was the suggestion that $1,700.00 be set aside as necessary for new furnace and heating system, and that the retaining wall in front of the building be repaired at an approximate cost of $350.00.

In the report of the Relief account as read by the President, it was pointed out that 210 cases had been investigated and the majority of these had been assisted.

Reporting for the sick and visiting committee, W. P. Bruce mentioned the weekly visits to the Charlottetown and Prince Edward Island Hospitals, and the Sanatorium. Over $1,700.00 had been spent in providing cigarettes and fruit to Veteran patients in the above institutions and in Beach Grove and Falconwood.

Other reports heard were finance ways and means by J. J. Trainor; audit by F. S. Carbonell; publicity by Ethel Matheson; poppy sales by H. R. Vessey; membership by A. MacLeod; dance by R. J. Mahar; employment by P. E. Palmer; canteen by I. M. Brown; and constitution and bylaws by J. J. Connolly.

Habeas Corpus Granted In Supreme Court Case

In the Supreme Court yesterday the following judgment was given by the Chief Justice granting an application for habeas corpus to a prisoner rearrested after being released by order of the Lieutenant Governor:

The applicant, Elmer J. MacIntyre, moves for a habeas corpus order to discharge him from imprisonment in Queen's County Jail. The relevant facts are as follows:

16 Aug. 1949, an affiliation order was made by Duffy, then Co. Ct. J. (Queens), against MacIntyre.

24 Feb. 1950, a warrant of commitment was issued on the affiliation order by Trainor, now Co. Ct. J. (Queens), directing imprisonment of MacIntyre for one year, or until payment or bond.

28 Feb. 1950, MacIntyre was arrested and imprisoned in Queens County Jail under the said warrant.

8 April, 1950, Lieutenant-Governor Bernard telephoned Sheriff MacIntyre and that the Sheriff was to release him. The Sheriff relayed the instructions to the acting jailor, who released MacIntyre accordingly.

About 13 and 14 April, the

Sheriff obtained the original warrant from the jailor, and made two trips to the country with the intention of re-arresting MacIntyre, but could not find him. (Continued on Page 15)

A Feature For Every Friday Among The Farmers Federation Of Agriculture News

Newfoundland Mission The delegation to Newfoundland last week reports a very successful trip although it is difficult to point out any specific accomplishments. Meetings were held with representatives of the Department of Natural Resources, with the Federation of Agriculture directors and with wholesalers, brokers, and other people interested and engaged in buying Island products.

There are between fifteen and sixteen hundred full time farmers in Newfoundland. There is an estimated 30,000 other part time farmer-fishermen who produce varying small amounts of vegetables for sale. Because of very small areas suitable for farming—two acres of clear land is a big field in the St. John's area—and the Federation of Agriculture is working on a plan to solve the problems of farming and transportation problems in winter those people are seriously affected when competitive products are imported at low prices.

Now that Newfoundland is a province of Canada, they cannot impose tariffs or make restrictions which they could previously to protect those vegetables prices. Newfoundland is practically self sufficient in cabbages and turnips but, must import a small amount of other vegetables and about one third of their potato requirements. After many years of trading they are entitled to a better price for their land butter, cheese, eggs, meats and other products. During the past few years though, they have been forced to accept considerable low quality products from the province. This has greatly harmed the reputation of our products and marketing system generally.

Because of this, Newfoundland people are looking more and more to Upper Canada for quality food supplies. However, general agreement was reached, as to how organized marketing and distribution should be set up on both ends to assure them of only high quality Island products on a grand basis.

The Federation in Newfoundland agreed that they, as farmers must organize their distribution system especially for vegetables to assure protection for their own markets and to provide an opportunity for Island products to make up the shortages.

There is a worthwhile market in St. John's for chilled meats, butter, eggs and cheese during the summer months providing we can supply it with high quality products at regular intervals.

A meeting was held with Government officials on return and the details of those plans were discussed. It is hoped that arrangements can be worked out in the near future by all concerned to improve marketing conditions and methods and at the same time prepare to supply the tremendous market that should be ours when the recent mineral discoveries around Labrador are developed.

The possibilities are great. They will be followed up. But in any plans that are made we must be sure that the control and the cost of distribution from producer to consumer is held within reason.

Dairy Situation Mr. R. A. Proffit, our Island director of the Day Farmers of Canada returned yesterday from meetings with Mr. Gardiner in Ottawa previous to the announcement of the new support price for butter.

The general reaction of our farm people to this reduction is that they feel that the consumer is entitled to a lower cost of butter than he has been paying for the last couple of years. At the same time farmers have been producing butter at a loss even last year compared to returns from other industries. This loss actually works out to show where farmers have been bonusing consumers. Recent information leads us to believe that some of our friends, the large packers and storage operators in Canada, not only have been pushing the sale of butter substitutes but, have also imported large quantities of cheap butter from other countries and have been selling it in competition with the Canadian storage butter. We hope to have more information on this point next week.

Potato Picture A brief survey of the potato situation across the province yesterday when checking prices, etc., indicates that there will be a much greater surplus of potatoes in Newfoundland when the shipping season is over than was expected. Many farmers in the outlying districts still have their cellars full. Others who have sold, have not received enough to pay for their fertilizer and other production costs.

At the same time feed prices are advancing with little or no sign of reduction at least until Fall. It is hoped that everyone will realize the need for growing more cereal feeds and applying at least a portion of their fertilizer to hay, pastures and mixed grains.

Marketing Board Plan During the past week, work has been concentrated on preparing the regulations and scheme for the potato marketing board. Arrangements are being made to meet with representatives from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Newfoundland next week to agree on a complete scheme. The marketing board attempt will be for the first year there will be some loopholes and unforeseen problems.

However, if and when we can get the scheme into effect it will mean more stable markets, more uniform prices, and will have the effect of giving the small producer a chance to move his crop in competition with those in more fortunate circumstances.

Hogs There is quite a demand for little pigs in Newfoundland. Buyers over the border have been buying but little pig on the basis of weight rather than age because they have met considerable losses in the past. If we are to hold this market, quality and care in shipping must not be forgotten.

Fishermen in the Newfoundland coastal villages are in the habit of buying young pigs in the spring, fattening them and killing them in the fall for winter food supplies. The demand recently has been quite strong and they are willing to pay a fairly high price for good quality young pigs.

There have been no new developments in the hog market recently. According to official sources however, it is not expected that the British quota will be filled before June 30th and those who should know predict that the present floor price will carry on at least until the quota is filled.

Veterinary Policy Last year the New Brunswick Government spent $105,000 dollars on their Provincial Veterinary policy. Farmers, Agricultural officials and others are agreed that this policy of subsidizing veterinarians at different points throughout the province and providing farmers with adequate veterinary services at a reasonable charge is not only paying off but, greatly improving the livestock situation in the province.

Our Government has voted $12,000 dollars and provided the necessary legislation for setting up a veterinary policy on the Island. (Continued on Page 8)
