Holy Redeemer Council CWL Presents Cheque To Rector

At the regular monthly meeting held in the Community Centre the Holy Redeemer Council C.W.L. made arrangements to present a cheque of $700 to the rector of the parish.

The money was raised during the summer months through catering to the weddings and banquets.

The president thanked all those who helped with these activities for their wonderful co-operation. She also thanked the telephone committee for the part they played in these undertakings and noted that the home cooking booth at the Hospital Bazaar was well meted.

The meeting was presided over by the president Mrs. John A. MacDonald and agreed by the presence of the spiritual director Rev. Francis Cunerty, who opened the meeting with the League Prayer.

The correspondence consisted of letters from: Mrs. A. M. Lawrence, director of women's panel market development service; Margaret Holmes, president, Charlottetown Business and Professional Women's Club; Mrs. L. MacDonald provincial secretary; co-ordinator re-World Wide Children's and Youth Day; G. Werle, re-manages Crest Croft Ltd., Saskatoon.

Mrs. Grace MacKinnon Heads City Teachers

Mrs. Grace MacKinnon, Spring Park, was elected president of the Charlottetown Teacher's Institute during yesterday afternoon's session of the organization.

Other officers elected were: past president, Sr. St. Lucius, Birchwood; vice-president, Mary MacCormack, Rochford Square; secretary, Adrian Smith, Queen Square.

Representatives: Mrs. Blanche Martin, Prince Street; Ernest Mutch, West Kent; Theodore Ling, Queen Charlotte; and Frederick Driscoll, Birchwood.

Representatives for Board of Governors: Sister St. Antoinette, Rochford Square; Harry Kieley, Queen Charlotte; Thomas Bradley, Birchwood; Miss Alice Fraser, Prince Street; Mrs. Anna MacLaren, West Kent; Mrs. Winifred MacLeod, Spring Park; and J. Reginald MacDonald, Queen Square.

Malcolm MacKenzie, deputy minister of education, outlined curriculum changes and discussed curriculum committees.

He noted the number of teachers in training - 78 at Prince of Wales College and 37 at St. Dunstan's - are far above previous levels. The number of permanent teachers has been reduced to 67, compared with 165 last year. Outlook for teachers is brighter because of better salaries and system of classification.

He discussed teaching as a profession, and outlined the qualities of a teacher: 1. An act of vowing or declaring; 2. A special education, stressing mental rather than manual labor; 3. A collective body. He noted that members of the medical profession abide by their own oath, and urged the teachers to be loyal to their profession in the same way. He urged that they have good public relations, and a sense of responsibility to their code of ethics.

Chief Says Courtesy Can Reduce Accidents

Charlottetown's auto accidents are costing car owners an average of $10,000 per month, according to Police Chief G.W. MacArthur. He expressed concern over what he termed the needless waste of money.

A large proportion of these accidents, mostly of a minor nature, the Chief says, can be avoided and in this respect he sees two major factors which, if corrected, would greatly reduce the payments which citizens are obliged to make.

The first of these, and the one which the Chief considers the worst offense, is speeding through intersections. "If motorists would exercise a little more care at intersections, about 75 per cent of our accidents could be avoided," he said.

He explains that slowing down by five or ten miles per hour gives the motorist a better chance to have his car under control and if it is seen that a stop is necessary, it can be made in time to get clear of a collision.

A second major factor which causes accidents, is the lack of care in backing out from parking places. The ones in this case is on both drivers, the Chief asserts.

The person backing out often has his vision temporarily obscured and for this reason should not take it for granted that the street is clear. It is with the realization of this fact that the street driver should approach a backing car with caution.

MATTER OF COURTESY

"It all boils down to a matter of courtesy," the Chief observes. "If we are willing to consider the other fellow's feelings by waiting and observing what he is going to do, we can certainly reduce our accident rate."

Chief MacArthur says the department each month investigates an average of over 50 accidents and in each case the damage inflicted on both vehicles is around $200, thus the $10,000 monthly estimate.

Contrary to popular opinion, it is not the drunken drivers who

A short program followed, consisting of two vocal numbers by the Archer Trio, "How Great Thou Art" and "The Lord's My Shepherd", and a reading, "The House by the Side of the Road" by Miss Joyce Lowther. These numbers were much enjoyed by the appreciative audience. R. F. Mugford was the accompanist for the evening.

During the brief business period which followed it was announced that the semi-annual Provincial Home and School Association meeting is to be held at Kensington on Oct. 26th. It is hoped to have five delegates from the association attend. The ter of education, told the gathering of 140 teachers yesterday morning that the government has a number of suggested changes in mind respecting the financial framework of education in the province.

"We don't expect anything to happen overnight. People in this province are not prone to revolution, and changes will be brought about slowly," the minister stated. "The government has in its employ at the present time Dr. Lazerte, and his report, which is expected to be completed in six months' time, will greatly assist the government in deciding its course of action for the future in this matter."

Dr. Lazerte commenced his study in the province on the 1st of October, and Dr. Dewar said that his report will be available for the next session of the Legislature early in 1960.

OUTLINES PROBLEMS

Introduced as a former school teacher by J.A.S. Williams, principal of Queen Charlotte High School, Hon. Dr. Dewar outlined a number of challenges and problems confronting education in the free world today.

"There is a challenge to education in the cold war, with its alternative way of life which challenges the democratic system," he said. "There is a challenge to our standard of living from other countries, and we must teach our young people to appreciate the finer things of life. Our very existence is being challenged by scientific advancements that have produced weapons of destruction. We must be careful that education can cope with this challenge from science."

Turning to the problems that are facing education in P.E.I., the minister noted that most of the other provinces in Canada, including the other Maritime provinces, are still ahead of P.E.I. in many respects in the matter of education. "The teachers have problems, the school administrators have problems, the government has problems,

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

In her remarks, the president, Sister St. Lucius, Birchwood High School, expressed the appreciation of the city teachers for the untiring efforts of Miss Estelle Bonness, who for many years, acted as general secretary of the P.E.I. Teachers' Federation.

An expression of regret was voiced for the illness of three teachers: James MacCallum, Birchwood High School; Miss Mary Duffy, Queen Square; and Frederick Hine, principal of West Kent School.

The president also expressed appreciation for the efforts of the former minister of education, Keir Clark, and felt that the interests of education will be well looked after by his successor, Hon. Dr. George Dewar.

Miss Anna Riley, the new general secretary of the P.E.I. T.F., paid tribute to the work of her predecessor, Miss Bonness, and for the efforts of Miss Mabel Matheson, in setting up the provincial conference on education held last fall in Charlottetown.
