FIELD DIVERSIONS.

A Federal Officer Who Read Novels Between Engagements.

General Horace Porter tells the following anecdote in his "Campaigning With Grant" in The Century: During the ten days of battle through which we had just passed very little relief, physical or mental, had been obtained, but there was one staff officer, a Colonel B., who often came as bearer of messages to our headquarters, who always managed to console himself with novel reading, and his peculiarity in this respect became a standing joke among those who knew him.

One of his peculiarities was that he took it for granted that all the people he met were perfectly familiar with his line of literature, and he talked about nothing but the merits of the latest novel. For the last week he had been devouring Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables." It was an English translation, for the officer had no knowledge of French. As he was passing a house in rear of the "angle" he saw a young lady seated on the porch, and stopping his horse, bowed to her with all the grace of a Chesterfield and endeavored to engage her in conversation.

Like the Ostrich. Mr. Crimsonbeak—You women remind me of ostriches.

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—I don't understand you.

"Well, you know, the ostrich buries his head and believes it cannot be seen."

"Yes, I've heard of that."

"Well, you women cover your head with a bonnet and think you are out of sight!"—Yonkers Statesman.

One Better. Jim Faro—I'm in luck. I got $500 last night on the ace of hearts.

Cracksey Joe—Dat's nothin. A fren o' mine cracked a jewelry crib las' week an got five t'ousand on a tray of diamonds.—Exchange.

For dressmakers and others interested The Demonstrator of the Featherbone Company Mrs Low will to-morrow afternoon, show all the various uses of Featherbone. Do not fail to see her.—Beer Bros.

Testimonial

DEAR SIR,—I do not wish to return to Montreal without expressing my gratitude to you for the very excellent Bell Piano that you placed at my disposal for my recital. I have tried many Canadian Pianos of different manufacturers, and must say that, considering the size of the instrument, I have never found one to equal it for depth and brilliancy of tone. The action is quite as elastic and responsive as in American Upright Pianos of the highest grade. Again thanking you, very sincerely,

I remain, Yours, FRED. E. MORRIS
