

500 Sea Cadets Settle Down For 2 Weeks Training

POINT EDWARD NAVY BASE, N.S. (CP)—Five hundred sea cadets from the Atlantic Provinces and Newfoundland settled into this big RCN depot across the harbor from Sydney Monday for two weeks of stiff training.

Navy personnel will drill the cadets in nearly every phase of RCN life: Seamanship, navigation, swimming, physical training and general recreation. About all they'll miss is the ceremony of splicing the mainbrace; the issuing at the request of the prime minister or the Queen the extra rum rations on special occasions.

The cadets hail from St. John's, Nfld., Pictou, N.C., Charlottetown and Summerside, P.E.I. There is also a large Ontario contingent. A group of freshman seafarers from Deer Lake, Nfld., is scheduled to bed down Tuesday.

Two thousand cadets in batches will train at Point Edward during July and August in numbers of 500. They are commanded by Lt.-Comdr. Keith Wilton of the navy's Stadacona shore station at Halifax who is Atlantic provinces and Newfoundland commandant of the sea cadets.

The boys will get their sea time aboard the naval training ship Scatari which operates out of Sydney. The RCN also has put at their disposal more than 50 sailing cutters, whalers and dinghies.

Narrow Escape From Undertow

A young college student had a narrow escape from drowning on Sunday afternoon at Cavendish Beach. Melvin White, a third year Prince of Wales College student, was overcome when caught in a strong undertow, and required the assistance of two lifeguards. Jerry McQuaid and Bob Hutchison before a rescue was effected by three men in a boat.

The life guards were able to tow the young man for a distance of 25 yards and were supporting him at the safety ropes when the boat, although launched in rough seas, was able to take them aboard. White was in a state of complete exhaustion when taken ashore and the guards administered oxygen to him for some time before he was completely recovered. A doctor at the scene, lent his advice to the guards.

Canada's Food Bill Increases

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's food bill rose by $90,000,000 last year. The tab for tobacco and liquor increased by $36,000,000.

The national accounts, measuring statistically the size and character of the Canadian economy, estimated Monday that Canadians boosted their spending on consumer goods and services last year to a record $15,165,000,000. By far the largest single amount was spent on food, but there were increases all along the line, from rents to hospital care.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. MacMillan wish to sincerely thank all their friends and neighbours for the wonderful gifts and for the kindness shown them on their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Island Odds and Ends

Hon. Douglas MacKinnon, Minister of Public Works, is very pleased with the Dominion Day performance of his pacer, Colonel Budlong, at the Summerside Raceway. Mr. MacKinnon bought the Colonel last summer as a five-year-old, right off the farm, from "Willie Dan" MacKenzie of Flat River. Until last Thursday the horse had never seen a race track. Throughout the 1953 season he was trained on the trot and was given a start late in the year. As a trotter he did not look any too good, and in the autumn he went into winter quarters at "Jack" Annear's stable in Montague. There, Alf Lowery, well-known trainer and driver, took him in hand and turned him over to the hoppers quickly, but when he got the idea, improved.

Today he is a very good prospect although he was far from a high-priced horse when purchased. Alfred Lowery did a commendable job turning him over to the new gait and conditioning him. Unfortunately the Summerside classifiers put Colonel Budlong and stablemate, Real Joe, in the same race on Dominion Day. Alf Lowery drove Real Joe on race day and had to find a new driver. "Leo" Collins, for Mr. MacKinnon's horse. Considering that Mr. Collins had never had a rein over Colonel Budlong before, the horse did very well in taking third in the second heat, and fifth in the second heat. With Lowery, his trainer, behind him, there is a likelihood that he can do even better.

Mr. MacKinnon has some reason to be pleased that this inexpensive Island-bred horse has come along so well.

Two years ago "Tom" Fraser, one of the best known lobster packers in Kings County, and a keen trout fisherman, discovered that sea trout were quite plentiful at places near Murray Harbour, hitherto scarcely ever fished. Experimenting with various baits, he found that the best was a combination of Murray Harbour and St. John's Harbour. Mr. Fraser proved that good sea trout were running there practically all summer. At present a number of Murray Harbour men are enjoying excellent fly fishing whenever the tide is suitable. No very large catches have been made—four to six trout in a couple of hours—but the fish weigh up well.

The general run average from a half to three quarters of a pound with plenty going over the pound mark. Among those who follow the tides closely are the aforementioned T. H. Fraser, Lorne Stewart, the imperial Oil agent in Murray Harbour, Captain Percy White and Hubert White. Until the lobster fishing closed Mr. Fraser could not spare the time to cast a fly but he and the others mentioned are picking up some real sea trout these July days, and getting needed relaxation at the same time.

Your columnist had a glance at the North River Causeway plans yesterday, but the carefully executed blueprints conveyed to him were of considerable extent.

A 90-foot wide spill-way, low enough to permit sea trout to ascend to the waters of the artificially made lake will be installed.

Some doleful folk are predicting the lake will be a stagnant moss-covered backwater, and that the trout fishing will be spoiled. They back these predictions in the belief that the amount of water flowing into the lake—that is fresh water—will be insufficient to keep the lake fresh and wholesome.

On the other hand engineering authorities think otherwise, and are of the opinion that the lake will be a beauty spot which will give fishermen dozens of new and advantageous locations from which to angle for the big ones. Let us hope—and there is not reason to think contrawise, that the official view is the correct one.

At any rate, the new highway over the river will be a wonderful improvement over the 42 year old bridge which has stymied traffic ever since automobile movement became the chief means of transportation in this Province.

Are Lauded As Greatest Show On Wheels

After completing seven years of highly successful operation in Western Canada and the United States, the famous Congress of Canadian Dare Devils will appear this year in the Maritime, or Eastern, Provinces of Canada.

This all Canadian owned and produced show will present performances at Covehead Race Track tonight and Wednesday night and at Summerside Raceway Thursday night July 6th, O'Leary Race Track Friday July 9th, St. Peters Race Track Saturday July 10th.

Exhibitions of precision driving, motorcycle acrobatics and flaming "Slide for Life" are included in the two hour, 28 event program, which will be climaxed by the most daring stunt ever presented the thrill loving public. This is the Cannon Shot or "Courtship of Death" in which a 1954 Ford convertible is shot from the mouth of a giant 4,000 pound cannon, landing on a narrow runway ramp after hurtling some 30 feet through space.

For the utmost in thrills, thrills, and spills the Congress of Canadian Dare Devils have been lauded in both Canada and the United States as the "Greatest Show on Wheels".

Dr. Reid Addresses Local Rotarians

"Man is a product of his history," Dr. Stanford Reid, Associate Professor of History, McGill University told the members of the Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting in the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

"Where a man is born, and brought up, his environment and a background of a thousand years of history, gives him a point of view peculiar to his circumstances," Dr. Reid continued. "Lack of historic perspective in people's minds interferes with clear understanding." The speaker cited numerous examples of high pressure attempts to arouse certain European states to accept sweeping changes following the First Great War, which failed because insufficient attention was paid to their historic background and the mode of living which had been theirs for centuries.

"The character of people is determined to a large extent by their history which must be studied by their neighbours can understand each other," the speaker said. "Forces working today which must be considered are environment, natural resources, means of communication, wars, economic development, political government and spiritual force, particularly for the latter," the speaker said. Dr. Reid was heard with keen attention and on concluding was extended a vote of thanks by Walter Hyndman on behalf of the club. Dr. Frank MacKinnon introduced the speaker as a native of Quebec who has spent his summers on the Island for the past 12 years.

Regret was expressed by President Hal Shaw on the resignation of Walter Cox from the club.

Visiting Rotarians in attendance were: R. E. Kharas, Syracuse N. Y., Allen Mathews, Kamloops, B. C., Wallie Sharpe, Truro, N.S., Derrill McGuire, Amherst, N.S., Manning Baginall, Saint John, N. B., Nelson Warren, Fullerton, Calif., L. F. Burrows, Ottawa. Guests of Rotary were: Rev. W. E. Aitken, Dartmouth, N.S., Rev. T. H. B. Somers, Charlottetown, C. A. White, Shediac, N.B. and Milner Naismith, Vancouver, B.C.

Opens Debate On Civil Defence

LONDON, (Reuters)—Home secretary Sir David Maxwell Fyfe said Monday that an atomic attack on this crowded country would "constitute a tragedy without any previous parallel in history."

Opening a debate on civil defence in the House of Commons, he said: "It would be foolish to attempt the impossible task of providing immunity. But much can be done to mitigate the consequences, and it is the duty of everyone to do the best they can."

He said training of reservists for service with mobile civil defence columns will begin next year and that a commander-in-chief will be appointed for the mobile forces.

In an obvious reference to the city of Coventry, whose specialist council has scrapped civil defence plans as being futile against the H-bomb, Fyfe said:

"Doubt has been expressed about the value of retaining and building up an air force. It is necessary to have made it plain that the civil defence services are more than ever needed in the light of the new threats. The government intends to press on with recruitment."

Will Ask Cabinet For Clemency

OTTAWA, (CP)—Pie. George Mitchell, 22, of Winnipeg, under sentence of death for the butcher-knife killing of a German widow, probably will appeal to the cabinet for clemency.

His appeal from a murder conviction by a Canadian Army court martial in Germany was dismissed Monday by the five-member court martial appeal board. Mitchell was convicted of murdering Frau Elizabeth Seling, about 56, at Iserlohn, Germany, Dec. 15 by stabbing her 10 times while she was on her way home from evening Bible class.

Mitchell is being held in jail at Winnipeg and no date for his execution by hanging has been set. It is considered likely that his counsel will ask the cabinet to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment. There is no capital punishment in Germany.

To Study Status Of Women In Five Countries

TORONTO, (CP)—A project to study the status of women in five Near and Middle East countries will be started immediately by the International Federation of Business and Professional Women, membership chairman Margaret Hyndman of Toronto announced Monday.

The 10-month study, financed by a $47,500 Ford foundation grant, will be made in Egypt, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria.

The idea was first proposed in 1952 by International president Dame Caroline Haslett of England during a federation board meeting in New York. She said it was necessary because of information from the United Nations on cruel customs and traditions practised on women in some eastern countries.

The study will also pave the way for organization of Business and Professional Women's clubs in the east.

Ruth Woodsmall of the United States will direct the project. She travelled extensively in eastern Mediterranean countries as general secretary of the world YWCA from 1934 to 1948 and has firsthand knowledge of the role of women there.

CIO Calls For New Wage Boosts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CIO, calling for new wage increases, said Monday the income of wage and salary earners in the United States is declining more than $1,000,000,000 a month whereas it should be increasing to buoy the economy.

The CIO's publication Economic Outlook cited commerce department figures showing this type of income declined from $202,200,000,000 last August to $193,400,000,000 in April.

"Unless wage and salary workers share equitably in the growing product of the economy," the Outlook said, "the present distortion between producing and consuming ability will widen, and the recession will deepen."

"It was the lag of consumption behind the national production ability which helped to bring on the 1920 depression."

The Outlook said that what is broadly called labor income was declining because, while wage rates are somewhat higher, fewer people are employed and those working are averaging fewer hours at the jobs. At the same time, it said, profits and dividends are increasing.
