GLAD TO SEE HIM.—"It seems to me that your face is familiar," said the hollow eyed consumptive who was spending a season at the Southern watering place hotel and mineral springs resort. "Are you not from Blanktown?" "Yes," replied the sorrow, lantern-jawed dyspeptic, "I am the Editor of the Blankford 'Sure Guide to Health.'" "I am delighted to see you. I have taken your paper for eleven years," exclaimed the walking skeleton.—Chicago Tribune.

PECULIAR DEATH.—Mr. Layton McCabe, of Alexandria, Lot 49, lost a valuable cow yesterday under peculiar circumstances. Two days before her death the animal became drowsy and stupid, and refused nourishment. Yesterday at noon she died. Mr. McCabe, being somewhat curious to find out just what was the cause of death had the animal opened, and in the lining of the heart he found a sharp piece of steel about two inches in length. The lungs were somewhat affected about the hole made by the piece of steel in passing through to where it was found, and the heart where the steel touched was badly inflamed. The cow had probably swallowed the steel some time ago, and as soon as it reached a vital part death ensued.
SPECIAL RATES FROM ENGLAND.—This is something that should interest our Moncton importers. The Record Foundry & Machine Co., have received a communication from Messrs. D. Farquharson & Son, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., stating they expect to have a steamer leaving England about 1st April next, of say 3000 barrels capacity, and are prepared to carry freight at reasonable rates and deliver at Charlottetown, Pictou, Summerside and Point du Chene. They will be glad to hear from anyone in Moncton, who may have freight to carry, and hope to receive sufficient to induce the steamer to call at Point du Chene.—Moncton Transcript.
ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste, it soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind. [April 1 '88]

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Summary of Proceedings.

OTTAWA, March 4.
After unimportant routine to-day, Sir John Thompson introduced a bill entitled "An Act to amend the Winding Up Act." He explained the provisions of the bill applied to companies incorporated by this Parliament and wound up otherwise than under the provisions of the Insolvent. Sir Hector Langevin moved that on and after Thursday next, Government business shall have precedence on Thursday. Hon. Peter Mitchell objected that the private members, under this arrangement, would not have sufficient opportunity to present their grievances to the House this session, being now left with only Mondays and Wednesdays. In answer to an inquiry, Mr. Charlton was informed that negotiations with the Government of the United States, regarding defining the boundary line between the territories of the Dominion and the territory of Alaska, are now in progress. Dr. McIntyre moved for a copy of the names of fishermen in P. E. Island who for the past two years have made claims for fishing bounty and whose claims have been rejected. He alleged that political favoritism had been shown in this connection. Hon. C. H. Tupper said he would like to be informed of the particulars of any cases such as those spoken of by Dr. McIntyre. It was unnecessary for him to say that the department did not desire to have politics interfere in any way with the distribution of bounties. The House adjourned at six o'clock, there being no evening session in accordance with the custom on account of the state ball at Government House.
NOTES.
The Governor-General gave his first state ball to-night. It is largely attended, but a good deal of dissatisfaction is felt from the fact that certain members were not invited, whether unintentionally or designedly has not yet transpired. The resolution declares that the Parliament of Canada views the agitation with sympathy, and authorizes the Cabinet to co-operate in securing such an amendment to the Confederation Act as may be necessary to extend the boundaries of the Dominion, such boundaries, however, not to extend westerly beyond the Connecticut River, the Greenmount and Lake Champlain. That while the people of Canada are willing to welcome such of these New England States as wish to return to their old allegiance they regard such union as being more in the interests of said States than in that of Canada, and are unwilling that any force or undue influence should be used to bring about such federation, nor would the people of Canada be willing to assume any burdens of said States other than such as may be represented by public works and buildings in such States as would be vested in the Crown, in case said States were admitted into the Dominion. The Government will take up, this week, the question of increasing the salaries of judiciary throughout the Dominion.

HALIFAX, March 4.
The stock of a new fire insurance company is being floated here. Its capital is one million. In the Legislature to-day Mr. McCoy, M. P. P. for Shelburne, whom Premier Fielding undertook to read out of the Liberal party last week, rose to a question of privilege over a newspaper report of the incident, and in the course of his speech said he did not propose to be read out of the Liberal party by any member or combination of members of the Local Government, and said if there was any reading out to be done it would originate from the Government desks.
Probably Not True.
LONDON, March 4.
The rumored conflict between the German gunboat Olga and an American man-of-war, telegraphed from Kiel last night can be traced to no authentic source. In Berlin up to noon to-day no official information of such an affair had been received by the Government.

INAUGURATION DAY.

President Harrison Sworn In.

Washington "En Fete."

WASHINGTON, March 4.
There was a stir and bustle about the city from an early hour this morning, in fact the restless throngs that surged along the streets yesterday had hardly quieted down during the whole night. By nine o'clock the blare and beat of bands could be heard in every direction. Civic and military organizations were marching to their respective rendezvous, and streams of people were pushing their way to the line of march. By ten o'clock, an hour before the military was to move, the windows and seats on stands erected along the line of march began to receive their occupants, and half an hour later both sides of Pennsylvania Avenue, from the Executive Mansion to the Capitol, were lined with a surging mass of humanity, and Inauguration Day was fairly begun. Probably one hundred thousand visitors and as many more of the resident population of Washington were along the line of march, waiting to witness the inaugural procession, the most imposing demonstration of the kind the country has ever seen. Fifty thousand men were marching to their stations in line or waiting to march, and the entire population of the city seemed to have deserted their homes and gathered along the line of march. The crowd was something unprecedented. It was nearly 9 o'clock when the crowd about the great Capitol began to grow dense and the struggle for breathing room began. At the entrance of the House and Senate cordons of police kept back the crowd, and reinforced the doorkeepers. The principal attraction was at the Senate Chamber where the Vice President was to be sworn in. Admission was by ticket to the galleries which soon filled. At 11.15 the body of the Senate was filled, and the Senate was called to order. A few minutes before twelve o'clock President Cleveland with escort, followed shortly by President-elect Harrison, escorted by Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts. Both Cleveland and Harrison were greeted with tremendous applause. They were seated directly in front of the presiding officer. Vice-President-elect Morton was then escorted to the platform of the presiding officer and every one in the Chamber arose and remained one in the Chamber until Senator Ingalls administered the oath of office. Morton then assumed the position of presiding officer. He called the Senate to order in extra session. He then addressed the Senate, session. He then addressed the Senate, after which the new senators were sworn in. The march from the Capitol to the White House was one continual ovation to the new President. A quarter of a million people cheered him as he passed.

MARRIED.

In this city, on February 21st, by Rev. W. Harrison, Mr. Henry W. Henderson, of Royalty Junction, to Miss Endervilla Simmons, of Crapaud, Lot 29.
