Life Membership In W.M.S. Marks 70th Birthday

At the home of Mrs. Earl Semple, Kensington, the Myrtle Rhoad W. M. S. of Kelvin held a meeting recently. Mrs. Bertha Walker, mother of Mrs. Earl Semple, was presented with a Life Membership in the society, on the occasion of her 70th birthday.

On the same occasion the guest of honor was presented with a potted azalea by the Kelvin Grove W. L. of which she is a charter member.

Among those attending the meeting were the minister, Rev. E. H. Bean and Mrs. Bean, Mrs. Walker's only sister, Mrs. Alonzo Webster and four former members of the W. M. S., Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. John W. Thompson, Mrs. Mabon Bynon and Miss Mae Walker.

At the tea hour refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by members of the W. M. S., when the guest of honor was escorted to the dining room by Mrs. William Stavert.

Mrs. Ira Huestis presided over the tea cups and those serving were Mrs. Scot Clark, Mrs. Lorne Crozier and Mrs. Ralph Moase. The tea table featured in addition to the birthday cake, and lighted tapers a bouquet of red roses presented to Mrs. Walker by her son, Mr. Arnold Walker.

(Continued from page 1) ses are 'blamed or praised for the amount or quality of nursing in a community, they alone are not responsible,' Dr. Curtis said.

'Society receives the kind of nursing it wants, just as it receives the kind of roads or government it demands.'

ECONOMIC CHANGES

In noting social and economic changes that have taken place in recent years, Dr. Curtis observed that there has been a marked increase in the number of older people and in the number of younger people thus making a greater demand for medical care.

Industry, he said has forced people to be mobile and to move where jobs are available. As a consequence families are often isolated from relatives and frequently have no deep roots in the community.

The emotional and financial security produced by many close family relationships are disappearing and it is rare to find a household with a free adult ready to take care of a patient in the home.

Reviewing the history of nursing, Dr. Curtis said the first training of nurses was accomplished through experience. As time went on schools for nursing were started.

MANY DEFICIENCIES

These schools had many deficiencies. The admission standards were low and many of the schools had no library or laboratory facilities. There was little in the way of a planned curriculum. Working conditions were most unsatisfactory and there were many severe restrictions on the nurse's private life.

Despite the quality of nursing education and the working conditions, Dr. Curtis said much excellent nursing was done. Factors such as longer stay of patients in hospital and the simpler environment of hospitals, allowed the nurse to give total care to the patient and provided for a closer association with the attending physician.

Dr. Curtis observed that most of these irregularities as they affected the nursing profession have now vanished. He said modern organization of hospitals and present trends in the practice of medicine are involving more and more people in special skills. 'As a result, nurses must find their place and make their contribution on this much bigger team.'

'Modern nursing must deal with the future as well as the present—with prevention as well as healing—with rehabilitation and adjustment to family and community life,' Dr. Curtis said.

Events which have indicated a 'better way' into nursing were noted by Dr. Curtis. Some of these are: Conferences held between leaders in the medical and nursing fields; research in nursing education; increase in the quality of nursing contribution; improved standards; accreditation of Canadian Schools of Nursing.

Miss D. Wyatt Dies In S' Side

The death of Miss Dorothy Wyatt, well known Summerside lady, occurred yesterday morning in Prince County Hospital after an illness of several months.

The remains were forwarded Tuesday evening from the Compton Funeral Home to her late residence until Thursday when funeral service will be held from St. Mary's Anglican Church. Interment will be in Peoples Cemetery, Summerside.

A daughter of the late stipendiary magistrate J.E. Wyatt and Mrs. Wyatt, she is survived by a sister, Dorothy, with whom she resided.

She was a life long member of the Anglican Church, and a prominent worker in all phases of church activities, including the ladies guild and the choir. She was an ardent supporter of the Community Concert Association, and possessed a remarkably fine

Mrs. J. L. Leard Dies At Canning

Mrs. L. Johnson Leard died at her home in Canning N.S. on Wednesday, May 21, 1958, following a brief illness.

Born in Belleville, Ontario, ninety-one years ago, she attended school there and was graduated from the Albert Business College.

For some years she was employed with a business firm in Montreal during her entire life she was closely associated with church work. She was superintendent of the Deaconess Home of the Methodist Church in Belleville for fourteen years following the death of her first husband, Edward Coulson of Belleville, and later she moved to Niagara Falls where she was superintendent of the Mission in that centre for over twenty years.

In 1943 she was married to Rev. J.L. Leard of Alberton P. E.I., who was minister of the United Church of Canada in Canning. Following Mr. Leard's retirement, they continued to make their home there.

Throughout her lifetime Mrs. Leard took an active part in church and community life and contributed greatly to mission work at home and overseas.

Surviving, besides her husband, are three nieces and nephews living in Ontario.

The funeral service in Canning on Saturday was conducted by Rev. J. W. Barbour. Her body was brought to Alberton by motor hearse and in the presence of relatives and family friends, was laid to rest in the Leard plot in Woodlawn Cemetery Sunday morning. The committal service was conducted by Mr. William Bowring, student-assistant to the minister of Alberton United Church. Pallbearers at Alberton were three nephews, Arthur, Albert and Fred Leard, Russell Leard, Walter Wells and Charles Johnston.

PROTESTANT FAMILY

(Continued from page 5) "The Bureau is particularly pleased," he said, "that it has been possible to make the new arrangement retroactive to April, 1957. Although these payments will not meet all of the Bureau's needs in assisting families, it will greatly ease the financial burden that has been carried by the Bureau through most of the winter and Spring."

"We are delighted that the two Governments have been able to solve this problem to everyone's satisfaction," he added.

FAMILY CASEWORK

Family casework consumes the largest amount of caseworkers time in most welfare agencies, Mr. Lowther said.

"Society is leaning more upon professional help to assist individuals with personal and family difficulties, and this trend makes family service a more vital part of our present day living," he declared.

Mr. Lowther expressed the hope that the new Board of Directors would investigate the need for "homemaker services" in the City.

In closing the president expressed a "very special word of thanks" to the Protestant churches "whose contribution were so encouraging to us in our time of need."

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

In his annual report, Mr. Baker said the past winter has been a very difficult one for many families. He said it was not so much the result of the winter recession as it was the lack of employment during the summer of 1957.

He said an unusually large number of workers were unable to get enough employment during the summer season to qualify for unemployment benefits during the winter months and these families had to rely entirely on relief assistance throughout the winter.

In addition to this the Bureau was called upon to help a number who were waiting for insurance benefits to come through. Mr. Baker noted that some countries pay insurance benefits immediately after a worker becomes unemployed but here a man often has to wait three weeks before receiving a payment.

LOW WAGES

Mr. Baker said he felt impelled to repeat what he had said a year ago. This was in regard to the "extremely low wages paid to most of the labouring and clerical workers in the Province."

"This would not be so bad," he said, "if the cost of living were lower here but such is not the case. Many luxuries of living such as entertainment and summer recreation are still being paid for."

TOLLS STILL NOT SETTLED

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Hees said Tuesday he thinks Canada-United States agreement on St. Lawrence seaway tolls will be reached in "the next few months." He added in a Commons reply to Hazen Argue, CCF House leader, that the toll committees of both countries still are discussing the situation.

RETIREES IN NOVEMBER

OTTAWA (CP)—Brig. Elgin M. Wansbrough, MM, 59, director-general of dental services for the armed forces since 1946, will retire Nov. 1, army headquarters announced Tuesday. He won the Military Medal for gallantry in action while serving as a machine-gunner in the First World War.

Indians To Be Prominent At S' Side Lobster Carnival

Probably the first people to enjoy the delightful taste of P. E. I. lobsters were the Indians who inhabited this Province, and because of this the Indians will be given a position of prominence in this year's annual Summerside Lobster Carnival. They may lead up its opening parade, and will definitely be participating in the four-day carnival from July 16 to 19th, where a representation from the Lennox Island reservation will be regaled in costumes of that period, and will demonstrate their unequalled art of wood-weaving and the making of the colorful wicker baskets for which they are noted. While some of the carnival plans have yet to be finalized by the committee, it appears probable that Chief Joseph Sark, who yesterday celebrated his 65th birthday, will be accompanied on the leading float in the big opening parade on July 16 by a dozen men and women residents of the Indian reservation. The scene is expected to depict a sight similar to that seen by the first Europeans to land on these shores, and will include all the color that can be imagined by the recreation of an Indian Birch bark teepee, and the legendary warning smoke signals, which, in this case, will merely warn tourists and spectators that they should attend the lovely lobster suppers being served in the Civic Stadium.
