THE DAILY EXAMINER

JUNE 8, 1900.

THE BEGINNING OF THE END.

MR. SPEAKER BAIN has done the wise thing in declining to run again in South Wentworth.

He could not possibly face the old Reformers of that constituency and brazen out before them the record of the Laurier-Tarte Government.

Mr. James Livingston, M. P., is equally well advised in refusing the nomination in South Waterloo. The constituency was carried by him in 1896 by a majority of but 89; and the change of feeling owing to the departure from the platform, the violation of the pledges, the hoodling, and the ballot-box stuffing is so marked that Mr. Livingston could not hope for reelection.

Mr. D. K. Erb, M. P., for South Perth, has also declined renomination. He is justified, for there is not the remotest chance of the return by that constituency of a supporter of the present Government.

Hon. William Paterson has declined renomination in North Grey, his present constituency; he will search elsewhere for a seat. This is possibly the ablest move Mr. Paterson has made; corruption won the riding for him in 1896, and the people will not tolerate a repetition of the tactics of that contest.—Mail and Empire.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—It is said that a fall election is looked for in Great Britain, too. The Conservative party there is also in good shape, and their opponents at sixes and sevens.

—A report has it that the Parliamentary elections will be held shortly after the return of the troops from South Africa, so that the Government may get the benefit of the popular enthusiasm; and the Montreal Gazette remarks that it will be curious to see Sir Wilfrid Laurier applauding the soldiers he did not want to send to the war, but he will do it all right. His woe will be that he will hardly be able to persuade anybody of his sincerity. His Toronto Globe interview is remembered.

—Officers of the United States army who have been closely following the war say that while the lessons taught cannot be regarded as especially new, the operations have substantiated these important conclusions:—

The avoidance of frontal attacks upon an enemy's position, especially in close order formation.

The necessity of having the latest small arms and artillery.

The undesirability of risking artillery, as General Buller did at Colenso.

The value of effective scouting.

The presence of ample cavalry and artillery.

—The Star publishes an epitome of Rev. Father Burke's sermon in which he declared the truth that "no country was safe which did not scrupulously guard from fraud its franchise. 'In times gone by,' said he, 'we have heard of such things as the purchase of votes, bad enough, and in all conscience to be reprobated, but today an organized band of disolute men manipulates the ballot, introduce false one for their employers, and steal and arrange the boxes to suit their evil purpose. A looseness in political morals, invited by 'elections are not made by prayers' speeches, and readily taken up by machine workers, is over-spreading the land. We have a representative elected by the people here formally to end a bad government, making a complete somersault and putting off for a moment its death agony. So we are brought face to face with the most pronounced brand of corruption, and it is to be hoped that all Catholics, at least, obeying the voice of the church, will continue to reprobate political rascality as all other immorality in their own and the country's weal.'"

—The Right Hon. Sir Richard Temple, formerly Governor of Bombay, in a strong article in the June issue of the North American Review, makes it clear that Britain's resources are equal to any emergency. He says: "Whether the present is a fitting time for other powers to try any contests with Britain, is a question for them to determine. Britain is at the acme of her 'pulsance'; never has she displayed such resourcefulness as she has recently displayed in South Africa, and yet her resources are very far from exhaustion; indeed, they have not even yet been adequately called forth. She is still ready to meet any combination that could reasonably be anticipated, and if the present war shall be speedily terminated, then she will have forces available in a strength never before equalled in all her eventful history. She can afford to regard other nations quite complacently, whatever they may say, realizing what her rights are throughout the world and knowing well how to guard them."

DIED.

At St. Paul, Minn., of appendicitis, at 11:30 p. m., Monday, May 28, 1900, at Bethesda hospital, Colin Douglas Macgowan, second son of D. H. Macgowan, 258 Bates avenue.

Keep Minard's Liniment in the House

OBITUARY.

The St. Paul, (Minn.) Globe, May 30, says: "Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Macgowan, of 258 Bates avenue will have the profound sympathy of their large circle of acquaintances in the bereavement they have suffered in the almost sudden death of their son, Colin Douglas, which sad event occurred Sunday. Deceased was aged seventeen years and a lad of exceptional intellect, and better even than that, of a most lovable disposition." The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Macgowan in this city and province join in the sympathy of their friends at St. Paul.

It is with deep regret that we chronicle the death of Mr. Sophus Edmonds, which took place at his home in Summerville, on the 15th inst. Deceased was the only son of P. J. D. Edmonds, and his death at the early age of 23 years has caused great sorrow throughout the neighborhood.

After a successful course in St. Dunstan's College, he spent a few years teaching, first at Lower Cardigan and more recently at Head St. Peter's Bay, in both of which places he earned for himself, by his integrity, the esteem of both old and young.

About two years ago, owing to ill-health, he gave up teaching, and since that time had never enjoyed his former good health. A few months ago it became evident that, notwithstanding the best medical attendance and every comfort which love could prompt, death had marked him for its own.

He bore his illness patiently, and fortified by the last rites of the Catholic Church passed peacefully away.

A large number of people followed his remains to St. Joachim's Church, Vernon River, where a solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. D. Doyle, after which the remains were consigned to their last resting place. To his sorrow-stricken parents, relatives and friends, we tender our heartfelt sympathy.

It is with deepest regret that we chronicle the death of Mr. Michael Callaghan, one of the oldest and most respected members of our community, which occurred at his home, Riverdale, on Sunday, the 6th of May, at the advanced age of 76 years. The deceased was in his usual good health until a short time previous to his death, when he was attacked by a severe cold which gradually became worse, and despite all that skilled medical aid and loving friends could do he passed peacefully away.

Deceased came to this community when a comparatively young man, and by his industry and perseverance felled the forest king, cultivated the land and worked out for himself and wife a comfortable and well provided home. By his ever obliging and genial disposition he made for himself many friends and no enemies, and his death will be sincerely mourned by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. During his illness he was fortified by the last rites of the Catholic Church, by his kind Pastor, Rev. D. B. Reid. A proof of the high esteem in which he was held was manifested by the large concourse of wagons which, notwithstanding the disagreeable state of the weather, followed his remains to St. Anne's Church, Lot 61, where solemn High Mass of Requiem was offered by the Rev. pastor. To the bereaved wife and other relatives we extend our sincere sympathy.

RHEUMATIC PAINS.

Why Do You Suffer When an Application of Griffiths' Menthol Liniment Will Take Out all the Pain in a Few Minutes? It Penetrates Muscle, Membrane and Tissue to the Very Bone. Here is the Proof.

Mr. Robert Collett, 70 Elliott-street, Toronto, writes: I am sure if the poor rheumatic sufferer only knew of the virtues of Griffiths' Menthol Liniment there would not be so much suffering from this terrible disease. I had been suffering for several weeks with a painful attack in my shoulder. Half a bottle of Griffiths' Menthol Liniment removed every trace of my trouble. I have also found it exceedingly good for sore throat.

Sold by druggists, 25c and 75c.
