

MRS. DAVID MACDONALD

Wife Enjoys Political Race, But Rates Teaching Higher

"I love teaching" says Sandra Macdonald of her position as subject teacher at O'Leary Regional High School. Appearing hardly older than her students, the wife of David Macdonald, Conservative Candidate for Prince County in this month's election, would most certainly be classed as one of the most attractive "school mams" in the entire province. A graduate of Horton Academy and Mt. Allison University (Psychology), she once imagined herself as a lifelong careerist in social work or some related field. Marriage was a remote possibility "years and years away".

In Alberton a young United Church clergyman adjusting to his first charge probably felt the same way. However, a chance meeting at O'Leary High School where Sandra Rogers of the nearby community of Brae was chaperoning a teenager's dance and Rev. David Macdonald brought a young people's group, began a courtship that led to a spring engagement and a July, 1964 wedding.

Describing herself as an introvert, "I'm a follower, not a leader," this soft voiced, fragile appearing young woman would "rather teach than anything else. It's a life that offers great fulfillment and I couldn't be happier".

The eldest of seven children, Mrs. Macdonald has been interested in politics since a child. Her father Harris Rogers, was a provincial legislative candidate on several occasions. And as children they "cut their eye-teeth" on dinner table politics. She visits about with her husband during the campaign, attends the meetings and tea parties but has no intention of becoming personally involved.

Despite the fact she teaches Sunday school, plays the organ in one of her husband's churches and sings in the choir of another, she says, regrettably "I'm not very talented, I'm afraid". Last year she took a home economics course that produced a jumper she describes as "simply terrible". Her one regret is not being able to take the university extension courses available in Charlottetown. "Much too far to travel each week".

The prospect of part time living in Ottawa holds no particular joy for Sandra Macdonald. "I'd miss my work and the wonderful friends we've made, but if this is the way for David to do the most for our area, that's the way it must be".

MARY HAWORTH

Woman Living On Pittance Rages At People's Greed

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I must examine every cent twice before I spend it. Yet recently I learned that a person then wearing what I give twenty times as much as I receive in gifts. People on salary, with money coming in regularly, don't know what it means to keep afloat by cashing in one's savings bonds.

I have never kept track of my giving and getting in the past, all my heart, without thought of return, during my income producing years. And besides gifts, I gave services (sewing, cooking, child-care, housekeeping help, etc.) worth far more than gifts, cash-wise.

I gave birthday gifts (and

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

Rally Held At Ellerslie Well Attended By UCW

Last Saturday afternoon, 126 United Church women, most of them from Prince County, registered for a fall rally in the Christian Education Centre at Ellerslie.

Mrs. E.W. Turner presided and led in a brief opening worship. Those assembled were welcomed by Mrs. James Burleigh on behalf of the UCW of Bideford Pastoral Charge.

Mrs. Henry Loyse of Summerside, president of the Presbyterian UCW, gave information concerning a number of matters connected with UCW work.

O'Leary, Alberton and Cape Wolfe groups volunteered to supply articles of baby clothing needed for the Brunswick Street Mission in Halifax. Mention was made of the need for more "ditty bags" which are given to new arrivals in this country by the port worker.

Copies of a Christmas worship service based on the UCW purpose and prepared by Mrs. Louis Cairns of Freetown were made available.

Mrs. J.T. Humphrey of Charlottetown presented an interesting introduction to the book "Jesus Christ and the Christian Life," and led a discussion period.

The rally concluded with a worship service based on the theme "Being a Growing Christian," led by five members of Wellington UCW, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. John Graham, Mrs. Bruce Conrad, Mrs. Ernest Allen and Mrs. Charles Frost.

A buffet supper was served by the hostess group.

FORTUNE BRIDGE WI
The October meeting of the Fortune Bridge WI was held at the home of Mrs. Sterling Burke. There were three guests. It was decided to make a donation to Friendship Dollars for USC to purchase a layette for USC to be paid for by members contributing 25 cents at next meeting. Collection boxes for pennies for UNICEF FOR Halloween are to be ordered for school. Committee reported that books needed for school had been purchased.

Next meeting will be held at still do, also shower gifts, wedding gifts, engagement gifts, hostess gifts, etc., and always was happy to do it. Just for example, I have been giving my nephews gifts for over 20 years, without so much as a card in return. Would a thank-you of that sort be asking too much?

Recently I had to make a choice for my sister's silver wedding anniversary either appear at the festivities, at a cost of $30, or send a gift. I was advised, probably wrongly, to put in an appearance, which I did.

Thoughts of these injustices are keeping me awake nights. Can you suggest how to live with the demands people make and the ingratitude they show? E.R.

Sherbrooke WI Plans Banquet
Mrs. Alvin Matthews was hostess for 14 members of the Sherbrooke WI, who answered roll call with a safety slogan. One visitor was present. Mrs. Urban Laughlin presided at this October meeting. Each member attended in a halloween costume, which created much fun. Mrs. John Steele won the prize for best costume.

Regular business was attended to and reports and minutes given. Plans were made to hold a banquet at the home of Mrs. George Small, Summerside on November 10, and to place a wreath on the monument at the "Traveler". Rest on Remembrance Day.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by the committee in charge.

Kensington Legion Auxiliary Elects Slate Of Officers
At the annual meeting of the Kensington Legion Auxiliary, the president, Mrs. D.L. McInnis, in her address recalled many activities carried out during the year. She thanked the members for their co-operation and said that "the newly renovated and enlarged Home should be of great benefit to all of us, and that we should renew our efforts as we continue to work together to complete the project".

Mrs. McInnis was re-elected president, and the 1st vice-president, Mrs. Elmer Cole, and the 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Fred Campbell, were also re-elected. Mrs. Glad Mayhew was elected secretary. Auditors are Mrs. Earle MacKay, who is also immediate past president and Mrs. Lea Crane. A change was made in the ways and means committee, and conveners will be appointed at an executive meeting for each month. Buying committee for card parties is Mrs. Gerald Mill and Mrs. William Mill; phoning, Mrs. McInnis; canteen buying, Mrs. Fred Campbell; visitation committee, Mrs. Eric Watson and Mrs. W.H. Brown.

On the executive, in addition to the elected officers, are Mrs. S. Gerald Mill, Mrs. W.G. Blakeney, Mrs. James Evans, Mrs. David Sherman, Mrs. Stanford Carr, Mrs. D.B. Reid, Mrs. Charles Hickey.

The treasurer, Mrs. W.G. Blakeney gave a satisfactory report and Mrs. Fred Campbell reported for the ways and means committee.

The members decided to hold a salad supper in November or December, date to be decided. Money was voted for a wreath for Remembrance Day.

PC Candidate And Wife Honored At Reception
The Prince County Progressive Conservative candidate, Rev. David Macdonald and his wife, Sandra, were greeted by a large number of women of the East Prince area at Kinkora Regional High School when a reception was held in their honour.

The centre table was attractively decorated with an arrangement of mums and autumn leaves, flanked by green tapers in candlesticks of bronze. Mr. Macdonald spoke to those present, and the evening concluded pleasantly with a lively song by Winnifred McKenna as pianist.

The reception was convened by Mrs. P.L. Morris, Mrs. Elton Wright and Mrs. Vernon McCarroll, assisted by Mrs. Harold Affleck, Mrs. Gerald Green, Mrs. Norman Reeves, Mrs. Red-

ELLEN'S DIARY

Dusk Flowed In Gently Veiling Hill And Field

And the new moon was a bewitching crescent in the evening sky when the embers of the fires of the sunset, the after-glow had not then entirely faded from the west.

"There! Make a wish on it," we stilled to a farmer about to leave the yard. He chuckled. "My wishes are like what they used to say about old Mr. ... prayers, they don't seem to get very few!"

"It's a pretty moon" we said. "It looks promising" he nodded. "What was it the old folks said? 'The last quarter of the old moon rules the first quarter of the new,' wasn't it?"

"Then we should have continuing fine weather, shouldn't we?" we queried. "Let's hope so," at any rate, so that all the crops will be gathered.

"There is not too much left in the fields" we offered. "Oh, some potatoes," they tell me. "And roots." "There is a nice lot of plowing already done. It's surprising the amount of red land one sees this autumn," we said. "And there'll be mild spells for plowing, it's likely, in November. There usually is. But I like to have my crop gathered up before October goes. The cabbages and pumpkins and all. Then one is not so worried over thoughts of the winter freezeup."

And this was an October day, and evening-one still and serene, with the dusk flowing in gently to the valley, shadowing the depths first, and veiling hill and field. "Now where are the men?" he had inquired. This is a question often posed to the cooks of this farm. Accordingly we must get our briefings, Goodnight...

Keep Home Fires Going - Safely On The Range

Fires usually start small; but little fires grow big if not stopped by quick, intelligent methods.

Many home fires originate in the kitchen. They are the result of fat-spattered ranges catching fire; or fat in a skillet or broiler flaring up; or paraffin used in sealing preserves over-heating and bursting into flames.

Flames Will Spread
Never use water on such a fire. It will spread the flames, splatter the grease. You're apt to get burned. Baking soda dumped directly on such a fire is an excellent extinguisher, for it creates carbon dioxide gas which cuts off the oxygen supply necessary to maintain any fire.

You can buy the baking soda in pound cartons. Three or four pounds should always be kept ready at hand in an "open-instant" canister marked FIRE. In case of fire, toss the baking soda all at once onto the blaze. This technique against fire from fats is recommended by fire-fighting authorities. After a fire that resulted from

HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. S. Peter White, Murray Harbor, will be at home to friends on Wednesday, Nov. 3 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Fred Ramsay of Bloomfield and daughters, Sybil and Zelma, were recent visitors to Charlottetown and Canoe Covey and Mr. and Mrs. G. Cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wigmore and family of Moncton, N.B., are visiting relatives in Baltic and Kensington and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Blakeney and Mr. and Mrs. G. Cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell of Arnprior, Ont., are spending a week's honeymoon trip on the Island and are guests of Mrs. Russell's sister, Mrs. Leigh Champion, Malpeque, and also visiting Mrs. Russell's mother, Mrs. Nellie Anderson of Darnley. On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Champion entertained the members of the immediate family at a dinner in honor of the couple. Several gifts were presented to the newlyweds and a pleasant evening was spent in social chat.

Horace Crozier returned to Sackville, N.B. to resume his pans clean and free of spattered fat.

Use frypans and skillets that are large and deep enough to allow room for both the food and the fat.

Fry in as little fat as possible.

TOMORROW'S DINNER
Beef Bouillon-in-Cups with Minced Chives—Chicken Tarragon with Thin Noodles and Green Peas, Cranberry-Orange Jewish Lemon Sherbet with Chocolate-Coffee Sauce—Coffee or Tea, Milk.
Measurements level; recipes for 6.

CHICKEN TARRAGON NOODLES AND GREEN PEAS
2 (7 1/2 lb.) broiler-fryers, sectioned
1 1/2 tsp. seasoned salt
3/4 lb. thin noodles
3 qt. rapidly boiling water with 1 tbs. salt
1/2 c. butter or margarine, melted
1 1/2 tsp. fine-crushed, dried tarragon leaves
1 envelope chicken broth powder
3/4 c. boiling water (additional)
1 (1 lb.) can petits pois (baby peas), heated and well-drained
3/4 c. grated Parmesan cheese
Garnish: parsley sprigs
Rub broiler-fryers all over with seasoned salt. Broil 40 min. 4" from source of heat, allowing 20 min. for each side. To prevent burning when sections are turned, cover with a sheet of aluminum foil.
Meantime, add noodles to rapidly boiling, salted, water. Do not cover. Boil 8 min. or until noodles are bite-tender; drain well. Do not rinse. Add butter and toss noodles. Turn them into heated, low 3-qt. serving dish and keep warm.
Stir tarragon and chicken broth powder into 3/4 c. boiling water and steep 5 min. With kitchen fork, lightly mix into noodles with heated drained peas. Dust with grated Parmesan and toss until well mixed. Top with golden-brown sectioned broiled chicken. Garnish: parsley sprigs.

PIUSVILLE
Sympathy is extended to Clarence Avenaul, Mrs. Delore Gallant and Mrs. Elmer Gallant all of this district on the recent death of their father, Donet Avenaul, St. Raphael.

Piusville school re-opened following the fall holidays with Mrs. Norbert Corcoran and Freddie Gallant as teachers.

Miss Cheryl Corcoran nurse-in-training in Charlottetown Hospital, also Pearlina Corcoran who is taking lab work in Charlottetown, spent the weekend at their home in Piusville.

The task of potato digging is about wound up in this vicinity and the farmers that have some stored in out-buildings are grading and hauling to market.

Mr. Robert MacGregor, Burton, Lot 7, returned to his home after spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Corcoran.

Aletha Corcoran, radiology student at Charlottetown Hospital, spent the weekend at her home in Piusville.

Dianne Gallant, Kinkora Convent, spent a weekend at the home of Mrs. Charles Gallant, Piusville.

MENU Magic
from the TEST KITCHEN

For the Main Course
If you haven't tried it yet, dairy sour cream gives cauliflower a nice lift. Break one large head into small flowerets and cook in boiling salted water as usual. Drain and stir in 1/2 pint dairy sour cream. Season with a teaspoon celery seeds, salt and pepper. Keep warm over low heat until ready to serve.

Heavenly Ending
After your next big dinner, finish off with this refreshing, light dessert, Grapefruit Cream. Simply melt 25 large marshmallows in the top of a double boiler along with 1 cup of grapefruit juice. Let cool before folding 1/2 pint whipped cream. Pour into pretty sherbet dishes, sprinkle with coconut and chili. That's all there is to it.

Pumpkin-Scotch Parfaits
Here's another dessert quicke made from a package of butterscotch instant pudding mix. Combine 1/2 cup canned pumpkin with 1 1/2 cups cold milk and add a dash of cinnamon and clove. Sprinkle with the pudding mix and beat 1 minute with a rotary beater. Pour into parfait glasses and serve topped with whipped cream.

Coffee A-Go-Go...
combines instant coffee with hot milk... a teaspoon or two per cup. It's marvelous with something sweet like chocolate brownies and 2 tablespoons of the young moderns with plenty of pep for the latest dance craze.

Butterscotch Apples
November is apple month, when warm desserts like this one go hand in hand with dairy foods. Cream together 1/2 cup soft butter and 1 cup brown sugar. Blend in 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 3/4 cup chopped nuts. Sprinkle over top 12 large apple halves in a shallow baking dish. Bake in a 375°F oven, about 30 minutes. Delicious with thick pouring cream, but better still with ice cream.

Budget Saver
When economy is important try this beef pie: lightly brown 1 pound of minced beef, then stir in an envelope dehydrated onion soup mix, 1/2 cup skim milk powder, mix, 2 tablespoons flour. Add 2 cups water, and simmer until thickened. Spoon into an unbaked pastry shell, sprinkle with plenty of shredded processed cheese and bake, about 25 minutes in a 400°F oven.
