SHE COULD HAVE DANCED ALL NIGHT

Princess Margaret leaves the Bistro restaurant in Beverly Hills just before 3 a.m. Monday after dining and dancing with Hollywood movie stars at a party given by her school-girl friend, Sharman Douglas. Even at that hour, the sidewalk outside the place was jammed with people trying to get a closeup glimpse of the princess and her husband, Lord Snowdon. (AP Wirephoto)

Four Dionne Quints, Chums Get Together For Reunion

ST. BRUNO, Que. (CP)—The four surviving Dionne quintuplets got together with a dozen old school chums Saturday for a class reunion, a comparison of baby photos and a general hen party

"The husbands weren't invited," said Germain Allard, husband of Annette Dionne, at whose house in this community 20 miles east of Montreal the reunion was held.

Three of the quintuplets live at the Allard home regularly—Yvonne and Marie as well as Mrs. Allard. Cecile, Mrs. Philippe Langlais, lives in Quebec City. The fifth of the multiple-birth girls, Emilie, died in 1955.

But for the girls who went to school with the quintuplets in Villa Notre-Dame, a convent built especially for them in Corbett, Ont., near their birthplace of Callander, it was the first time they had seen their famous classmates for 13 years.

OST MARRIED
"After 13 years, you've got quite a few things to say to each other," recounted Mr. Allard, a suburban finance company manager. It was women only, and since all but two of the classmates have also married since their days at Villa Notre-Dame, "quite a pack of photos circulated, let me tell you."

Also attending were three nuns who taught the quintuplets and two sisters of Mr. Allard. He met his future wife when his sister Gertrude accepted a job as home economics teacher to the quintuplets in their school, built just big enough to accommodate them, a few selected fellow-pupils and their teachers. It was closed when they finished their studies.

Six States For Canada Suggested

MONTREAL (CP)—A McGill University professor said Saturday Canada should be reorganized into six states: A central (or federal) state and the associated states of Quebec, Ontario, the Maritimes, the Prairies and British Columbia.

Dr. Giuseppe Turi said there should be a new constitution and that constitutional conflicts should be resolved by a "truly independent" commission.

Dr. Turi was speaking at the annual congress of the French-Canadian Association for the advancement of the sciences (l'Association Canadienne - Française pour l'Avancement des Sciences).

He said he believes it would be necessary to apply bilingualism "vigorously" in the federal field but that nothing at all would give Quebec a particular status. The new constitution, he said, should be both "rigid and elastic" so that there could be strong but adult collaboration between all parties.
