Johnny Bratton Is Fined $3,000

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Former welterweight champion Johnny Bratton was fined $3,000 Wednesday by the Pennsylvania state athletic commission for "not putting forth his best efforts" in a 10-round losing fight with Johnny Saxton last Feb. 24.

The penalty—third largest ever imposed by the commission in its 30-year existence—was announced by chairman Frank Wiener. It was imposed, Wiener said, after a telephoned discussion with the two other commissioners.

Murray A. Frank, general counsel for the International Boxing Managers' Guild of New York, who represented Bratton, said the action will be taken to court to "test the validity of the commission's action."

The fine is to be deducted from Bratton's share of his $4,770 purse which had been held the day after the fight. The commission's suspension of Bratton remained in effect.

The largest fine ever levied against a boxer by the commission was $5,000 against George Godfrey in 1930. The second largest was $3,500 against Joe Glick in the middle 1920s.

The second heat was a mere workout for Roll On. He trotted home far in front of the field. Calumet Baldwin edged out Dannie Rocket for second.

May Ask Russian Hockey Team To Visit Canada

MIDLAND, Ont., (CP)—Russia's Dynaplo hockey team, which defeated Canada's Toronto East York 7-2 in the final of the world hockey championship at Stockholm, may be asked to visit Canada for a cross-country series of games.

George Dudley, general manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said Wednesday he favors inviting the Russian team, but no action will be taken until the return from Sweden of W. B. George, CAHA president.

Mr. George is expected home later this week.

"In view of the current interest in the Russian hockey players, I think it would be a good financial proposition to have them here," said Mr. George. "We have considered the idea before of bringing over European teams, but the financial outlook has not been very bright. A visit by the Soviet players should be a sound proposition."

Doubleheader Hockey Game At North River

A doubleheader hockey game was played in North River last night when Dunstaffnage defeated Long Creek 5-1, and North River downed York 4-1.

Under the new rule, each NHL team on Aug. 31 of each year will be able to carry 18 players plus two goalies. The names of the 20 will be placed on a protective list. On the second week of September when the NHL's draft meeting is held, any club's players beyond the 20 will be subject to the draft for $15,000 each.

This includes players on minor league teams owned by major league clubs. The only exceptions to the rule are amateur players under 20 on Aug. 1 who are eligible for junior hockey.

Limited To 20 For every player a club claims for $15,000 and places on its protective list it must drop another player from its list. It cannot keep more than 20 players on the list. A player on a NHL club's protective list can not be sold, loaned or traded to a minor league team until he is offered at the $15,000 waiver price to the other clubs in the league. The last-place club at the time gets first crack at any player offered on waivers, then the next in the lowest and so on up the standings.

In the past, many players well qualified for the NHL have been kept down in the minors by clubs loaded with talent. Presently there is no limit on the number of times a player can be "loaned" to a minor club. This will be done away with when the lists are posted for the first time next Aug. 31.

Playoffs Arranged As usual, the playoff dates had to be set before the final four places could be determined. The season ends March 21. Each playoff series will be a best-of-seven set.

Series "A" will be between the first and third-place teams. As usual, Detroit wins and either Montreal or Toronto finishes third. The following dates were set: At Detroit, March 23, 25, April 1 and April 4 or 5.

At Montreal or Toronto, March 27, 30 and April 3.

Two At New York In series "B", if New York takes fourth place, it will have the first two dates at Madison Square Garden, March 23 and 25. The Garden will be occupied by the circus thereafter and all of the remaining Ranger games would be on the road.

If Boston plays Montreal, the dates will be: At Montreal, March 23, 25, April 1 and 4. At Boston, March 28, 30, and April 4.

No dates were arranged for a possible meeting between Boston and Toronto. League president Clarence Camp-

NHL Revises Regulations For Player Advancement

NEW YORK, (CP)—The National Hockey League Wednesday adopted sweeping legislation aimed at facilitating the advancement of players to the big league.

The action was taken by the league's board of governors to end the "covering up" of players in the minors who might be able to make the jump to the NHL.

At the same time, the governors set up tentative dates for the Stanley Cup playoffs beginning March 23.

Under the new rule, each NHL team on Aug. 31 of each year will be able to carry 18 players plus two goalies. The names of the 20 will be placed on a protective list. On the second week of September when the NHL's draft meeting is held, any club's players beyond the 20 will be subject to the draft for $15,000 each.
