

Cecil Dowling In Front In N. B.-P. E. I. Tourney

ADMUNDSTON, N.B. (CP) — Two long-hitting servicemen from the U.S. air force base at Limestone, Me., Charlie Fawcett and Dave Vandervoort were firmly established as the tournament favorites Tuesday as the second day of play in the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island amateur golf tournament drew to a close.

CECIL DOWLING

The two Americans brought powerful, accurate shots into play to share the amateur lead at 151 each at the end of 36 holes. This gave them a two-stroke lead over Ben Gray, Jr. of Edmundston, who is making an outstanding showing in his first year out of junior ranks.

While either Fawcett or Vandervoort could walk off with the championship today (Wednesday) Fawcett is considered to have a slight edge on the basis of a better all-around game. Vandervoort is long off the tee but lacks the short-game touch possessed by Fawcett.

In a spectacular comeback after a near disastrous opening 81, Fawcett turned in the most outstanding round of the day — a remarkable 70. He was straight and true off every tee and his pitches were singing straight to the pin. He putted for birdies on practically every hole.

Fawcett learned his golf in his home city of St. Louis and is a former Missouri State junior champion, while Vandervoort hails from Texas and hits a big Texas ball. A drive under 300 yards is considered a flub by the stouky Texan.

While the two golfers from Limestone are strongly favored on the strength of their showing in the first two days of the tournament, at least five other players are still well in the running. Ben Gray, Edmundston, is only two strokes back at 153, and right behind him are Frances Mavor, the Edmundston veteran, John Seaman, the power-hitter from Fredericton, and Don Mays, Edmundston, all at 154. Gene Mealey, Westfield's top golfer over a long period, also is strongly in contention at 155.

Cecil Dowling, the defending professional champion from Charlottetown, got back in the driver's seat Tuesday with a two-over-par 75 for a two-round total of 149. This gave him a slim, one-stroke lead over Alan Ogilvie of Moncton who turned in a 77 for a two-round total of 150. In third position among the professionals is Pete Kelly, the Bathurst professional, who had a 77 Tuesday for a 158 total.

Young David Irving of Fredericton all but sewed up the junior championship when he scored an 83 in his second round.

Top Wrestlers Appear At Civic Stadium Tonight

It's wrestling night tonight at Civic Stadium. Promoter Charlie Hogan has lined up a card for tonight's fans that should top all others. The great Antonio mighty man of muscle and Farmer Powell will be but two of the attractions. To see the great Antonio handle two wrestlers at a time will be worth the price of admission alone. Fantastic indeed are the stories told about Antonio and Farmer Powell as well as if half of them are true they should put on a spectacular performance.

Little Leaguers Get Underway

Charlottetown's Little League teams have all held practice sessions, and will begin play for the City Title. The various teams were formerly known by numbers but in future will be called by names. Team No. 1 will be known as the Braves; team No. 2 as Dodgers; team No. 3 as Red Sox; team No. 4 as Yanks and team No. 5 as Tigers.

Two games will be played every morning from Monday to Friday. There will also be practice sessions or a game daily for minor leaguers.

Following is the first section of league schedule starting today: July 9 — Braves vs. Dodgers; Red Sox vs. Tigers.

July 10 — Tigers vs. Yanks; Red Sox vs. Dodgers.
July 11 — Braves vs. Tigers; Red Sox vs. Yanks.

Carter, Valdes Meet Tonight

SPOKANE (AP) — High-powered Harold Carter meets big Nino Valdes here tonight on the rocky road to heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson.

Carter, 24, is figured to have too much speed for the bulky Cuban who at 38 will have to make his big move fast.

Wins Ladies' Golf Tourney

SAINTE JOHN (CP) — Riverside Golf and Country Club's Mrs. C. L. Urquhart won her first major championship Tuesday when she captured the New Brunswick ladies golf tournament on her home course.

Steady golf off the tee and a potent putter gave Mrs. Urquhart her second consecutive round of 91 and a total of 182, one lower than defending champion Mary Ellen Driscoll who lost her chances for her fourth straight title when she missed five-foot putts on the last two greens.

Three Veteran Golfers Honored

EDMUNDSTON (CP) — Three veteran members of the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island Golf Association were honored by the association at its annual dinner.

Named honorary life members were Frank N. Robertson, Saint John, Walter F. Wheeler, Moncton, and Dr. E. O. Turner, Fredericton. All three are former presidents, and Mr. Robertson and Dr. Turner also have held the presidency of the Royal Canadian Golf Association.

None of the three were able to be present, and the special certificates were accepted on their behalf by James F. Foster for Mr. Robertson, John Wolstenholme for Mr. Wheeler, and Dr. J. W. Sears for Dr. Turner.

President Of Golf Ass'n. Is Re-elected

EDMUNDSTON, N.B. (CP) — Ivan C. Stairs, Bathurst, was re-elected president of the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island Golf Association at the annual meeting Tuesday.

Ball Games This Evening

Two City Softball League games are scheduled for this evening at 6 o'clock.

Down The Back Stretch

A friend of this column has sent us a program of last Thursday night's races at Blue Bonnets Raceway, Montreal. It was Ted Genesee night. That's our opinion, and also, no doubt, the opinion of G. M. Henderson, his owner. For in the eighth race, for trotters, purse $2,000, Ted Genesee won in 2:06.25.

Trouble. Previous to that, on earlier programs, he had won several times with his fastest mile in 2:08.35.

Ted Genesee was purchased at the Harrisburg sale a few years ago by Roy Bevan of Charlottetown. He was a good winner in 1956, and on August 5, 1957 at Charlottetown, he won the junior free-for-all trot and pace, purse $600, in 2:10 and 2:11.3-5. It was Continued on Page 12)

American League Squad Captures All-Star Game

BALTIMORE (AP) — Casey Stengel dug into his Yankee-loaded bench for a pinch single by Gil McDougald Tuesday to give his American League forces a 4-3 victory over the Nationals in the 25th all-star game.

Roundly booed when he yanked Baltimore's Gus Triandos, the starting catcher, for Yogi Berra of his New York Yankees who popped out on the first pitch, Stengel quickly made amends by calling for Baltimore's Billy O'Dell to shut the door on the Nationals in the last three innings.

Slippy pitching by starter Bob Turley of the Yankees gave way to brilliant work by Ray Narleski of Cleveland. Early Wynn of Chicago and O'Dell who retired the last 15 batters in succession. The Nationals were held hitless in the last 6 2-3 innings.

STENDEL STRATEGY

Tied 3-3 going into the last of the sixth with Bob Friend of Pittsburgh pitted against Wynn, the Americans quickly saluted it away as Casey went to his bench.

The American League, which owns a 15-10 edge in the series, now has won two in a row. Frank Malzone, Boston's fine third baseman, led off with a single to left and Stengel went into his act.

A deep-throated roar of boos spilled forth from all corners of the stadium when Triandos, the local boy who made good as the starting catcher, was called back from the next batter's circle and Berra emerged from the dugout to face Friend.

Yogi took one swing and the ball struck high to Pittsburgh's Frank Thomas at third base. You should have heard the roar.

Ted Williams of Boston, appearing in his 14th all-star game, batted next for shortstop Luis Aparicio of Chicago White Sox. Williams looked at a strike, took a ball and rapped a hopper toward third baseman Thomas. The ball seemed to snag in Thomas' glove as he cut across to make the play and he never could get it out in time to make a play on Malzone at second or
