New Baptist Church Is Dedicated Sunday

Thousands of people gathered on Sunday at both the morning and evening Services of Dedication in the newly finished edifice of the First Baptist Church of Charlottetown. The Pastor, Rev. H.L. Meiton, welcomed the large number of people who had come to mark the Opening. Through means of a public address system, the services were carried to those who sat in the chapel, the foyer, and the church hall, on the ground floor area.

Dr. I. Judson Levy, St. Catharines, Ontario was Guest Preacher at the morning service, speaking on the subject "The Church, The Building of God". Dr. Levy spoke of the long history of the Baptist Church in Charlottetown and of the happy years he served the congregation from 1940 to 1947. The Rev. George Allen, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Truro and a Past President of the Maritime United Baptist Convention spoke at the evening service, taking as his subject "Hands Under The Wings", and the guest soloist for the day was Mr. Corey Smith, A.R.C.M. of Moncton, who was also heard in a sacred recital following the evening service, assisted by Mrs. V. Leigh Dingwell at the organ.

MEMORIAL WINDOW — During the morning service, the P.A. Webster memorial window was unveiled and dedicated. Mrs. Wayne MacDonald, at the request of Mrs. Webster, took part in the unveiling ceremony. The interpretation of the J.A. Webster Memorial Window is as follows:

This beautiful memorial window which adds so much to the church area, depicts Jesus Christ, the Living Lord. The scene is that of His Resurrection Glory. With the occurrence of a great earthquake, angels had descended from Heaven, and having rolled away the stone, now hover about, radiant with unearthly brightness. A miraculous splendour dissipates the prevailing darkness, and fills the soldiers of the guard with terror. One holds up his hand to protect himself against imaginary danger and utters a loud cry of alarm. Another raises his arm in self-defence and a third, who has unsheathed his sword, has no power to use it, but lies almost paralyzed upon the ground.

Even the angels cannot witness the mysterious scene with unconcern. They behold with intense amazement his unparalleled demonstration of power on the part of the Prince of Life, whose appearance is that of a triumphant conqueror. Grasping the banner that symbolizes the combination of suffering and victory, Christ rises majestically from his resting place. His countenance gleams with gratitude and joy, and with one hand raised in blessing, He welcomes the life He again enjoys and gives expression to the thankfulness that animates Him. His attitude indicates, too, His glad knowledge of the fact that this resurrection is but the first stage in His glorification. His course now is to be an ever-ascending one. He is now reading His upward way, and is drawing near the Throne.

The resurrection of Christ is at once the type of that spiritual renewal which takes place in every believing soul, and the pledge of that corporeal one, the assertion of which is amongst the most characteristic features of the Christian faith.

As part of the Sunday morning service, the following took part in the ceremony of the presentation of the church keys: the contractor, B.D. Stevens; the architect, Keith Pickard; the chairman of the Building Committee, Nelson Good; the chairman of the Board of Trustees, Robert Nicholson.

Randolph Buchanan, Eldon; David Paul Cudmore, Charlottetown; Kent George Ellis, Souris; John Martin Gillis, Flat River; William Allen MacCannell, Charlottetown; Stephen Clair MacLeod, Bonshaw; Robert Forsyth Nelson, B. Sc., Charlottetown. Doctor of Dental Surgery: John Preston MacIntyre, B.A., Montague; David Russell Moore, B. Sc., Albion. Pharmacy Diploma: Justin Urbin McNeill, Wellington.

West May Ask Reds To Institute Spy Ban

By ARTHUR GAVSHON GENEVA (AP) — The West is thinking of asking Russia to join in a ban of spies and propagandists from Berlin as part of a stop-gap arrangement in that disputed city.

The possible move, reported by Western officials, would be a concession to the Soviet Union. Premier Nikita Khrushchev has said the Western Allies use West Berlin as an anti-Communist espionage and propaganda centre. That was one reason he gave for demanding last November that West Berlin become a free city.

The big four are expected to arrange secret talks within a week on the beginnings of a revised status for Berlin, pending a wider German peace settlement. Officials said this is being planned as a first step toward a Berlin truce, which they believe might be concluded at the East-West summit conference proposed by the Soviet Union.

CHATTING PRIOR to the annual Garrison Sergeants' Mess banquet held at the Community Centre last night are Sergeant

Colonel Rogers Speaks At Sergeants' Dinner

Colonel A.W. Rogers, commanding officer of 2 Militia Group was guest speaker at the annual Garrison Sergeants' Mess banquet held last night at the Community Centre.

Colonel Rogers reviewed the new role which the militia will play now that it has been integrated into the civil defence picture. Colonel Rogers told the couples in attendance that there will be no sweeping changes in militia organization.

He said tanks would be retained by the militia and its signals and medical units and the provost corps would be left intact.

The officials, meantime, gave an outline in the sort of new Berlin regime they intend putting forward to Russia:

1. A new Berlin statute spelling out Western rights of access to and from the city, which lies 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain. The Soviet Union would be called to underwrite it. The hope is that Western rights and responsibilities would be clarified and strengthened.

2. The United States and Britain hope for the backing of the reluctant French and West Germans to propose a definite role for the United Nations in seeing fair play in the city. A UN commissioner-general for Berlin might be suggested as a means of internationalizing some of the responsibility for the city's status. UN teams would be assigned by the commissioner-general to exercise a supervisory role along the access routes.

Entertainment included Vocal solos by Kay Gallant and Amby Weatherbie and an army skit in which pans were taken by Ivan Doherty, Lorne MacGuigan, Amby Weatherbie and Mel MacFadyen.

Dinner music was supplied by Al Blanchard at the piano and the lobster dinner was served by members of the Holy Redeemer parish council of the Catholic Women's League.

The toast to the Queen was proposed by Staff Sergeant Ivan Vessey and a vote of thanks to the ladies and entertainers was made by WO J.T. Place.

3. The West would accept East German officials as "agents" of the Soviet Union in the job of controlling traffic along the air, land and water routes. This already has been done by East Germans for some years.

As of now the Western Allies still are formally committed to their proposal—which tops their package plan for an over-all German settlement — for a united Berlin.

This foresees a freely-elected city council running all Berlin under big four supervision. The East German Communist regime would have to move out of East Berlin.

The West privately concedes there is little or no hope of the Russians accepting this plan. They have begun, therefore, to prepare for talks with the Russians that would give Berlin a special new status for the time being.
