Vote On Regional High Plan Is Slated Tonight

Voting will be carried out tonight in 50 to 60 school districts, within a 15 to 18 mile radius of Charlottetown, on the idea of promoting a regional high school unit that would likely be centered in the Charlottetown area.

Complete results of the voting may not be known for upwards of a week, it was estimated by Malcolm Mackenzie, deputy minister of education, who said that has been the usual experience in votes of this kind.

Car Raised From Harbor

Police Chief Sterns Webster reported last evening that the 1952 Buick car, which plunged into Charlottetown harbor Sunday morning was recovered and raised shortly before 7 p.m. yesterday.

CITY RUSHES PARKING METER BYLAW

An emergency session of the City Council yesterday gave a first reading to a new bylaw to legalize the city's new parking meters which have already been in operation for about a week or more.

Car Raised From Harbor

The sunken vehicle was discovered by Evan Andrews, local skiver, in about 40 feet of water and some 30 feet out from the shore and it was hoisted to dry land by a large mobile hoist from Murphy's service station. The car is reported to be owned by Charles Curtis of Charlottetown.

NEW TUGS TAKE REFUGE HERE

Two brand new tugs, the Foundation Vigor and Foundation Viscount, built at Devils Shipyards, Lauzon, Que., are undergoing a forced stay in Charlottetown. The two vessels, part of the modernization program of the Foundation Maritime Towing Company of Halifax, were enroute to their home port, when ice in Northumberland Strait forced them to tie up here a week ago last Sunday. Originally it was planned to resume their voyage to Halifax the middle of last week, but damage to the fuel system of the Vigor, resulted in the extended stay due to parts having to be brought in from Nova Scotia.

LABOR AND MANAGEMENT CO-OPERATIONS OBJECTIVE

"The government of Canada has been doing its utmost for many years to create a climate of feeling that will speed maturity in our industrial relations, thereby assisting labor and management to overcome traditional past enmities, resolve differences—at least to the extent of jointly refusing to jeopardize the common welfare—and press on toward goals of security and prosperity which are not only achievable in harmony, never in disharmony," said Gordon J. Cushing, local secretary of the union, at a meeting of the 14th Overseas Battalion Association held yesterday in the Charlottetown Hotel.

LABOR AND MANAGEMENT CO-OPERATIONS OBJECTIVE

"Among the key reasons for the growing stir of interest in labor and management during the past year is the now general recognition of the importance of the partnership between them," said Mr. Cushing, who is also a deputy minister of labor, Ottawa, in addressing Rotarians yesterday. The luncheon meeting was held at the Charlottetown Hotel.

LABOR AND MANAGEMENT CO-OPERATIONS OBJECTIVE

"The role of government should be in creating a proper climate by advising and outlining national economic goals, according to a survey conducted by the National Industrial Conference Board, in this country," Mr. Cushing stated.

LABOR AND MANAGEMENT CO-OPERATIONS OBJECTIVE

"The speaker estimated that the partnership proclaimed their willingness for co-operation. "In fact they voiced their impatience that more was not being done. There has been enough talk, he said, 'Can't we get a little action?'"
