CALL AT OUR OFFICE and see the entertaining and finely illustrated McCLURE'S MAGAZINE, which has among its contributors the most famous authors in America and England, including R. L. Stevenson, Rudyard Kipling, A. Conan Doyle, Octave Thanet, William Dean Howells, Bret Harte, Clark Russell, Joe Chandler Har- rington, Thomas Hardy, J. T. Fowler, Jerome K. Jerome, Frances Hodgson Burnett, Theodore Roosevelt, Joaquin Miller, Gilbert Parker, John Burroughs, Hamlin Car- stand, Prof. E. S. Holden, Prof. C. A. Young, H. H. Boyesen, Robert Barr, Henry M. Stanley, Archibald Forbes, Andrew Lang, and many others.

Each number of McCLURE'S MAGAZINE contains two illustrated interviews with famous people. Jules Verne, Frances Hodgson Burnett, Tiesandier, the famous French Balloonist, Arceleacon Farrar, Thomas A. Edison, F. Hopkinson Smith, H. H. Boyesen, Alphonse Duclot, Camille Flammarion, Edward Everett Hale, Professor Graham Bell and many others, have furnished material for especially prepared inter- views, which will appear fully illustrated in this magazine.

HENRY M. STANLEY will contribute, especially for young readers, a story of AFRICAN ADVENTURE.

NATURAL HISTORY AND ADVENTURE.—There will be several articles written by Raymond B. Blodgett, who has been called by Mr. W. T. Stead the best interviewer in England, from material furnished him by Carl Hagenbeck, of Hamburg, the great animal importer and trainer. These articles deal with the Capture of Wild Beasts, the Training of Wild Beasts, the Transportation of Wild Beasts, the Ad- ventures and Escapes of Carl Hagenbeck. The series will be illustrated by an English artist of great skill in drawing animals.

JOHN BURROUGHS, C. F. HOLDER, DR. C. C. ABBOTT, and other writers famous for their work in this field, will contribute to the Magazine.

OF interest to both Young and Old will be PROF. R. L. GARNER'S AFRICAN EXPEDITION TO THE GORILLAS. Arrangements have been made, in connection with a leading English review, to publish Professor Garner's letters descriptive of his present expedition to Africa. Professor Garner is noted the world over for the curious and interesting investigations he is making in the speech of monkeys. He sailed for Africa last September for the purpose of further pursuing his studies in the native haunts of the gorilla. The illustrations of these articles will be from photographs taken by Prof. Garner in Africa.

McCLURE'S MAGAZINE also contains most interesting articles under the heads: 'The Edge of the Future,' 'Newest Knowledge,' 'Knowledge of Immediate Value,' 'The Present Hour,' 'Stranger than Fiction,' etc.

We are offering this splendid Magazine with THE DAILY EXAMINER for only $4.00 a year, payable in advance or in monthly instalments of 35c, as desired.

HEALTHFUL PLEASING RELIEF AFTER MANY DAYS.

How a Queens County Man Found Permanent Healing.

His Own Experience Tells Fully and Truly some Truths which all Readers of this Paper Should Know.

Here and there, in almost every town of our province, are "chronic" cases over which doctors disagree; cases that become worse year after year. It is to reach such the gentleman to whom these lines refer, and whose portrait is here given, has written the story of his case.

Mr. Branscomb's home is a Chipman, Queens Co., N. B. It was there that a representative of the Groder company called upon him, Sept. 1st, of the present year. His greeting was most cordial. He gladly acknowledged his thanks, giving expression to the following statement:

"It is five years since I first became afflicted with a form of indigestion. Last winter it became more severe, developing into chronic diarrhoea. I cannot tell you how much I suffered or how long it lasted. It seemed as though relief could not be found. You will remember how I told you of my condition and asked your advice about taking a bottle of GRODER'S SYRUP. You told me that the medicine was a laxative and might not meet my needs. I delayed buying for a few hours until I began to hope that it would help me. Even my clothes seemed a burden because of bloating of stomach. It was with difficulty that I kept about sufficiently to attend to my business.

But I am a well man now from the use of your remedy. In three days after I bought GRODER'S SYRUP the terrible pain and distress across my stomach were removed. My bowels rapidly assumed a natural, healthy condition. Now I eat and drink as well as I ever could. I have gained constantly in flesh since March last. I am perfectly cured. It seems a duty for me to state my case fully, that others who suffer as I did may know where to find a cure."

Truly yours, E. A. BRANSCOMB.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

REMOVED, Me., Oct. 23.—The Kennebec County Advent Christian Conference closed here this afternoon after a three days session. Prominent addresses were present at the conference, and the doctrine of the immediate personal second coming of our Lord has been emphasized in all their preaching. The conference is said to have been the most profitable one held in many years.

DOMINION OF CANADA, Province of Prince Edward Island IN CHANCERY.

Before the Master of the Rolls, LUCRETIA G. YOUNG, Widow, Deceased and EXECUTRIX, Complainant, and JOHN DODD and OTHERS, Defendants.

Whereas by an order made in this cause by the Master of the Rolls on the 25th day of August, A. D. 1893, it was referred to me, as Master of the Rolls, to take an account of the personal estate and effects of which the late Mrs. Charles Young, Deceased, was possessed, or to which he was entitled, at the time of his decease, also of the debts and liabilities owing to and by the said testator at the time of his decease, and that I should cause to be published in the Royal Gazette and such other papers as I should think fit an advertisement, calling upon all persons claiming in respect of any such debts or liabilities, other than those already duly published to the Executrix of the testator, to come in before me, and prove such debts and claims, and that I should fix a preceptory day for that purpose, and that such of the creditors as should not come in and prove their debts and claims by the time so to be fixed, should be excluded from the benefit of the order of the 25th day of August, A. D. 1893.

Dated at Charlottetown, this nineteenth day of September, A. D. 1893.

IN ENTERTAINING

Do Not Be Too Hospitable, at Least Not at First.

Many a pretty little home has been broken up and the domestic Lares and Penates scattered, not to the winds because, as the young folks ruefully put it, "we were simply run to death with company." Visitors are costly luxuries, and in houses where every expense had to be calculated down to the finest detail, an extra one or two to meals or to spend a few days beneath the roof-tree means an outlay that sometimes makes severe inroads into the little store laid up for a rainy day.

Young housekeepers in the flush of their first month or so of happiness in their new home will invite their friends indiscriminately to come and see them and argue with them, when they come, a quiet and generous fashion that what is enough for two will amply supply any additional ones that may drop in for luncheon or dinner.

This sort of thing is all right enough in a while. A home would not be a home if it were not the place where one could receive friends and show to those outside the ken of the domestic circle what a delightful thing it is to have one's own little house. When visitors come in droves, bringing trunks that indicate a lengthy stay, the worried housekeeper soon discovers that the allowance for company does not go half so far, and that the bill at the grocer's and butcher's run up with alarming rapidity.

If one is rich, of course, this added expense is of no consequence, but is not to them that we speak, but to those who wish to be hospitable, but whose purse limits them on this line as well as many others. In order to obviate much of the trouble that comes from an overdose of company, the hostess should at the beginning, tell her friends that when she is ready for them she will invite them, and when the time arrives she should in her own gracious, womanly way let them know how long a stay she has made preparations for. The casual visitor, or those who drop in for evening calls, are, of course, not included in this. It is only those who come for days at a time, and if they are as friendly as they profess to be they will understand the motive in their invitation and will be kind-hearted and considerate enough to regard it to the letter.

Such a plan as this if adopted and followed with a thorough understanding on both sides would make home life far more pleasant and prove that optional hospitality is one of the greatest pleasures of domesticity, instead of being the cause of a break-up, as so generous doses of visitors are frequently apt to be.

Stringless Bonnet. Small stringless bonnet, pointed crown of jet set on narrow bands of brown beaver, black military aigrette, shot with mauve pink, shading to pale pink.—Fashion of To-day.

It is Digestible, Nutritive and Altogether Wholesome.

During the warm days and cool nights which are prevalent now we have so many warnings against eating uncooked fruit that it is a pleasure to know that so good a fruit as the grape is not only not dangerous, but is prescribed as especially healthful and strengthening. "Eaten with other suitable food in quantities from one or two pounds daily, they increase nutrition, promote secretion and excretion, improve the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, and add to health. The sugar of the grape requires no digestion, but is taken almost at once into the blood, where it renders up its force as nutriment moderately, with a suitable diet, they will not produce cathartic effects, but a more natural action of the bowels, so important to health; or if eaten in large quantities they are generally laxative." What more could one ask of a fruit than that it should be both luscious and health-giving?—Memorex.

Deservedly Popular.

Our readers have no doubt read with interest the despatches almost weekly appearing in this and other Canadian journals regarding cures of a most startling nature made by Dodd's Kidney Pills. These pills have proven themselves to be a certain cure for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, rheumatism, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, etc.

Enquiry amongst local druggists elicits the fact that they have a very large sale and are an infallible cure for kidney disorders.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold everywhere, or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50.
