

Casey Stengel Fires Blasts At NY Players And Coaches

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—New York Yankee manager Casey Stengel is firing clubhouse blasts at players and coaches who he says haven't been following his advice, the Newark News said Thursday.

News sports writer Paul Horwitz said in a story from New York that the latest outburst came after Wednesday night's 4-3 win over the last place Washington Senators.

Rookie relief pitcher Jim Coates ignored Stengel's orders to take a full windup with men on base in the ninth inning of the night baseball game.

Although Coates got out of it, Stengel went into a long diatribe against Yankees who have been ignoring him during the long sad season which finds the world champions in third place, 15 1/2 games off the pace.

Casey then went to work on infielders Tony Kubek and Bobby Richardson:

"Those two think they can hit the ball out of the park every time they come to bat and they swing for the fences. I tell 'em to push the ball. Hit to the opposite field. They better do what I say or they won't be around."

Stengel also singled out pitching coach Jim Turner and pitchers Whitey Ford, Don Larsen and Bob Turley for criticism.

and a single by Sam Gregory. Pineau, however, walked none and struck out two.

The fielding gems of the game were the blocking of two line drives by first-sacker George Bradley of the Aces.

This contest will be completed on Saturday afternoon with another game, if necessary, immediately following.

who singled in Wednesday night's game.

"He's beaten our brains out by hitting the inside ball," Stengel growled. "And I been telling the pitchers to brush him back, then throw outside."

His last bit of post-game advice was reserved for Mickey Mantle, his slumping outfielder:

"I don't want him to look at recent pictures of himself because he'll only see how lousy he is. But he ought to take a lot of batting practice."

SCORE KNOTTED 5-ALL

Thrilling Game Halted In 7th

This Aces-Lions series for the City softball crown is the most thrilling seen in years.

A game, called off Wednesday night on account of darkness in the second inning with the score reading 5-4 for the Lions, was interrupted for the second time last night in the bottom of the seventh inning with the score knotted at 5-all.

This is do-or-die for the Lions as they are trailing 3 games to 1 in the best of seven series. A win for the Aces will give them the title.

The Aces tied the game up in the third inning. McCallum, the first man up, got walked and in turn stole second. Lester Taylor, the next batter, flew out to right field, enabling McCallum to get around to third. Coach Irving MacKinnon smashed a grounder to second and the second-sacker made the play to first enabling the runner at third to get home and knot the score.

It was a pitcher's duel from there on, a speedball artist against a slower and craftier moundsman.

The Aces were unable to get a hit off the Lion's moundsman, fastballer Vince Bradley. However Bradley was slightly wild on occasions, walking four. He also sent three down via the strike-out route.

His mound opponent, Ralph Pineau, who recently hurled a 13-inning tilt and won 3-2, was tagged for two hits, a shallow double by Angie Carroll, who poked one into the wrong field.
