TORONTO

TORONTO (CP)—Torrid trading in speculative mining issues hoisted the stock market to its greatest volume in six weeks Tuesday, despite the market's general decline.

Recent favorites played second fiddle to little-known stocks as Northgate ranked sixth on the exchange's most active list.

Volume leaders were Wayne Petroleum, Werner, Atlin, Ruffner, Iso Mines, Head of the Lakes and Northgate.

Lake Dufault was well behind, although it gained 85 cents on the day to $7.50. Northgate retreated from Monday's gains, dropping 55 cents to $5.85. Iso Mines went down 11 cents to $1.47 after climbing as high as $1.77.

Industrials were hard hit by losses, with banks and foods issues suffering most. Bank of Nova Scotia dropped 1½, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce one point and Royal Bank ½. Loblaws B declined ¼, as did Oshawa Wholesale A, while Westons B fell one point.

Biggest drop of the day went to U.S. Ford, down five points to 110 in light turnover. General Dynamic went down three points also in light trading.

On the exchange index, industrials slipped 1.48 to 617.69 and base metals .11 at 213.50. Western oils climbed .45 at 119.02 and golds .52 at 91.87.

Closing volume was 7,068,000 shares compared with Monday's 6,291,000, Tuesday's volume was the highest since Nov. 30 when 7,620,000 shares were traded

Base metal were weakened by losses to Falconbridge, Hudson Bay Mining and International Nickel, all off in a ¼ to ⅜ range.

Home A and B led western oils higher with gains of ⅝.

Rare Japanese Plants Are National Treasure

By KAY TATEISHI

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—On a sunny day the ball-shaped fresh water plants lazily plop to the surface of placid Lake Akan, get their supply of air, and sink again to the lake bottom.

Known as Marimo or "ball-weed," the strange, agile botanical spheres are found only in one remote corner of Hokkaido's Lake Akan, where they attract thousands of visitors annually.

The rare fresh water plants, which make the elevator - like descent several times a day, are dark and sponge-like with a velvety green color and range in size from a green olive to an unripe orange. They were first discovered by Dr. Kingo Miyabe in 1897.

One of Japan's most popular botanical phenomena, they have inspired many romantic Japanese to name their tea houses coffee shops and restaurants "Marimo."

Shocked by careless tourists pilfering the plants from Lake Akan and afraid they might become extinct since they were not multiplying, the Japanese government in 1952 designated them a botanical "national treasure."

Taking the plants from the lake or possession of them now is barred by law.

CAME TO CANADA

In 1956, the Marimo threatened to spark an international controversy. Six of the plants were presented to the Vancouver aquarium as a goodwill gift from Japan. Few Marimo have been given to anyone.

A Canadian deputy fisheries minister moved to deny the strange ball - weeds entry by labelling them a potential pest to Canada's fishing industry. The Marimo likely were granted a clean bill of health when it was shown they do not propagate outside of Lake Akan and do not thrive in salt water, where the Vancouver aquarium tanks are drained. The plants died within a year or two.

The rare ball-weeds are admired for their rich color, shape and agility. Many persons once believed the Marimo, whenever they plopped to the surface, were forecasting good weather.

Actually their appearance is a sign the weather already is good. Sunlight affects the buoyancy of the Marimos through the process of photosynthesis by which plants convert light energy into oxygen and food.

At night the Marimos stay on the bottom. On sunny days they surface. When it's cloudy, they linger in between.

Voluntary Sterilization Seen Possible Indian Development

LONDON (AP)—A Church of England committee says today it believes voluntary sterilization may be a legitimate method of combatting overpopulation in such countries as India.

The committee's aim was to give guidance to Christian doctors and nurses who might be asked to co-operate in this campaign. At the same time it considered whether sterilization might be employed in western countries to eliminate habitual sex offenders. Its conclusion on this point was:

"We find no place for compulsory sterilization imposed either penally or for the protection of society or the genetic improvement of the human race."

PERSUASION POLICY

The report said in India a responsible government is pursuing a policy of persuasion for voluntary sterilization. It added:

"Asked by Christian doctors and nurses for help in deciding for themselves how far they can co - operate, we are bound to conclude that we find no grounds on which to reply in terms of an absolute negative.

"The Church of England does not claim to be infallible, and it may err. But it does believe in progressive revelation under the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

"And we believe that light on this question is slowly dawning, and we are prepared tentatively to express the opinion that there are circumstances in which an operation for sterilization may be legitimately employed."

The commitee said, however, it saw serious moral danger in any campaign of propaganda in favor of sterilization, particularly when backed by monetary inducements.

At least four Indian states have launched sterilization programs. One, Kerala, offers $25 to men and women who choose to be sterilized.

The Bishop of Exeter, Rt. Rev. Robert Mortimer, was chairman of the Anglican committee.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.
