that they are blind to their faults. At 16 you are still young enough to be plastic and you can practically make yourself what you will. Don't despair because you are unattractive at 16. That is the ugly age. Many a girl who is an ugly duckling at 16 turns into a glorious swan by the time she is 20.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: You speak of women taking an interest in their husbands' affairs—reading good books and keeping themselves well informed in current events so as not to fall below their husbands' standards of intelligence. What about the husbands who do not keep up with their wives, who never read anything but the headlines and the comic strips in the papers or a detective story? What about the men who slump intellectually after marriage? DISGUSTED WIFE.

ANSWER: What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, and if marriage is to be made a success it is just as important for the husband to make himself an interesting companion to his wife as it is for her to be good company to him.

Of course, heretofore the idea has always been that women, spending most of their time in their own homes and having fewer outside contacts with the world than men, must make an effort to keep up with their husbands. But nowadays, what with the majority of girls staying in school as long as boys, and most women belonging to study clubs and book clubs, the shoe is on the other foot, and it is husbands who have to make an effort to keep up with their wives.

But in any case husbands and wives should try to grow together, to keep step with each other, for it is a tragedy when either outgrows the other.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am engaged to a young man who is everything that is fine and desirable, but he says that while he is deeply in love with me, he loves his mother better than he loves me. I like his mother very much, but I am not sure our marriage will be a success if I have the feeling that I take second place in my husband's heart. Should I overlook this for all of his virtues, or would it make a difference to me? UNDECIDED.

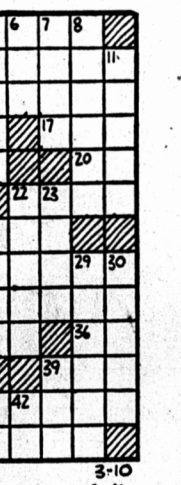

ANSWER: Before I married the young man I would try to decide just how much of a mother complex he really has, and particularly about how much his mother encourages him in his making her the center of his universe. If she is one of the women who are determined always to be first with their sons, then I should say let him stay with mother. She will never cut her apron strings and he will always be more married to mother than to his wife.

Farm Prices And Markets

The following details on potato prices at various points in the Province are from the weekly marketing report of the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

At O'Leary — No seed moving. Tablestock — 46c per bus. ungraded at the warehouse.

At Wellington — Seed — Cobblers 70c per bus. at the car. Slow movement. Tablestock — 44c per bus. at the car with a quiet movement.

At Summerside — Seed — Cobblers 70c per bus. at the car with a fair movement. No. 2 Sebagoes 60c per bus. with a slight movement. Tablestock — 40c per bus. Considerable quantity moving.

On the Borden Line — Seed — Mountains 45c-48c per bus. at the car with a slow movement. Tablestock — There is no tablestock moving.

At Hunter River — Seed — There is no definite price and a slow movement. Tablestock — 44c per bus. at the car.

Charlottetown — Seed — Cobblers 72c-75c per bus. at the car with other varieties at tablestock prices. Tablestock — 44c-48c per bus. at the car with a fair movement.

At Vernon River — No movement of either seed or tablestock because of car shortage.

At Cardigan — Seed — Slow movement with prices indefinite. Tablestock — 43c-45c per bus. at the car with a slow movement.

At Elmira — Seed — Katahdins No. 1's 50c, No. 2's 30c per bus. at the car. Cobblers No. 1's and No. 2's 70c with a fair movement. Tablestock — There is none to ship.

Turnips

Turnip prices seem to be up a little bit, and a quotation of from 75c to 80c per bushel at the car has been reported. At Cardigan the price of turnips is 63c at the car. We have had some inquiries this morning for turnips and it would almost appear as if the supply is running downward.

Feeds

Information on feeds this week shows a strengthening in price. Wednesday night's closing price on No. 1 oats was $2.83 1/2 per cwt. by the carlot in comparison with last week's price of $2.72. This would mean a retail price for whole oats of $3.10.

No. 1 barley is $2.86 1/2 in comparison with last week's price of $2.76, or a retail price of $3.20. The market is apparently strong, and there is a feeling that, with trading conditions unfavourable in the West, the price picture may not improve until after the opening of navigation. Bran and other mill feeds are up about $1.00 per ton.

There is some confusion regarding the new freight increase and its effect on prices. It is felt by some that this may mean another small increase. We might point out that freight increases will have a definite relationship to the price of protein and other mill feeds besides grain.

Hay

Hay is beginning to move a little more freely but the price remains practically the same at $16.00 per ton to the farmer at the car. This is for good quality hay.

Livestock

According to present prices hogs would seem to be down about 20c on Grades A and B on both markets, with sows remaining steady.

The following is the detail on livestock prices at Moncton and Charlottetown this week:

At Moncton — Hogs: Grade A 27.00; B1 26.00. No. 1 sows 16.00; No. 2 sows 15.00 not dressed weight delivered.

At Charlottetown — Hogs: F.O.B. country points. Grade A 26.00; B1 25.50. No. 1 sows 15.00; No. 2 sows 14.00.

A Feature For Every Friday Among The Farmers Federation Of Agriculture News

Returns Pouring In

The ballots on the vote respecting marketing boards are beginning to flow in from the district secretaries. They are being deposited in a ballot box and will be opened and listed by a committee after the closing date on March 20th.

We hope every district where their meetings were postponed will arrange to hold them now and contact all the farmers who did not attend.

There has been no closing date set for membership but, in order to get cards out and agreements to the different creameries and organizations, they should be completed some time this month.

If there are any districts who have not held a meeting or need help, it is suggested that you get in touch with your local County Director or write direct to the Federation office.

Marketing Developments

We note with interest, where a group of our Island potato dealers and shippers have organized a Provincial marketing organization for potatoes and turnips. We are not too clear and have not been able to quite find out the details of their aims, objectives or policies.

However, if, and when this new organization, which seems to have emerged as a result of the farmers taking action on their own, share its policies to be in the best interests of all, we feel our produce industry will be on a sounder basis. We must not forget however, that farm producers, not dealers, have been challenged by the Dominion Government and have been given legislation after pressing for it for many years.

Under their own control to regulate the marketing of their own products, which they themselves produce and own. Our directors are always pleased to negotiate or co-operate with any group or person in working out the best solution to any farm problem.

We have word from the New Brunswick Potato Growers' Council that a vote of the producers in their potato growing areas has resulted in 83.3 per cent of the producers voting in favor of a producer controlled marketing Board plan. This is counting those farmers who were eligible but did not vote.

They are now waiting for the co-operation and support of Island and Nova Scotia growers.

We trust our Federation leaders in the school districts will make every possible effort within the next few days to get the farmers vote completed because if any definite action can be taken for another year, both your directors and the Government must have the voice and assurance of the farmers.

Then if your Federation is to be in a position to follow up these Dairying There were no changes in the official butter prices from Nova Scotia during the past week. The Creamery Association from that province quoted 63c f.o.b. Halifax — wholesale; local jobbing 66c.

On this market, as we have already stated, butter has been sold at a much lower price and it has been proven by contact with former buyers.

Under date of March 3rd, butter was quoted at the Montreal market at 60c for No. 1 solids delivered and on the Toronto market on the same date — 60c.

There were no changes in the creamery butter prices on the New Brunswick market during the past week. Creameries to wholesalers — one and two pound flats 62 1/2c. Wholesale to retail stores 64c.

The prices quoted for the Charlottetown market are: Wholesale 60c f.o.b. Charlottetown. Local Jobbing 61c.

During the past week information was received from the chairman of the Dairy Products Board stating that the Agricultural Price Support Board is offering approximately ten million pounds of butter for export from stocks now being held in storage. It is understood that some progress has been made in exporting this amount of butter.

Wool

The latest reports on wool indicate a market that is steadily strengthening. During January there was a price advance of about 20 per cent. Then there was a slight decline of 10 per cent, followed by an advance of 8 per cent in February. The world stock-pile of wool which stood at over 10 million bales of around 300 pounds each at the close of the war has dwindled to about one-half million bales. The consumption of wool is definitely in excess of production. Consequently the world situation would indicate prices favourable to the producer.

and uniform treatment is assured. The price of the slurry treater is much higher than the Kemp machine but in a plant that handles large quantities of grain the extra expense would be justified.

This whole problem seems to be one of education. When we are convinced of the benefits of seed cleaning and seed treatment we should take enough interest to see that the job is properly done. Spectacular results are not to be expected nor are they highly desirable. However, we should all strive for a steady improvement in our grain production by every possible method.

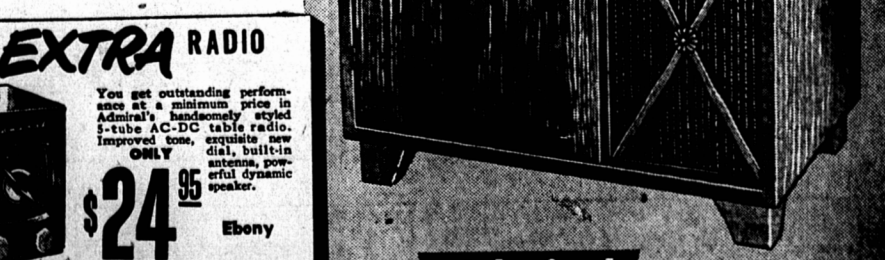

Nutritional Value of Eggs The following article was taken from the last Maritime Federation Newsletter: "The food value of eggs cannot be over-estimated, in fact eggs are practically a balanced diet in themselves. The reasons for the high nutritional value of eggs in the human diet are many."

"We, in the past several years, have read articles and have heard lectures coming out of our radios, commercials and otherwise, regarding vitamins. Actually there are some people who believe the entire issue has been grossly exaggerated. That may be true in some of its aspects, however, vitamins are still and will continue to be of prime importance in the human diet. Eggs are particularly high in what might be considered our more important vitamins, that is vitamins A, D and riboflavin. In fact eggs contain most of the known vitamins with the exception of vitamin C. The amounts of vitamins present in the eggs vary considerably depending upon the amount present in the feed the laying stock is
