

Bristol

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Sinnott, and son Gerard, who have been with us for the past ten days left on Thursday morning for their home in Ontario, a 1400 mile drive.

Mrs. Evelyn Richard, has arrived from Seal River, N. B., near Newcastle, to spend some time with her mother, Mrs. John Lapierre, around the old home. Mrs. Richard, has been housekeeper for the parish priest in her home parish since the death of her husband two years ago. Her many old friends are glad to see her around again.

The condition of Mrs. John J. Perry, who is a patient in the Charlotteville Hospital is reported as satisfactory following a very serious operation on Oct. 5.

There is a great scarcity of young pickers here. All the young men and women are in the city and with the schools closed for two weeks most of the kids have plenty to pick at home.

We learn from Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kane, Boston, Mass. that they plan to spend a long vacation with us next summer residing at the old Kane homestead at the corner. Mr. Kane is now retired after 45 years with the Boston Elevated Railway. Mrs. Kane is the former Annie Jay, sister of J. B. Jay. She left here as a girl years ago.

A few hardy fishermen still follow the fishing here despite the cold weather and the shore fishing is reported as very good by the very few still at it.

Dingwell Brothers, contract builders have completed a lovely job on the interior of Mr. J. B. Jay's home in the village. The completely new kitchen has taken a lot of attention and is a dream of many years come true, says Mrs. Jay.

Mr. John L. Laybolt, has moved his store business to a section of his big house and is selling the old store building. With his house moved to the highway and living quarters and store all under one roof he is in a better position to serve his customers.

Workmen have been busy around the Bristol United Church where they moved the east side of the fence back several yards to make a drive-in parking space for the congregation at Church services and other events.

Mr. Arthur Blackland, who is on the crew of the dredges along the mainland shore, is spending some time with his wife and family in the village.

The large new modern barn on the farm property of Mr. Louis Kelly, and son is attracting considerable attention. The big building has been all painted and lit up with electric lights and improves this fine old property.

Miss Teresa O'Brien, who attended school here for a few weeks has returned to Notre Dame Convent, for the new term after a happy summer with her young friends in the country.

Mr. Clifford Dunn, who was doing some building at Borden, P. E. I., has moved to Souris, where he will do considerable carpenter work. His home is here.

Mr. Gerry McAdam, manager and owner of the McAdam Transfers, informs us his big refrigerator truck has made twelve trips to Boston loaded both ways this fall and all with out accident or even a flat tire. It will be remembered this big van was badly damaged two years ago when she hit a soft shoulder along the Maine highway and plunged into the ditch.

There was a good attendance at the Little Flower Catholic Church this week for the Novena conducted by the pastor.

Mr. Ad. McKenzie, has returned from another taxi trip to Boston. I have gone so many times he says I know every inch of the highway.

On a recent trip to Boston, we

Pisquid East

Mr. Gerald Birt arrived recently from Marathion, Ontario, to spend his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Birt.

Mr. Kenneth MacDonald, Covehead Road, visited his sister, Mrs. Floyd Jay and Mr. Jay, Wednesday, October 13.

Mrs. Edward and Mrs. Alton Jay were hostesses to the ladies of Pisquid East Women's Institute on had the pleasure of meeting old Bristol residents, who left here half a century ago, the Davy's, Art and Ben; old timers here remember them. Miss Maggie Berrigan, says she was back in her old Bristol home two years ago. Peter A. Sinnott, who left here 32 years ago, has never been back, but next summer will break the spell and go home. No one of the oldest living Bristol residents in Boston, who wants to come back next summer is Mrs. John A. Hughes. She was Eliza O'Brien, when she left here away back in 1879, seventy five years ago. I want to go home to Bristol once more, she said last week when this scribe visited her in her Boston home.

Miss Norma Sinnott, Bank of Commerce staff in the city is taking a month's rest at her home here following an attack of the flu. She is confined to her room for two weeks. She will return to her duties early next month.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. O'Brien, who have been here all summer will move back to their home in the city at the end of this month before the roads and weather get bad for travelling.

Mrs. J. J. Perry, has returned home from the Charlotteville Hospital after undergoing a serious operation.

The work of re-building the old Harbor Road is not completed yet although machines have been on it for about a month. Residents in this District hope that the rough Morell Road will soon be scraped.

Last week was a major week for potato picking here. Most of the work has been done but one has no idea of the vastness of the work until he visits the big warehouse to see the thousands and thousands of bushels pouring in. This mighty pile of spuds will keep a crew of men working all winter and spring. Every one reports a fine clean crop.

Miss Frances Sinnott spent the Thanksgiving week-end with her sister Mabel, Mrs. McLellan, Indian River.

Mr. John R. O'Brien, arrived from Halifax, over the week-end on his regular leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Sheehan, have arrived home from parts of N. B., where they were employed since early spring.

Mr. Merlin McCarthy, is having a new large hen house erected on the old farm property. It will be remembered that Edna on her visit here smashed many of the hen houses and barns and Mr. McCarthy, lost his hen house at that time.

Miss Alice McCarthy, who is on the teaching staff of Queen Square School in the city, spent the week-end with her mother here.

Mr. Alex McKenzie is completing work on his new barns. It will be remembered Mr. McKenzie lost his big barn and all its contents in the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McEwen, who have been here all summer at their summer residence, plan to move back to the city for the winter months.

Mr. Phelix Murphy, is one farmer here who won't worry about Christmas Dinner this year. Mr. Murphy has one of the largest and finest flocks of geese to be seen anywhere and the big birds are being readied for the market now.

Oct. 14. After routine business an interesting contest put on by Mrs. Wallace Birt was won by Miss Gladys Birt. Next meeting to be held at the home of Gladys Birt, November 4.

Dutch Farmers To Aid Flood Victims

OTTAWA, (CP)—Farmers of The Netherlands are planning to aid victims of the devastating hurricane and floods in central Ontario.

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture said Wednesday it received a cable from H. D. Louwens, president of The Netherlands national farm organization, announcing that contributions will be made through the Red Cross.

The Netherlands' special interest is the Holland marsh region just north of Toronto, one of the areas badly hit by the weekend floods. Many of the settlers in that area originally came from The Netherlands.
