OBITUARY

MRS. KENNETH FLAVELL

The death occurred at the Charlottetown Hospital Sunday, November 3, 1963, of Mrs. Kenneth Flavell, belowed wife of Kenneth Flavell, Borden, P.E.I., after a brief illness.

The deceased was formerly Lotie Agnes Garrett, daughter of Mrs. Harriet Garrett and the late John Garrett of Charlottetown.

The late Mrs. Flavell attended St. Joseph's Convent and Prince of Wales College and taught for a number of years in various schools throughout the province.

She leaves to mourn besides her bereaved husband, her son John, age 20 and daughter Cathy, age 9, and three sisters Jean, Mrs. Adrian D. Feehan), Mt. Stewart; Alice (Mrs. Ross McCarthy) Washington, D.C., and Helen Davtons Beach, Florida; also two brothers, Arthur C.A. and Albert of Charlottetown.

She will be well remembered by her many friends in Charlottetown, Borden and Mt. Stewart, as was evidenced by the many mass cards, floral tributes and messages of condolences received.

The funeral, which was largely attended was held from the Hennessey Funeral Home to the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer, where requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Doucette, C.Ss.R., who also officiated at the grave.

Present in the sanctuary were Rev. Fathers Reginald MacDonald, Arthur Pendergast and Eric Robin.

The funeral mass was sung by Mr. Frank MacIntyre.

The pallbearers were Cyril Morrison, Arthur Bruce, James Atkinson, Wilbur Muttart, Jack McIsaac and Henry Perry.

Interment was in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

LOAD EXCEEDS OWN WEIGHT

A U.S. Army CH-47A Chinook helicopter lifts a useful load greater than its own empty weight in tests at the Boeing Aircraft Company's Vertol division flight centre in Philadelphia. The helicopter here lifts a 14-100-pound M-56 Scorpion self-propelled anti tank gun plus instrumentation fuel, crew and additional cargo totalling 6,700 pounds. Empty weight of the aircraft is 17,700 pounds.

Indian's Mallard Duck Case Is Headed For Supreme Court

By ARCH MacKENZIE

OTTAWA (CP)—Michael Sikyea's mallard has flown within range of the Supreme Court of Canada.

Leave to appeal the last verdict concerning the long-dead duck will be sought from the supreme court, it is reported here.

At the same time, a civil suit may be launched against the Crown, said Gene Rheaume, Conservative Member of Parliament for the Northwest Territories, where Mr. Sikyea lives.

Mr. Sikyea is a treaty Indian, a member of the Yellowknife band near the mining town of Yellowknife on Great Slave Lake's north shore. On May 7, 1962, Mr. Sikyea shot a mallard duck for food and was charged with contravening the Migratory Birds Convention Act of 1916.

This act concerns agreement among Canada, the United States and Mexico to observe certain closed periods on various kinds of game birds for their conservation.

SAY RIGHTS LOST

Indians long have argued that the act contravenes historic hunting rights granted them by proclamation or treaty.

A magistrate fined Mr. Sikyea $10 and costs and seized his rifle. That verdict was quashed by Judge J. H. Sissons of the territorial court, who has built up a record as an opponent of laws limiting Indian and Eskimo hunting privileges.

Then, in a judgment filed last Friday, Mr. Justice G. G. Johnson of the territorial appeal court reversed the Sissons verdict and reinstituted the fine against Mr. Sikyea.

Leave to appeal that decision will be sought from the Supreme Court, Mr. Rheaume said. He also said in an interview that he intends to encourage Mr. Sikyea to launch a civil suit against the Crown on the basis that the Migratory Act represents a breach of contract of Indian Treaty No. 11 covering the Yellowknife band.

SAYS LAW BROKEN

Mr. Justice Johnson ruled in effect that the migratory bird regulations infringe on Indian treaty rights but that Indians who shoot game birds out of season still are breaking the law.

There have been other similar cases which are little help in clarifying the issue.

In 1963, Chief Justice James C. McRuer of Ontario came down on the side of Calvin William George, a member of the Kettle Point Indian band who shot two ducks out of season.

Mr. George was acquitted by a Sarnia magistrate and the Crown appealed. The decision was upheld and so far the Crown has not appealed again.

The Sissons verdict was cited by the counsel for Mr. George.

New Irish Ambassador Is Lawyer

DUBLIN (Reuters) — Ireland's new ambassador to Canada, John Aloysius Belton, is a husky 60-year-old lawyer with a long and distinguished career in the Irish diplomatic service.

He was educated by Jesuits at Belvedere College, Dublin, and graduated with a law degree from University College, Dublin, in 1926. He is also a master of arts and practised law for three years before joining the diplomatic service in 1929 as a third secretary.

He speaks fluent French and German and good Spanish and Swedish.

In 1929 he served as charge d'affaires in Paris and Stockholm before being appointed ambassador to Spain in 1947. In 1950 he was consul-general in West Germany and a year later became minister to the Federal Republic of Germany.

In 1955 he was recalled from Germany to act as deputy chief of the foreign service, but after four years became ambassador to Sweden. He is also accredited as ambassador to Norway and minister to Finland.

Did you ever see a Baldheaded Sheep?

YOUR SCALP IS NOT AN OILWELL!

Your hair needs natural scalp oils to keep it growing strong and thick. When you dry-out or wash-out those protective oils, you're inviting hair trouble—dandruff, itchy scalp, even falling hair! So why take chances? Replace those vital oils daily by using NIL-O-NAL (Lanolin spelled backwards).

While the fact that there are no baldheaded sheep may have no bearing on growth of human hair, it is from the wool of the sheep that the natural lanolin used in NIL-O-NAL is extracted.

CURLS, CURLS, CURLS! Even when it rains!

If you want deep, flattering curls that last and last—even in rainy weather—just use NIL-O-NAL before you set your hair. Results are amazing. Your curls are bouncy, springy, long-lasting. Your hair is softer, easy to manage. And because it medicates as well as beautifies, NIL-O-NAL helps stop hair-ends from splitting off.

√ Receding hair line?
√ Spreading bald spots?
√ Thin, falling hair?
√ Flaky dandruff?
√ Itchy scalp?

If that's what dryness is doing to your hair, then start using NIL-O-NAL now before it's too late! NIL-O-NAL contains special refined lanolin to replace the natural oils you've driven out. It's so effective it counteracts every dry-hair problem!

IMPORTANT: Don't confuse NIL-O-NAL with any ordinary lanolin product. NIL-O-NAL is extra refined—not sticky! Won't pick-up dirt from air. It's clear, greaseless, organic, non-alcoholic. Essential to use.

If you want the hair benefits we know NIL-O-NAL can give you, get a jar today. It's the most successful lanolin formula in Canada!! and we guarantee you'll be completely astonished in 30 days...or your money back! Special prices now apply. Only 89c for 1 oz. jar; only $1.49 for a 2 oz. jar; only $2.49 for the money-saving 4 oz. jar. Get NIL-O-NAL today at any drug or cosmetic counter. Remember, this guarantee applies only if you insist on NIL-O-NAL. That's lanolin spelled backwards!

Foreign Capital Debate Continues Uninterrupted

By KEN SMITH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The debate over the role of foreign investment in Canada, its benefits and its dangers continued unabated this week, as it has almost without interruption since last June's controversial budget.

With another new budget looming up, some big guns zeroed in again on the contentious issue. The score of the week's discussion—one for the budget measures, two against.

Finance Minister Gordon devoted one of three major speeches to reviewing the thoughts and principles behind his budget proposals aimed at Canadians gaining greater control of their economy.

They are not, he told a Montreal audience, narrow economic nationalism. They were recognition of the question: "If nonresident ownership and control continues to increase at the rate it has been increasing in the recent past, will Canada be able to continue to be a truly distinct and independent nation?"

Mr. Gordon did not say precisely that the answer is "no," but in his words Canadians "are uneasy about the implications of the present extent of ownership and control by nonresidents . . ."

Minutes after Mr. Gordon finished speaking, Graham Towers, for 20 years governor of the Bank of Canada and now chairman of Canada Life Assurance Co., told a Toronto audience Canadians should not press their luck too far.

Almost all Canadians, he said, favor more Canadian ownership in their factories "just as we are all against sin." But the fact that foreign confidence in Canada has been high for most of this century did not mean that such confidence cannot be lost.

Large foreign investment in Canada was a fact of life "and it will remain so unless one makes the gloomy assumption that the opportunities for development will be on a much smaller scale than in the past or, for reasons not rooted in economics, we prefer to forego or postpone some of the possible advantages."

R. M. Fowler, president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, described discriminatory taxes as a "weak and inconclusive and slightly disgraceful posture" for national policy to take.

Too much time is spent, he said, worrying about maintaining Canada's independence and not enough about living effectively in today's world.

In another field, Canada's uranium industry is in a deep slump because there is more of the energized ore around than can be used at present, although almost everyone agrees that by 1970 renewed demand will have restored the bloom to the boom.

But a recently revised study from Europe raises the possibility that the world's uranium industry could be in difficulty again within a decade of finding new life—its time because there might not be enough of the radioactive mineral around.

The study, discussed by A. W. Johnson, president of Faraday Uranium Mines Ltd., notes it is conservatively estimated that 200,000 metric tons of uranium will be needed to feed nuclear power plants expected to come into operation between 1970 and 1980.

The Western world's reserves of uranium available at $8 to $10 a pound by 1970 are estimated at 320,000 metric tons.

"Unless new reserves are developed, the free world reserves of uranium will be reduced to 120,000 tons by 1980," Mr. Johnson says.

"This is just three years' supply at the estimated demand for electric generation alone by that time."

Stock Averages At New York Have Higher Trend This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — As the first month of 1964 ended, the stock market averages were considerably higher than on the last trading day of 1963.

The Dow Jones industrial average in January rose 22.39 to 785.34. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 5.1 to 290.6.

January once again was a month of re-investment demand as it has been so frequently in the past. Buying of blue chips characterized the month although progress at times was slow and the upward movement confused by profit taking and switching.

In the week just ended the market showed signs of turning top - heavy. While averages made historic highs early in the week, more stocks were declining than advancing in the over-all list.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial issues ended the week with a gain of 2.39 at 785.43, reflecting the strength of a scattering of blue chips. The over-all market was lower. Of 1,513 issues traded, 858 declined and 474 advanced.

AVERAGE DOWN

Registering its first weekly decline in five weeks, the AP 60-stock average fell 1.0 to 290.6.

The stock market action was backgrounded by an almost unbroken front of encouraging economic and business news. Corporations reported sharp increases in earnings. There were many dividend boosts and stock splits. Investors, however, appeared to have discounted much of this news well in advance.

Standard Oil (New Jersey), reported record earnings, topping $1,000,000,000 for the first time. Sharp gains in profits also were reported by U.S. Steel many other leading corporations. Youngstown Sheet and Tube split its stock 3 for 1.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange was 22,664,120 shares compared with 26,301,979 the previous week.

The most active issues on the New York Stock Exchange were: Helene Curtis, up ¼ at 39¼ on 393,400 shares; Xerox, off 4⅜ at 78⅜; Chrysler, off 1⅛ at 38⅞; Sperry Rand, off 1⅜ at 19¼, and Radio Corp., off ¾ at 110⅝.

The most active issues on the American Stock Exchange were: Syntex, off 30¾ at 124½ on 476,200 shares; TWA Warrants, off 2⅞ at 17⅜; Dennison Manufacturing A off 1¾ at 53⅜; Seaboard World Airlines, up ⅝ at 5⅜, and Livingston Oil, up ⅛ at 16⅞.

CAPTURE LAOS PLATEAU

VIENTIANE, Laos (Reuters) The pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces have gained control of the fertile rice-growing Naky Plateau in central Laos after heavy fighting, according to military sources here Friday. The Pathet Lao have also pushed to within about 12 miles of the town of Thakhek on the Laos-Thailand border, they said.
