

Judging At Photography Salon

B.F. Turner of O'Leary carried off both first and second prizes at the third Annual Salon of Artistic Photography sponsored by the Charlottetown Camera Club which opened at the Civic Centre on Saturday and will be continued open to the public afternoons and evenings until March 16. LEFT George Barter of Charlottetown, George Wotton and Don Sears of Summerside, judges in the competition, examined more than 100 prints before final decisions were reached in the selection of the ten major exhibits. Others winners were Miss Margaret Mallett, who placed third, Claude McKay fourth and Robert Donnelly fifth, all of Charlottetown. The five honourable mentions were: first, Victor Pepler, Montague, second, Claude McKay third Robert Donnelly, fourth Claude McKay fifth Claude McKay of Charlottetown.

Guardian Photo.

Pearson Is Optimistic

Sees No Middle East War

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Pearson indicated Friday he believes conflict can be avoided in the troubled Middle East.

The situation there has been worse at other times in the last year and did not result in conflict, he said in the Commons.

"And we must hope that not only will conflict be avoided now, but — more important — that the cause of conflict will be removed."

John Diefenbaker (PC) Prince Albert, whose questions elicited the minister's statement, said Mr. Pearson's remarks reveal more optimism than was apparent in the British Commons Thursday.

SITUATION BETTER
Mr. Pearson said: "The situation in that (Middle East) area, particularly the relations between Israel and her Arab neighbors, has been tense and the cause of potential conflict since the first day of Israel's existence (May 14, 1948)."

"There have been ups and downs in the position, but it has always been disturbing and worrying. Events of last week have added to our worries."

However, the situation seemed to have eased somewhat in the last few days following "the shock" caused by the abrupt dismissal of Lt.-Gen. Sir John Glubb, British commander of Jordan's famed Arab Legion.

"Neither Israel nor any of the Arab governments concerned can hope to gain anything from a re-diffidence."

"On the contrary, war would be disastrous to all concerned. I would condemn aggressors."

"It would result in the mobilization of world opinion, in the United Nations and elsewhere, in condemnation of the aggressor and in support for the victim of aggression."

"I cannot believe that this is a situation which any country in the Middle East desires to bring about."

At the end of Mr. Pearson's statement, Mr. Diefenbaker said Canadians will appreciate the minister's optimism. But that hadn't answered his question:

"Why does the government . . . apply different principles in connection with the sale of a private contractor of arms in dealing with the Egyptian Air Force than it does in the case of the government agency dealing with Israel?"

Mr. Diefenbaker referred to Prime Minister St. Laurent's announcement Thursday — reiterated by Trade Minister Howe Friday — that the government will not interfere with completion of an Egyptian order for 15 Canadian Harvard training planes.

Mr. Howe granted Canada Car and Foundry Ltd. of Montreal an export permit for the sale last July. Bitter opposition criticism erupted in the Commons in January when the first three planes were shipped. It has continued at every opportunity since.

Nine more Harvards are being shipped from Halifax and the remainder have received customs clearance.

Mr. St. Laurent also said Thursday, however, that an Israeli order for 1,750 shells for 25-pounder field artillery has not been acted on. It was placed with the government-owned Crown Assets Disposal Corporation.

In reply to Mr. Diefenbaker, Mr. Pearson said: "I wish . . . to reject the assumption that there is an application of different principles in this matter."

The minister said his view is that the Middle East situation, while tense and difficult, giving no ground for complacency and much for anxiety, is not such to warrant interference with the Harvard shipment.

NOT ARMED
The planes were equipped with no arms whatever. They could not be made structurally effective for that purpose without "at least two months' factory work."

Earlier Maj. - Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, (PC — Esquimaux, Saanich) asked Mr. Howe to suspend the Harvard shipment. He understood the nine planes would be loaded aboard the Dutch from Halifax today.

The incident occurred at a time of high feeling between Greece and Britain over the future of Cyprus.

A British troop plane burned on the airfield at Nicosia, Cyprus, last Sunday 20 minutes before it was to be loaded with 68 British servicemen and their families returning to England. British authorities said it was time-bombed.

Gents winner was Mr. Preston Sentor.

Miss Ellen MacCallum, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stewart and family were recent visitors to the Winsloe Rd.

Miss Florence Dollar spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Golden Dollar and family.

The many friends of Mr. Donald Campbell are pleased to see him home again after his recent operation in the P. E. I. Hospital.

Mrs. David Robinson is a patient in the P. E. I. Hospital.

Sweden's industrial production in 1955 was about six per cent larger than the previous year.

Friends are sorry to learn Mr. Andrew Dollar has entered the hospital for treatment.

Springvale W. I. held a crokinole party in the school last week, with a good attendance. A neat sum was realized. Ladies winner was Mrs. Kenneth MacDonald and

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

Women's fashions will move to the frill and flounce side.

Travel will become more popular and understanding between nations will grow.

As always, however, with the sweet there is the bitter. This one prediction probably won't be received too well by all men: Bikini bathing suits will become a thing of the past and the feminine figure will become softer, shying away from the emphasized curves.

Depressions will be of a minor nature.

</