Industrial Development Bank Is Session Topic

The Industrial Development Bank and how it works was the main item of the regular meeting of the Charlottetown Board of Trade, held last night.

Guest speaker was G. J. Hiltz, Moncton, N.B., who is with the IDB. Mr. Hiltz showed a film on the working of the IDB., with a case history shown of one man, borrowing funds to start a business on his own.

The film showed how the IDB checked the feasibility of people's ideas who approached it for loans to start businesses and the many varied departments which check all aspects of the proposed business.

Following the film, questions were asked by the board of trade members, concerning the IDB and its workings.

Vice president of the board, Mayor A. Walthen Gaudet asked Mr. Hiltz whether Charlottetown was ahead, or behind the times of taking advantage of the IDB. Mr. Hiltz replied that Charlottetown was on a par, with other areas.

FORMED IN 1944

Mr. Hiltz noted that IDB was formed in 1944 as a subsidiary of the Bank of Canada and now has 25 branches across Canada.

A. W. Matheson then asked Mr Hiltz whether the IDB would take a second mortgage with a provincial government holding the first mortgage. A lively interchange followed between the two.

The regular business of the board was heard and committee reports presented for the members consideration. New members, who joined after the board's membership blitz were introduced. The meeting was presided over by President W. R. Brennan.

$88 Million CBC Grant Okayed Under MPs' Blast

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons approved this year's $88,000,000 appropriation for the CBC Tuesday after MPs from all parties gave the publicly-owned corporation one of its worst tongue-lashings.

Douglas Fisher, NDP deputy leader, topped it off with an outspoken attack on CBC executives whom he called "stiff, backed, swollen-headed, stuffy, niggling, petty and damned arrogant."

He referred by name to CBC President Alphonse Ouimet and his top aides, who were sitting in the official gallery, and accused them of "smashing" the reputation of Richard Ballentine, a Toronto free-lance producer.

Mr. Ballentine produced the $35,000 documentary film Mr. Pearson, which the CBC canned last summer amid opposition charges of government censorship and interference. The CBC said the film was not up to its technical standards.

Mr. Fisher MP for Port Arthur, said Mr. Ballentine since has offered the CBC $35,000 for the original print to show it to audiences across Canada and vindicate his technical ability but the CBC had refused.

PASSED ESTIMATES

The Commons passed the 1964-65 estimates of the National Film Board and all other cultural institutions reporting to State Secretary Lamontagne.

The minister said the government likely will introduce new legislation on broadcasting next year after it receives recommendations from a special committee headed by Robert M Fowler, a Montreal industrialist.

He added that the government is considering the establishment of a permanent committee to study broadcasting and all other cultural affairs under government jurisdiction.

Mr. Fisher earlier lashed out at the film board, accusing it of producing arty films of little educational value and abandoning its primary role of informing and educating the public.

He said the film board is in serious difficulty as it marks its 25th anniversary. The Crown corporation had fallen under the control of a small group of producers who wanted to film art for art's sake.

Speaking on the $6,100,600 allocation to the NFB for the 1964-65 fiscal year, Mr. Fisher called for a parliamentary inquiry into the policies and direction of the board.

REPLIES FOR NFB

State Secretary Lamontagne said the NFB realizes its performance can be improved and is strengthening its film distribution network across Canada.

Creditiste Leader Caouette concentrated his criticism on the CBC French network and said the publicly-owned corporation is "very much" responsible for the violence in Quebec City during the Queen's visit.

Mr. Caouette said that for months before this visit the network had given a large amount of air time to extremists and separatists to state their views, while denying one newspaper editor a chance to state his opinion why the Queen should be welcomed in the province.

SALISBURY (Reuters)—Rhodesia's minister of law and order, Desmond Lardner-Burke, Friday was given leave to appeal to Britain's Privy Council against a ruling that Joshua Nkomo and 16 other Negro Nationalists were illegally detained. The appellate division of the high court ruled last week the Preventive Detention Act as illegal.

FIRST PAN-AM MEET

Eighteen Western Hemisphere nations attended the first International Conference of American States in Washington in 1890.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM SINCLAIR MacLEOD

(Inserted by the family.)

The death occurred at the Provincial Sanatorium on August 9th, 1964 of William Sinclair MacLean in his forty-fifth year. Although in poor health since serving with the Royal Canadian Artillery in the 2nd World War he had seemed much improved, and his sudden passing was a great shock to his family and his many friends. He had recently been married to Elizabeth May (Bessie) Stewart of New Perth, P.E.I.

Mr. MacLean was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander MacLean of Iris, P.E.I. Left to mourn his passing beside his wife are six brothers — John Currie of Ormocto, N.B.; James and George of Bangor, P.E.I. Charles of Halifax, N.S., Lester in U.S.A. and John Angus of Pinette, P.E.I. Two sisters — Mrs. John R. MacLeod (Katherine) and Margaret predeceased him.

The funeral service was conducted at Belfast Presbyterian Church by Rev. Donald Nicholson assisted by Kenneth T. Norris. Interment was in the church cemetery where a Legion service was conducted at the graveside by Russell and Fred Panton.

The pallbearers were Lester MacRae, John Panton, Samuel Buchanan, James MacLean, John D. MacLean and Russell Panton.
