There will be an excursion to Pictou in the morning.

THE GULFSTREAM.—The surveying steamer Gulfstream, which, as already announced, will leave here to-morrow to resume work on the Newfoundland coast, has been fitted out in excellent style for the season's work. The painters have been at work all over the ship, and from stem to stern everything is in first-class order and condition. The equipment this year will include what is known as a submarine entry, a combination of lever work which indicates the depth of water in which the ship is moving. The apparatus is so arranged that when the ship is in shallow water the "entry" will come to the surface and a gong will sound. Captain Tucker, R. N., is again staff commander, and Captain Thomas G. Taylor sailing master. The surveying staff will include Messrs. Balman and Cornish. Dr. Moore, of Yarmouth, will be Medical Officer. The remainder of the ship's company is about the same as last season. Mr. Colwell is Chief Engineer, with Mr. McDonnell as first assistant. Mr. Connel is driver of the steam launch, and Messrs. Keating and Hensler are at their old posts.

ARBOR DAY AT THE SCHOOLS.

A more delightful day could have not been desired by the most ardent of tree-planters. Our school grounds presented an animated and exceedingly pleasing appearance while the trees were being planted and the scholars were on parade. In each of the schools there were interesting exercises appropriate to the occasion.

Princess Street School was honored by the presence of the Lieutenant-Governor, Rev. Mr. Sutherland, Dr. Johnson (Chairman of the School Board) Mr. Blanchard, Mr. James, Hon. T. H. Haviland and others (listed as among the guests interested in the school). The following programme was well rendered:—Chorus, Spring, Gentle Spring, by the school. Recitation—The Daffodils, Dorothy Huggan. Dialogue—The Trees, Pupils of Miss Brown's department. Chorus—The Summer Days Are Coming, school. Recitation—The Rose, Maggie Cotton. Recitation—Tell Tales, Western Peas, Kindergarten Song—Trees, primary classes. Selections from Hiawatha—Miss Grey's department. Recitation—An Arbor Day Tree, Lily Seaman. Glee—Beautiful Spring Time, pupils of advanced classes. Dialogue—Spring's Call to the Flowers, Miss Huggan's department. Essay—On Arbor Day, Lena White. Chorus—The Grand Old Oak, school.

Space will not permit of a report of the appropriate speeches delivered at the close by the chairman, the Lieutenant-Governor, the Rev. Mr. Sutherland, Mr. James, and Hon. T. H. Haviland. The children were compared to young plants, and the school to a nursery in which they were prepared for transplanting to their respective places in the world. Lieutenant-Governor Howland referred to the famous Shaw gardens of St. Louis, and the great influence they had exerted upon the city and state, and expressed the hope that some rich man among us would similarly endow this city. Each of the speakers complimented highly and justly the writer of the essay on Arbor Day—Miss Lena White.

One of the trees planted in Prince Street school grounds was in memory of the late Francis Bain, one of the pupils reading upon the occasion the following lines:

"What conqueror in any part of life's broad field of battle could desire a more beautiful, a more noble or a more patriotic monument than a tree planted by the hands of pure and joyous children as a memorial of his or her achievements? What earnest, honest worker with hand and brain for the benefit of his fellow men, could desire a more pleasing recognition of his usefulness than such a monument—a symbol of his or her productions, ever growing, ever blooming, and ever bearing wholesome fruit?"

At Queen Square School, Arbor Day was celebrated in the usual manner. The address was delivered by the Rev. Father Aeneas, and contained much useful information on plants and plant growth, interspersed with words of advice and encouragement to the boys. The action of trees in purifying the air by removing the carbon dioxide, was well explained. A striking comparison was that of the life of the student with the growth and development of the plant. The programme consisted, in addition to the address, of the following:—May Song—School. School Recitation—May Morning—John Kent. Song—A Joyous Summer Day—School. God Save the Queen.

At West Kent Street School the children collected en masse on the school grounds at 10 o'clock. After the planting of eleven trees, which consisted of birches, hornbeams and cedars, the classes, at the sound of the drum, marched to their respective rooms, whence they shortly afterwards proceeded to the upper hall. Exercises in songs and recitations appropriate to the occasion engaged the attention of those present for about an hour. Hon. D. Farquharson, a member of the School Board, presided. The following programme was carried out:—Arbor Day Song—School. Recitation—The Little Tree's Dream, F. Mitchell. Chorus—The Class Tree, School. Dialogue—What the Trees Said, twenty girls.

Canadian National Song—School. "What the Trees Said" was so appropriate and well rendered that it evoked special commendation by the chairman. The large attendance of children was favorably commented upon by the chairman, who ably contrasted the present school life with the past. He spoke of the ruthless cutting down of forest trees by the early pioneers, whose descendants are to-day trying to amend for the faults of their fathers by planting trees about their dwellings and pasture lands for shade and protection from wind and storm.

On last Arbor Day the Rev. T. F. Fullerton kindly offered two prizes for the best and second best essays on our Island Forest Trees. Mr. Fullerton being unavoidably absent, Principal Miller invited Hon. D. Laird, who had adjudged the prizes, to present the same. In doing so he took occasion to remark on the merits of the respective essays handed to him for examination. Of the essays written by Master Harry Ritchie, to whom was awarded the first prize, $3, highly complimentary remarks were made. The second prize was awarded to Master Lemuel Miller. A third prize was given by Hon. D. Laird to Master Robert Smith.

The chairman next called upon Rev. Mr. Corey, who addressed the school in an exceedingly neat speech in every way fitted to the day's proceedings. He related several interesting anecdotes and pointed each with an appropriate moral. After singing the National Anthem, the school was dismissed, to reopen on Monday.

Ladies, we intend having a big sale of hose on Saturday next. Look out for bargains.—Prowse Bros. may 22 21

LATEST SUMMERSIDE NEWS.

Special Correspondence of The Examiner

A GHAZLY FIND.—Yesterday afternoon, between three and four o'clock, Mr. Solomon Duffy, caretaker of the Protestant cemetery, while at work there, noticed a small box, which had also been seen there the day before. As the box was near Mr. R. T. Holman's plot, Mr. Duffy thought it was a box of flowers and neglected to investigate the matter until the time above mentioned. Then he set about to open the box, when to his horror he discovered that it contained the decomposed remains of an infant. Mr. Duffy proceeded at once to the office of Dr. Jarvis, corner, and placed the facts before him.

This morning, at the police station, Dr. Jarvis held an inquest, when the following jury were empaneled: R. S. Rowness, Daniel McNeill, Hugh Ramsay, Geo. Horton, John McNeil and George Munn. Owing to the decomposition it was not thought advisable to perform a post mortem to discover whether the child had ever breathed. The infant was a female, and was wrapped in white cloths and a Summer's de Journal dated April 10. It is hoped that the heartless woman, unworthy of the name of mother, will be brought to justice and receive the full penalty of the law.

APPOINTMENT.—Mr. J. C. Wright, of the firm of Wright & Strong, has been appointed Issuer of Licenses to commercial travellers, by the Local Government, vice W. T. Hunt, Esq., resigned.

PARADE.—Rev. John Goodwill will preach in the Kirk next Sabbath at 7 p. m. THE SWEETEST SEED IS TOXIC.—While a truckman was hauling two pinechests of molasses from Holman's Wharf to McLeod's warehouse one of the great pinechests rolled off the slove, knocking the end out of it. The molasses flowed majestically towards the wharf—tingled!

MISS SARA LORD BAILEY.—Dramatic reciter, to-night in Market Hall.

RENOVATED.—Mr. R. T. Holman's residence has received a coat of paint. It presents a very pleasing appearance.

THE BAND.—The boys respectfully ask that all interested in the Band will make an engagement for the 28th, but come and help them along. They need the two essentials—music and encouragement.

FLIES.—W. G. Schurman and H. H. Beer spent a few hours at the Dank last evening.

LOBSTERS.—The melodious strains of our Prof. Cushing's voice sounded through the streets yesterday crying "lobsters." They sold like hot cakes and were very nice.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Wm. Wright and her sister, Miss Crabbe, left this morning for Montreal. They will join Mr. Wright at Moncton.

Lewis Birch, brother of James Birch, of Alberton, arrived here by the Northumberland yesterday, after an absence of twenty-one years in the neighboring Republic. Mr. Birch, who is a contractor and builder, has been, we understand, very successful.

Mrs. Neil McKelvie, who has been ill for some time past, is we are glad to learn, improving.

Mrs. J. B. Russ and her daughter Marian left this morning for Sackville, to visit her son-in-law, Mr. Harper. We wish them a pleasant trip.

Among those who crossed to the mainland this morning we noticed Miss Martha Vickerson, Bedque; Miss Dingwell, Miss Jean Moore, daughter of Colonel Moore, Charlottetown; Miss F. Beer, Charlottetown; Mrs. F. Smallwood, and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McKay, of the same place.

THE NORTHUMBERLAND.—Thirty-one passengers crossed to Point du Cheuc yesterday, and sixteen came over.

TRILBY.—A fair audience greeted the Trilby Company last evening. All apparently enjoyed the performance.

REARWAY.—About 2 o'clock this afternoon, H. C. McLeod's man was loading ashes at the west end of the town, and the train coming along at that time frightened the horse which came galloping up Water St., turning the Clifton corner, but was stopped at the Pioneer office by Mr. Albert Gaudet. No damage was done.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.—Clifton House, May 22: J. T. McNutt and wife; R. C. L. Ray; Trilby; Miss Cecile Lorraine; Geo. Barshill; Miss Emma Southard; Narcisse Genuas; Eliz. Tontin, Quebec.
