KING MALIETOA'S DAUGHTER
Went Home to Greet Her Father and Found Him Dead.

GARBED IN RAIMENT OF JOY IN A HOUSE OF MOURNING.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 6.—Princess Faamu, daughter of the late King of Samoa, returned from Fiji on September 5, unaware of the death of her father. Her joy upon coming into the harbour was suddenly turned to grief. The Princess was prostrated upon hearing the news. In the house sat the widowed Queen alone.

The scene upon landing in front of the King's house was touching. Upon the lawn leading from the house to the beach were sitting women and girls, relatives of the Queen and King, dressed in deep mourning, swaying their bodies to and fro and singing a Samoan death chant with tears rolling down their cheeks. Faamu, in the pure white costume in which she had hoped to meet her royal father, was let through this black sombre crowd to her sorrowing mother. There was deep silence as she approached. No one greeted her. The women wept with bowed heads.

Suddenly the silence was broken as Princess Faamu reached the house by a violent outburst from the Queen, who called to her daughter between her sobs: "Heartless girl, garbed in the raiment of joy, seeking pleasure abroad while sickness and death lays heavy hand on your parents. Know that our great family is no more. Get to your chamber, throw away your white garments, and do penance."

What About Egypt?

PARIS, Nov. 8.—Although there is no official confirmation as yet of the news that Great Britain has resolved to proclaim a protectorate over Egypt, yet there is reason to believe that action of this kind on the part of Great Britain has not only been discussed but been determined upon and that the proclamation in question will be issued at an early date. The cause for this is the discovery by Great Britain of certain negotiations now in progress at Constantinople between the French government and the Sublime Porte. The latter is so exasperated against Great Britain for its humiliating expulsion of the Turkish troops and Turkish authorities from Crete that it is ready to do anything to be revenged on John Bull. France is taking advantage of this ill-will of Abdul Hamid toward Great Britain. Great Britain has objected to the presence of France either at Fashoda or in the reconquered Egyptian province of Bahari Ghazal on the ground that the latter is Egyptian territory.

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLE.

Do Not be Alarmed, But Look For the Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion. Real, organic heart disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by branches of the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also the heart is affected by that form of poor digestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food; there is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, makes it thin and watery, which irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can best be done by the regular use after meals, of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant convenient form.

It is safe to say that the regular, persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

RETURNS FOR THE ELECTIONS.
85 Republicans and 109 Democrats

HAVE BEEN RETURNED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Roosevelt Elected Governor of New York State.

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Returns indicate that 85 Republicans and 109 Democrats have certainly been elected to seats in the National House of Representatives.

The same district two years ago returned to the Lower House of Congress 105 Republicans and 89 Democrats.

Based solely upon the estimates in these districts a Republican loss of 20 and a Democratic gain of 21 is indicated.

Theodore Roosevelt, Republican, has been elected Governor of New York State by a plurality anywhere about 15,000.

Roosevelt's associates on the Republican State ticket are probably elected with him. The returns from both Greater New York and the Counties outside this municipality are incomplete. But enough have been received to indicate a heavy falling off in the votes up State, while that in the city was well sustained.

The consequence is a falling off in the Republican plurality in the State from 212,000.

The approximate figures given above are outside of Greater New York.

The vote for Van Wyck is only about one-fifth of one per cent. above that of Porter in 1896.

There appears to be a loss of four Republican Congressmen in the Brooklyn District.

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—The vote of the State this morning was nearly complete, and gives Wolcott a plurality over Bruce of 98,111. The Democratic vote in 334 cities and towns out of 352 was 103,770, which was somewhat larger than the total vote of Williams 1896, and 24,000 ahead of his vote of last year.

Wolcott's vote is 60,000 behind that of 1896, and 16,000 ahead of the vote of 1897.

The Congressional delegation will stand 11 Republicans and two Democrats, a gain of one by the latter, while the legislature will stand practically the same as last year, and will re-elect Lodge as Senator.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—Because of the largeness and excessive culling the returns from Philadelphia and Pennsylvania are slower than usual.

Enough is known to indicate that Wm. A. Stone, Republican, is elected Governor by a large majority.

United States Senator Sewell telegraphs from Camden as follows: "New Jersey elects a Republican Governor by from 6,000 to 10,000 majority and a Republican Legislature."

Stage Struck Duke.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—There has been a rumour this week that the Duke of Manchester, inspired by the success on the stage of Lord Rosslyn, has been contemplating competing for histrionic laurels. Modern Society, however, says this is premature, although it is quite true that owing to "vicissitudes" he recently experienced, the young Duke is unwilling to remain a poor peer when he can turn his undoubted abilities to earning an income.

Defence of the West Coast.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The latest indication of military activity is the summoning of the Defence Committee of the western district of England to meet at Davenport to consider all questions, including the use of the volunteers, affecting the defence of the West of England.

Forced the Turks Aboard.

CANEA, Island of Crete, November 8.—The Turkish troops at Retino having refused to leave that place, the Russian admiral in those waters, following the example of Admiral Noel, the British commander here, forcibly conveyed them on board a transport.

P. E. ISLAND.
As an Agricultural Country.

TESTIMONY OF AN APPRECIATIVE VISITOR.

The editorial correspondence of The Farmer's Advocate contains the following:

Prince Edward Island, as seen in the summer of early autumn, is a revelation to a Western visitor who sees it for the first time. He has previously formed but a very imperfect idea of its importance, the richness of its soil, and its peculiar adaptation to agriculture, which is its chief industry, and the high standard of excellence attained by its enterprising and energetic farmers and stock-men. Its rich green fields, enclosed by hedges of hawthorn and spruce and other mixed woods, remind one much of old England, while its broad, rolling pasture lands, with their dense carpets of grass, and sleek, fat cattle, recall the blue grass regions of Kentucky. As a rule the Island is level, or at most undulating. The soil, a sandy loam, varying in some parts to clay loam, is especially well adapted for oats and root crops which yield abundantly, and on several of the stock farms we saw splendid crops of ensilage corn being stored in a fairly well matured condition, even in this season, which was one of the most backward on record, owing to the excessive rain fall during the whole summer, which caused grain crops to grow over-rank and produced rust, which seriously reduced the yield and impaired the quality; but even under these adverse conditions many farmers claim a yield of forty bushels of oats per acre. Dairying is the principal farming industry, as may be inferred from the existence of thirty-four cheese factories and five creameries, the latter operating the year round, and one-half of the cheese factories making butter in winter, and nowhere in our travels have we seen so large a percentage of high-class dairy cows showing evidence of improved breeding and having in large measure the conformation and capacity of the ideal dairy cow. These are principally well-bred grades of the Ayrshire, Jersey, Guernsey, and Holstein breeds, while excellent herds of pure-bred animals of all these breeds are found in the hands of enterprising breeders; the last three named breeds being well represented on the fine dairy farm of Mr. B. Hertz, who, it will be remembered, was the purchaser of Mrs. Jones' famous herd of Jerseys, which we find luxuriating in clover, looking particularly well. Here we recognized many familiar names and faces of famous cows which had made their mark in the prize lists of Western fairs, and many of their doughty daughters which have grown into motherly matrons and are well fulfilling the promise of their early years.

Eighty registered cows were being milked on this farm, and we can safely say it is without exception the best herd of dairy cows we have ever seen on one farm. The Provincial Government maintains a 400-acre farm here, on which are kept high-class herds of Ayrshires and Short-horns, the surplus stock being distributed among the country agricultural societies, to be sold to the highest bidder, which places good stock within the reach of the farmers at their own price, which is generally a very moderate one. Mr. William Miller, who is inspector of the Government farm, has a large milk business in the city, and a beautiful farm of 105 acres some three miles distant, which is divided into four fields, and is cultivated in a short rotation; 24 acres each year broken out of sod, and 25 acres seeded to clover each year; 24 acres being devoted to grain each year; and a like area to corn and roots. His farm buildings are first-class, the stables being supplied with water in front of the cows, and stationary steam engine is used to drive all the machinery of the farm. The silo, of large dimensions—20 feet in diameter and 25 feet deep—was being filled with 15 acres of well-matured corn, which was estimated at 15 tons per acre. A fine herd of registered Ayrshires is maintained on the farm, headed by the handsome and richly-bred young bull, Pure Gold, by Golden Guinea, and Jock Marshfield, by Jock Morton, a well-known prize winner in the west. Mr. E. R. Brown's fine herd of Guernseys, fresh home from their victory at the International and Provincial exhibitions, were seen grazing at "Eastview," his rich and pretty farm just outside the city limits. A restful night was spent at the pleasant country home of Senator Ferguson, to whom grateful acknowledgments are due for kindly attentions shown; and a 15-m. l. drive across country to Pownal gave us glimpses of some of the most charming rural scenery it has ever been our lot to look upon, while the neat and well kept farms along the way were a constant source of pleasurable observation. A brief stay at the homes of Albert Boswell and Henry Lane, near Pownal, and a hasty look through their limited but meritorious herds of Shorthorn cattle and flocks of Leicester and Shropshire sheep, completed our all to brief visit to the sea-girt isle and her sister provinces, whose people by their intelligence, kindness and hospitality, fairly captured our heart, and left us only pleasant recollections of one of the most enjoyable outings in all our experience.

TREATY OF PEACE.

Opinions of the Press.

LONDON, November 7.—The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says:—"The semi-official papers have received a hint to stop their attacks upon America. I have good reason to believe, however, that Germany will doff her reserve as other powers seek a share in the spoils of the Philippines."

The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail says:—"Spain will sign the peace treaty under protest."

The Vienna correspondent of the Times, commenting upon the irritation of the German press over the attitude of the United States toward the Philippines question, says:—"It has but little importance and is only likely to excite the scorn and defiance of the Americans and tend to confirm them in their determination to keep the Philippines. The Fremdenblatt in a temperate article that gives the German papers an example of impartiality, recognizes that it is purely a question for the Americans to decide for themselves."

The Berlin correspondent of the Times after giving extracts from another long and potent article in the Kolische Zeitung declaring that the fate of the Philippines cannot be a matter of indifference to Germany, expresses the opinion that such utterances will only stiffen the attitude of the United States.

Preparations at St. John's.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 8.—The British government telegraphed the colonial ministry yesterday asking the number, tonnage and capacity of steamers available at this port to convey coal from Sydney for the use of British warships.

The cruisers Cordelia and Pelican will be held at Sydney to capture St. Pierre and to protect St. John's in the event of war being declared.

The cruisers are also instructed to break the French cable between St. Pierre and Brest, France.

On the Way to Damascus.

BEYROUT, Nov. 8.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany started for Damascus at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

The Flowers That Bloom in The Spring
Hyacinths
Tulips
Crocus

Should be planted now. Our Bulb Catalogue tells all about the best kinds, and how to plant them.

We have imported direct from Holland 2900 Hyacinths, 2650 Tulips, besides Crocus, Narcissus, &c. We have already sold quite a number of large lots to private planters, the largest yet being about 500 bulbs, but we have a good selection yet on hand. We hope soon to see as much interest taken in planting Bulbs for early spring flowers as is taken in other flowers. Being of easy culture, and hardy, no garden should be without them.
