Variety Of Alternatives Open To Medical Patients In Sask.

By KEN CLARK

SASKATOON (CP)—Saskatchewan's man-in-the-street will face a variety of alternatives under the province's amended Medical Care Insurance Act.

Officials say how he gets his medical bills paid depends partly on what kind of coverage he wants and partly on the doctor he chooses to treat him.

First, the citizen will be insured directly by the Medical Care Insurance Commission, administrators of the act. Whether he chooses to seek benefits or not, the citizen will begin paying premiums in November. These have been set at $12 per year for single persons, $24 for a family. Without premiums, costs of the plan this year is being met from tax sources.

A citizen insured under the act alone will pay nothing if he goes to a doctor who is working under the act. The doctor will send his bill to the commission for reimbursement.

But the patient may have difficulty finding a doctor working under the act.

MOST OUTSIDE ACT

Officials say most of the province's 625 practising physicians will work outside the act, although at least six co-operative clinics have been set up to work under it.

If the man insured directly by the commission goes to a doctor working outside the act, he must pay the doctor directly and send the bill to the commission for reimbursement.

Alternatively, the individual may decide to remain in a non-profit private group insurance plan or enrol in one.

About 60 per cent of Saskatchewan's population of 928,000 were enrolled.

In two doctor - sponsored plans, Medical Services Incorporated and Group Medical Services.

Nearly all doctors in the province have service contracts with one or both of these plans.

If a citizen covered by MSI goes to an MSI doctor under the amended plan he will pay nothing for medical treatment.

The doctor will send the patient's bill to MSI for reimbursement and MSI will collect from the government. The same would hold true for a GMS patient treated by a GMS doctor.

PAY SPECIAL FEE

If a person decides to join an approved private plan such as MSI he will have to pay an administrative fee for the privilege, the amount of which is yet undetermined.

If a person wishes to have nothing to do with either the government or a private agency —outside of paying his compulsory yearly premium—he can go to a doctor working outside the act and pay his own bill.

An agreement signed in Saskatchewan last week between the doctors and the government provided a doctor could practise for private fees apart from either the government plan or a private agency.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	4♠	Pass	4NT
Pass	5♣	Pass	6♠

Opening lead — ace of hearts.

Here is a dramatic hand played in the European championships in 1956. It occurred in the match between France and Italy.

When the French held the North-South cards, the bidding went as shown. Bourchitoff opened four spades and Sware responded four notrump (Blackwood). Sware then bid six spades after Bourchitoff indicated he had no aces.

Of course, Courchitoff was sorry he wasn't in seven when dummy appeared, but when East showed out on the ace of spades, he silently congratulated himself for having stayed out out of the almost-sure-to - make grand slam.

There were fireworks when the Italians held the North-South cards. At their table the bidding went:

East	South	West	North
1♥	4♠	Pass	4NT
Pass	6♣	Pass	6♠
Pass	7♣	Dble.	7NT
Dble.

Jais, for France, started the ball rolling with a heart bid. Forquet bid four spades. Trezel passed. Siniscalco bid four no trump (not Blackwood). Forquet accepted the invitation to bid a slam by jumping to six diamonds and then boldly undertook a grand slam when Siniscalco bid six spades.

Trezel now doubled. This was a somewhat doubtful procedure since it might have provided Forquet with the clue on which to justify a first-round spade finesse.

However, Trezel struck gold by doubling. Apparently, the double convinced Siniscalco that Trezel had a sure trump trick and that the grand slam could not be made in spades.

Accordingly, he bid seven notrump. He had no heart stopper. It is true, but he calculated (incorrectly) that Forquet would not have bid seven spades unless he had the ace of hearts. Siniscalco apparently thought that seven notrump might be made without bringing home the entire spade suit.

The outcome was disastrous. East led the king of hearts and the defense pealed off six heart tricks to set the contract 1,100 points. They lost 2,200 points on the deal.

Ore Deposit Looks Large

HERBERT, Sask. (CP) — An iron ore deposit located on the Yukon - Northwest Territories boundary may be one of the largest in the world on preliminary evidence, Resources Minister Dinsdale said Thursday night.

The discovery by Crest Explorations Limited, wholly-owned subsidiary of the California Standard Company, was a byproduct of petroleum exploration first announced about a month ago. It lies about 100 miles south of the Arctic Circle.

Mr. Dinsdale said he has been informed by California Standard president G. L. Knox that about 833 claims have been filed by the subsidiary—464 in the Yukon and the rest across the border. They total 93,300 acres covered from June to mid-July.

The minister, speaking at golden jubilee celebrations at this Prairie town, said he is informed that the ore beds are up to 300 feet deep on a belt some 33 miles long, and between three and 13 miles wide.

The iron was low in phosphorous and sulphur which made it potentially valuable for steel manufacture.

U.S. TO ROTATE TROOPS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Army has announced it is sending three battle groups to Europe for six-month tours beginning Oct. 1 in an expanded trial of its new troop rotation plan. The new program is designed to train units for rapid deployment anywhere in the world in emergencies.

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
