MR. CHARLES HOWATT, of this city, a few months ago went to Manitoba, having first secured a position on the Canada Pacific Railway. He returned last night, and thinks "there's no place like home."

DOG SHOW.—We understand that sportsmen have been interviewing the Field Committee with the view of holding a Dog Show in connection with the Exhibition at Charlottetown, on Wednesday, Oct. 11th. The Dog Show at Halifax Exhibition last year was very attractive and interesting and we see nothing to prevent a similar exhibition here.

NARROW ESCAPE.—About eleven o'clock this forenoon, Capt. Finlayson observed fire bursting from the fence and a pile of deals at the southwest corner of the Railway yard. There was a brisk breeze from the southwest at the time, and all the railway property was in great danger. But, fortunately, the tide was in, and men with buckets were at hand. The alarm was instantly given, water was quickly applied, and the fire was quenched.

THE four 40-pounder rifled field guns recently purchased in England by the Militia Department, and for which an appropriation was voted last session, have arrived at Quebec by the steamship "Erle King." In pattern these guns are similar to those recently used by the English troops in Egypt and which did such capital execution among Arabi's troops. The final disposition of the guns has not yet been decided upon.

A branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia is to be established in St. Andrews, John Black, Esq., agent at St. Stephen, attending at St. Andrews's, in the same capacity, two days in the week.

A forlorn widow, the third night after her husband's death, sat at the window watching the stars with sleepless eyes. "This trying to go to sleep," she soliloquized, "without a quarrel of some kind is so new that I can't stand it." Just then two men under her window fell to fighting. She watched the conflict to an end, then quietly undressed, saying, "That's kind of home-like," and in a few minutes was in bed and fast asleep.

The Paris Gaulois says that the revolutionary party of Paris embraces several different branches. "Among these 'The Federal Union' counts over 15,000 members; 'The Federation of the Centre' has 3,000; 'The Socialist Union' 3,000; 'The Blanquists' 350; 'The Anarchists' 420; the branch of 'The Intransigent' comprises about 500 men. Thus, there are in Paris about 22,000 revolutionists. All differ as to their special aims.

The Vice-Regal Party seem to be enjoying themselves in British Columbia. A despatch from Victoria says the week has been one of public rejoicing and enthusiasm. A drawing room was to be held in the Assembly Chambers. The Governor-General and Princess visited the water-works; while there a little girl, the child of a farmer, fell and broke her arm. The Princess took the child in her arms and carried her to the house and stayed with her till the surgeon whom the Governor-General sent for arrived from town.

For the last third of the month of August the receipts of the Suez canal were 1,800,000 francs, which, with those for the first and second thirds, gives a total of 4,100,000 francs for the month. Of the English war ships only two transports had paid their dues for transit and for being stationed in the canal, and 72 ships and transports remained yet to pay. It was declared a fortnight ago, for the future, war vessels would pay their dues on entering the canal in the regular way.

Cape Town advices state that smallpox is raging there. There have been two thousand cases there thus far, mostly natives. Six hundred proved fatal. The disease has reached the military. Cape Town has been declared infected, and all vessels sailing thence for other ports in the colony will be quarantined. The greatest excitement prevails in the South African diamond fields. Illegal measures have been taken to exclude persons arriving there who are suspected of having the infection. The streets of Cape Town have a deserted appearance and business is suffering greatly.

What is called the great fire of London broke out in a baker's shop in Pudding Lane, about one o'clock on Sunday morning, September 2, 1666. It raged furiously until the afternoon of Wednesday, September 5. In all, three hundred and ninety-six acres were burned over; fifteen of the twenty-six wards of the city, were swept clean, and eight others partially destroyed; four hundred streets were swept out of existence, and thirteen thousand two hundred dwellings, eighty-nine churches, four of the city gates, together with a vast number of civil private and public edifices were burned.

Information has been received by the Department of State from United States Minister at Madrid that he is constantly in receipt of letters from persons in the United States saying that they receive communications from persons residing in Spain informing them of the death, in Spanish prisons, of some near relation or friend, and that deceased left a young daughter in a destitute condition and asking for money to send the daughter to the United States. The Minister states that upon investigation of the same finds that without exception all these letters were written with the intention of swindling the parties in the United States to whom they were addressed.

The expedition which sailed in the steamer "Neptune" from St. John, Newfoundland, on July 8th, with additional stores for Lieutenant Greeley's party, returned on Saturday, to St. John's, having been unable to reach Greeley. A solid ice barrier was encountered, extending from Cape Inglefield to Ross Bay. Greeley's station is in lat. 81 deg. 40 min. The vessel was only able to reach lat. 79 deg. 20 min. The party remained until September 6th, when the ice had formed to a considerable depth and to remain longer would be to remain for the winter. The "Neptune" established depots to secure Greeley's retreat should it become necessary a year or two hence. No anxiety for the safety of the party is entertained; they are amply supplied with stores of all kinds for two years.

The inquiry into the decline of American shipping, authorized by Congress, will elicit valuable data respecting the shipping industry of Great Britain and the changes that have taken place during the past few years. In the days of wooden vessels the Boston and New York clippers rivalled those built at Aberdeen then the foremost shipbuilding port. Since iron shipbuilding came in the trade has gone to the Clyde and Tyne, even London failing to compete successfully, although the experiment was supported by Scott Russell and the Thames Shipbuilding Company. The Americans have lost not only the shipbuilding, but the ocean carrying trade. It strikes an observer as passing strange that only one Philadelphia line, and that of small proportions, should carry the American flag between this continent and Europe, and that leading Philadelphians go to New York and take English steamers.
