News Notes.

There are 138 American students attending Berlin University and only 24 English. Of the 3,788 students 3,181 are Prussians.

A despatch from Harrisville, Mich., says Alfred Henshaw, a wealthy citizen of that place, has confessed that he murdered Richard Drake, his business partner, in Strathroy, Ont., 10 years ago.

Finland, which is next door to the Russian cholera scourged districts, has successfully protected itself against the disease. This has been done by the rigid observance or enforcement of sanitary regulations and the prompt isolation of cases occurring. There has been no derangement of traffic to speak of, the only prohibitory laws called into requisition being those directed against the importation of rags, bedding and clothing from Russia.

The late Bishop Medley was an uncompromising opponent of the sale of seats in churches. When the subject of a cathedral was first mooted in Fredericton he stipulated that the seats should be all free and not appropriated as the property of worshippers. As long ago as 1853 he said, in one of his episcopal charges: "I have now for eight years tried the experiment of free seats by a very severe test, and I am perfectly satisfied with the result." It was once said of him that he believed churches should be dedicated to God rather than to the pew holders. This is a strong way of putting the matter, but a good many people think it is the right way.

Upon some subjects the Montreal Witness takes the right and patriotic stand. Recently it points out that in early days there was even more flying of flags in the United States than there has been in Canada from time to time; that it took long and weary years of strife and struggle to solidify the States and create the national feeling which now exists, and the inference is deduced, though rather feebly, that a similar unifying result will eventually ensue here. But in the following words our Grit contemporary does strike the true key note, and it certainly cannot be accused of jingoism: "We do not say that a form of flag worship should be established in our schools such as now prevails in some of those of the United States, but we do think our children should be taught to sing 'God Save the Queen,' which most of them are not, and to honor the flag of Canada." The more of patriotism there is taught in our schools the better it will be for this rising nation.

The Lords of the Admiralty have conveyed to the Dominion Government permission for Canadian registered vessels to fly the red ensign of Her Majesty's fleet bearing the Canadian coat-of-arms. This graceful action really recognizes the position assumed by Canada amongst the maritime powers of the world, besides placing over our vessels a flag which, though distinctively Canadian in one respect, is yet sufficiently British to ensure us the support and protection of British power in all parts of the world. Canada's commercial importance upon the ocean is fully evidenced by the figures:

	Vessels.	Tonnage.
United Kingdom.....	21,779	7,759,608
Sweden and Norway.	11,077	2,034,550
German Empire	3,635	1,233 894
Canada	6,991	1,024,974
United States	1,451	928,062
France.....	15,278	961.073
Italy	6,810	853,033
Russia.....	2,983	492,030

Such a record is one to be proud of, and the Canadian emblem can now wave proudly over a vast mercantile marine.

Boston prides itself on taking the lead in industrial education. In future shorthand is to be taught in the public schools. As an extra branch its general usefulness will be admitted, but the old question crops up, Which system of shorthand is to be universal? English reporters give Pitman a majority over other candidates, and he is in strong favor in the United States, we understand. But reporters who use old Gurney to-day in the House of Commons are among the most expert in the world. There are systems almost without number to choose from. Will the state step in at this juncture to establish one of them? That would settle the difficulty. But it is not easy of solution. One of the most reliable reporters in England invented his own system. Others have individualized book systems till they are unrecognizable. It is safe to say that few reporters adhere religiously to system. If they are not moist in the knuckles they abbreviate and make phrase characters to suit the exigencies of their own gait. A Toronto court expert declares that he writes the "corresponding style" throughout. A student would be ashamed to admit this. Newspaper shorthanders, who are the best men in the field, are fond of declaring that reporters are born, not made. Boston, however, has undertaken the industry of turning them out wholesale.

PEOPLE may talk about cutting prices, but we will take the credit of cutting the prices on clothing in two. We guarantee that no one has ever seen a larger or better assortment of clothing on P. E. I. than is to be found at our store. No young man should order an overcoat or reefer without seeing our tremendous stock. No one can afford to pay from $4 to $8 more on a coat than he can buy same coat from us, for money saved is money made.—Prowse Bros. s17 3i
