Nfld. Storm

side remain intact. Fishing wharves, dories, equipment and buildings were smashed by the mountainous waves that crawled hundreds of feet up rocky cliffs to bring many fishermen the worst disaster in memory.

DESTROYS BUILDINGS

As the storm appeared to be abating Tuesday, a report from Ferryland, on the eastern shore, said crashing waves destroyed five buildings, five small wharves and an undisclosed amount of equipment.

At Petty Harbour, in Conception bay, a small store, unable to stand against the wild seas, crumbled and its wreckage carried to sea.

There have been no reports of injuries as a result of the storm. In northern Newfoundland, destroyed dozens of wharves and stages. All around Conception bay, low lying highways are littered with undersea material. At one point a snowplow was out pushing rocks, sea weed, bottles and cans from the road.

Men were out with rakes and shovels and repair crews at Spaniards bay, were busy plugging two gaping eight-foot holes in the pavement.

FEW ESTIMATES

There have been few estimates of damage as fishermen continue to pull their gear a safe distance from the surging surf. Seas appear to be dying in most places, but with hundreds of pieces of timber still afloat, they are not taking chances. The Ferryland report said damage would be a minimum of $25,000 and the storm was still raging.

The loss to fishermen in St. John's was estimated at $12,000. Trains were delayed for more than four hours when waves battered the bedding from under the ties. Passengers were brought the remaining 15 miles to St. John's by bus.

At least four sections of highway were washed out, and the rail line was damaged in at least two places. Reports from many outlying settlements were not expected to reach St. John's for several days.

Willis Bay, on the east coast was swept by huge waves which, reports say, made a clean sweep of wharves and stages. Boats were reported driven from their moorings and crashed against the rocks.

No large fishing schooners, most of them anchored in harbors, were torn loose by the storm, but all small craft left in water were either damaged or destroyed.

Senator Grant On Job As Usual

MONCTON, The entire mink ranch of William Dawe, resident of Lulu Island near Vancouver, was loaded into a Canadian National Railway express car Friday and will arrive in Moncton today (Wednesday) en route to its future location in Whitehorse, Newfoundland, about 50 miles southwest of St. John's.

The carload shipment, which the owner estimates is worth about $6,000 consists of 140 animals, these include some of the later mutations such as Palominos, Iris Flowers, New Buffs and Amber Golds.

For their 4,500-mile journey the little creatures with the choice fur are housed in 85 crates, four to a crate, in individual compartments each crate measures six cubic feet and weighs nearly 60 pounds.

During their lengthy trip something like 2,000 pounds of ground horsemeat at an approximate cost of 12 cents a pound, will be consumed by the animals. Starting out from Vancouver, a supply of 750 pounds was placed in the mink's "commissary." At Winnipeg, the C. N. Express put on another 500 pounds aboard their special car and 750 pounds was to be ready when their train arrived in Moncton Tuesday morning. Additional supplies of this meat will be available at strategic points en route.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawe, their 13-year-old son Calvin, and Mr. Dawe's brother Gordon, are travelling with the mink, but, of course, in another car. They'll be in almost constant attendance, however, on the tiny express car travellers which, Mr. Dawe confesses do require extremely careful "baby-sitting" on such an occasion.

He explained the long move back to Newfoundland, his birthplace, was being made in the particular interests of much more economical operation in his chosen field. He said the Newfoundland Government is encouraging mink ranchers to settle near Dildo, on Trinity Bay, site of a whaling industry. There mink ranchers will be given advantages of cheap feed in the form of a basic diet of whalemeat. This will be available at approximately two cents a pound or considerably cheaper than horsemeat and just as nutritious, according to Mr. Dawe.

He said the Newfoundland Government, which is defraying his present mink shipping expenses, will also provide labor to be trained by himself and other experienced ranchers in order to improve the mink industry there. A mink rancher for 25 years, Mr. Dawe, although born at Clark's Beach, Newfoundland, has spent most of his life in Ontario and British Columbia. He is optimistic regarding prospects for future success in his native province.

Manager Has Pennant Hopes

CHICAGO (AP)—Marty Marion, new manager of the Chicago White Sox, is bubbling over with pennant hopes and tabs Cleveland as the big team to beat in the 1955 race rather than the highly-regarded New York Yankees.

"Although the Yankees got Bob Turley, Don Larsen and Bill Hunter," said Marion, former St. Louis Cardinal shortstop star, St. Louis Browns manager and White Sox coach, "I see Cleveland as our chief rival."

"The Yankees are going to miss Gene Woodling. Turley is a fine pitcher but the fact he lost 15 games for Baltimore last year proves he can lose."

"But as a whole, the entire American League is going to be a lot stronger. Detroit and Boston look good with their young players jelling."

Marion, who served Paul Richards as infield coach last year and then succeeded him as pilot when Richards went to Baltimore, believes the White Sox have improved so much through added strength that a pennant is not out of reach.

$50,000 Cobalt Bomb For Paris

MONCTON, A six-ton radio active cobalt bomb valued at $50,000 will arrive here this (Wednesday) afternoon in a sealed Canadian National Express car on its journey from Ottawa to a Paris hospital where it will be used in the fight against cancer.

Manufactured and shipped by Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., the bomb is going to the Henri Hartmann Surgical Centre in Paris, France. Heart of the "bomb" is the radio-active core which has the approximate measurements of five 25 cents pieces piled on top of each other. The core alone is valued at $20,000 according to officials of Atomic Energy of Canada, the small cobalt unit produces approximately the same amount of energy as $5-million worth of radium.

Throughout the entire overland and sea journey to Paris the radio active cobalt will be housed in its own specially-designed lead and steel container which has walls 12 inches thick and adds another two tons weight to the "12,000-pound shipment."
