Yankee Stadium Unfair?

CHARLES FINLEY, the owner who tried to move the Athletics out of Kansas City, says he would like to see some changes made at Yankee Stadium.—He says the only way to silence the powerful New York bats is to build a wall around them.

The controversial owner disclosed in a recent interview that he has urged an immediate meeting of American League club owners to compel erecting of screens in Yankee Stadium's left and right field corners to make them equivalent to 325-foot foul lines.

Finley says he asked for the meeting in a March 20 letter to league president Joe Cronin, contending the Yankees' 296-foot right field and 301-foot left field foul lines are "grossly unfair" to the league's other nine clubs.

Finley said the baseball code required any new stadium built after 1958 to have a minimum of 325 feet from home plate to the nearest fence. Although Baltimore's oval shaped Memorial Stadium has 309-foot foul lines, he said, the backing walls are 14 feet high.

"Every park except Yankee Stadium has retaining walls measured in feet," he said, "but at Yankee Stadium they are measured in inches—43-45 inches in that shallow right field 'front porch' and 43-51 inches in the left field corner.

"Through the years the Yankees have had pull hitters to take advantage of those short foul lines — Ruth, Selkirk, Henrich, Mize, Berra, Mantle, Maris and Howard. The Yankees' playing field advantage is one of the greatest injustices in the history of American sport."

Yogi's A Manager Now

THE SCENE WAS FT. LAUDERDALE, Florida, last week, and Joe DiMaggio was contemplating the possible successes this new Yankee manager namd, Yogi Berra, might have.

"Yogi is going to do alright," said DiMaggio. "I learned long ago that no one should ever sell Yogi short. I still can remember the first time I ever noticed him. And you must admit he's a difficult man to avoid noticing.

"He had joined the team (Yankees) late in 1946 and I never was aware of him until I saw this peculiar looking creature waddling up to the plate with a bat in his hand for his first swing at a major league pitcher.

"One swing and—boffo! He'd hit the first pitch into the stands for a home run. That's when I began to pay attention to him and I've been paying attention ever since."

Then Yogi, gazing fondly over his old idol and puffing on a cigar somewhat distastefully, had the floor.

"I gave up cigarettes for Lent," said the Yog, "and I just smoke one or two of the damn things a day. I hate them but they ease the craving for the buts. Ha,ha, maybe they make me look more like a manager.

"The Yankees this year? I expect to win because I think we have the best team."

Good ol' Yogi. Always uses lots of simple logic.

Off The Cuff

CAMBRIDGE are slight favorites to continue their post-war domination over Oxford in today's annual university boat race. But the margin is so slight that bookmakers insist that you put up five to win four, no matter which crew you fancy. A lanky Canadian, JOHN LECKY of Vancouver, will row at No. 5 spot for Cambridge, and Richard Spry, son of the agent-general for Saskatchewan in London, Graham Spry, it at No. 3 in the reserve Oxford boat. Spry is a spare and will not take part unless someone is injured ...... Today's N.S.-P.E.I. sudden-death Juvenile championship game between CHARLOTTETOWN LEGION and East Pictou Regional High School will be play-in Stellarton ...... RON TURCOTTE of Grand Falls, N.B., Canada's leading jockey for the last two racing seasons, will not be back in Canadian competition this year. He will remain on the Maryland circuit where he led all jockeys at the Bowie meeting ...... Probably the best basketball to be seen locally this season will be held at the Basilica Recreation Centre today in the Maritime Senior "C" tournament. Drop by and see one or all four of the games . . . Close friends and linemates Gordie Howe and TED LINDSAY used to employ a 50-50 formula of divvying up the bonus money the National League issues for its top point getters. Three times they finished one-two in the competition, pooled the award money for the two positions and shared it down the middle. Chicago's Bobby Hull and STAN MIKITA didn't employ this formula, mainly because they seldom appeared on the ice at the same time in games .... Harry Markson of Madison Square Garden has offered former heavyweight champion FLOYD PATTERSON 35 per cent of the gate and television rights to fight Cleveland Williams the week of June 22 ...... Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland are the only two Canadian provinces not represented in today's age-class indoor track and field championships being held at Kitchener.

HUNTER'S CORNER

Island Bounty Hunters Misuse Their Privileges

Bounty payments in the province have been stopped as of March 31st, 1964. After this date foxes, raccoons, skunks and crows will no longer have a price on their heads. Three dollars was the price paid on the face mask of fox and raccoon, one dollar on the snout of a skunk, with a portion of the white strip attached, and twenty cents on the feet of the crow. In areas where fox trapping was carried on bounty hunters have, on occasion, shot crows minus one foot. Such crows were called 'one footers and worth ten cents only.

Approximately 30 years ago the bounty was placed on "Jimmie" Skunk. The first year bounty was paid on six thousand skunks and the following year on five thousand. On the third year an approximate three thousand were presented for payment. For the next 27 years the average payment was between two and three thousand. The drop in payments on skunk snouts did not mean the animals were becoming scarcer — just smarter. At first skunks denned mainly under barns, verandas, hen houses, etc and strolled around the premises as if they owned the place. Now they favour back country woodlands and swamps. Sometimes abandoned fox dens were taken over. After thirty years of bounty payments we have approximately the same skunk population.

Great Horned Owls accounted for a lot of skunks when such owls were present in considerable numbers. Today the Great Horned is fighting for survival and it's a toss up whether he'll make it. Red foxes account for a lot of skunks, particularly while they are a few months old, but they also kill adults. On a number of occasions fox dens have been dug out and dead skunks found in the den with the pups. Two such den diggers reported the incident to me. They were under the impression that the skunk was after the fox pups and were killed by the parents. A few years ago a farmer told me that one morning, at daybreak, he saw a fox crossing his field with a full grown skunk in its mouth.

The bounty on foxes was put on during a period when their pelts had no takers at any price. Top fur sale prices stood around the fifty cent mark. Today Red fox pelts have come into their own and fetch oldtime prices on the Fur Sales. They have been on the comeback trail for an approximate ten years. For hunting with hounds is a sport as old as time itself so far as this province is concerned. My Dad hunted foxes, as a beginner, over one hundred years ago. Farmers have complained to me about bounty hunters running foxes in April and even later. Some run by dogs and shot were found, minus their face and ears, that were gaunt from nursing pups. Bounty hunters and seal hunters are in the same category.

The bounty on crows gave early season poachers an excuse to jump the gun on black ducks. The same goes for spring wild-geese. A few years ago poachers, in the guise of fox hunters, gave the geese at Portree Creek quite a going over. Guns were popping like a string of firecrackers while the hound was on the trail of a fox a half mile away. The bounty was never intended to exterminate the foxes in this province — they were here long before we were — but to make the trapping of them worthwhile. This spring I have heard fox hunters express regret over shooting a fox heavy in pup. Why should they be surprised? Foxes mate in late January and early February and the gestation period is approximately 52 days. Litters are sometimes born in late March but the majority are born between April 10th and 20th. I have seen litters born in May but this is not the general rule. Supposing the female's mate is shot this means she has to forage for food on her own. Some years ago a farmer told me he watched a fox, one winter evening, catch and eat over thirty mice. He could have caught more before he saw him hunting. He was so full at the last he'd toss them up in the air and play with them just like a cat. His hunting ground was an uncut hayfield covered with about a foot of snow — a made to order fox banquet table. The Department concerned has been paying out approximately sixteen thousand dollars per year on bounties and with no tangible results from this expenditure. Incidentally this has been the experience of other provinces as well as the States to the South of us. Many are of the opinion that this money could be used to good advantage on many other useful projects.

Montreal Shuts-Out Leafs In Opening Tilt Of Series

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens scored in the first and second periods to blank Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0 Thursday night in the penalty-record-setting opening game of their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi final series.

The four started mixing it up after Beliveau charged Pulford.

Dave Keon of Toronto was caught for tripping Jean-Guy Talbot and the Montreal defenceman for interfering with Keon at 2:39. Mahovlich argued too vociferously with referee Frank Udvari over that call and had a 10 - minute misconduct slapped on to his original minor.

Andy Bathgate of Toronto and Montreal's J. C. Tremblay squared off and were assessed majors for fighting at 4:53. The rest of the penalties were all minors.

FIRED FROM POINT

It was while Leafs were short a man after the early spate of penalties that Geoffrion put Montreal ahead 1-0 at 6:53. Talbot fired from the point to Provost at Johnny Bower's left.

The veteran goaltender went down to smother an expected shot from Provost and the Canadian slipped the puck across the goalmouth to Geoffrion at the other corner. It was almost impossible for the winger to make a mistake in scoring the 56th playoff goal of his career.

Backstrom made it 2-0 at 9:32 of the second period from a goalmouth scramble. Provost and Balon, who with Backstrom had been buzzing around Bower's doorstep, got assists.

Hodge finished up the night with a total of 25 saves, compared to Bower's 32. The Toronto netminder was credited with 20 stops in the second period, but many of these were long or weak shots. He had little chance on either of the goals.

The 16 first-period penalties broke by one the playoff record of most penalties in a single period set by Toronto and Boston in 1951 and tied by Toronto and Detroit in 1952.

The 16 penalties were split at eight apiece and thus each team tied the playoff record of most penalties to one team in a single period. The record was set by Boston in 1927 and twice tied by Toronto, in 1951 and 1952.

George Armstrong and Pulford were the Leafs who threatened Hodge the most. Twice the Montreal goalie had to do the splits to stop hard drives by Armstrong. Pulford also tested him, and nearly broke away twice with Leafs shorthanded as he played well in his penalty-killing role, a job at which he was badly needed.

SUMMARY

First period — 1. Montreal, Geoffrion 1 (Talbot, Provost) 6:53; Penalties — Mahovlich 1:06, Ferguson, Beliveau, Pulford, Baun 2:20, Keon, Talbot, Mahovlich misconduct 2:39, Bathgate major, J. C. Tremblay major 4:53, Harper 7:33, Talbot 8:30, Shack double minor, Ferguson double minor 13:09.

Second period—2. Montreal, Backstrom 1 (Provost, Balon) 9:32. Penalties — Stanley 1:00, Backstrom 4:56, Provost 11:50, Shack, Geoffrion 15:25, Bathgate 16:32.

Hawks Dump Wings Now Lead Series 1-0

By TOM WILLIAMS

CHICAGO (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks turned on the power for three goals in the third period here Thursday night to beat Detroit Red Wings 4-1 and take a one-game lead in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semifinal.

The Hawks, who finished in second place in the National Hockey League's regular season, were outplayed in the first two periods by the fourth-place Wings, and were outshot by the Detroit club all the way. But they made the most of their chances to hold the score to a 1-1 tie starting the third.

Pierre Pilote, Murray Balfour and Stan Mikita scored the third-period goals as the Hawks took control over the tiring Wings. Detroit's Andre Pronovost and Chicago's Ab McDonald exchanged first period goals.

GAME SUNDAY NIGHT

Second game of the series is here Sunday night. The third and fourth games are at Detroit next Tuesday and Thursday, with the fifth, sixth and seventh games — if necessary—alternating between Chicago and Detroit.

Both Glenn Hall in the Chicago nets and Terry Sawchuk for Detroit made phenomenal saves in the hard-hitting contest, which see-sawed between rugged, close checking and wide-open, breakaway style hockey.

Hall stopped 34 shots and Sawchuk 25. Sawchuk robbed Hawks' big guns, Bobby Hull and Mikita — The league's one-two scoring leaders over the regular schedule — on clean breakaways.

Hall played solidly all the way, stopping big shots by Wings' perennial leader, Gord Howe, Alex Delvecchio and Marcel Pronovost.

SUMMARY

Hawks Protest Upheld

DALHOUSIE, N.S. (CP) —A protest by Charlottetown Hawks in the Prince Edward Island intermediate "A" Hockey finals has been upheld, it was announced in Dalhousie Friday. Their second game with Summerside Combines was ordered replayed today at Charlottetown.

Hawks protested the final game of a two-game, total-goals series, won 2-1 by Summerside. Combines swept the round 9-4.

Charlottetown claimed a major penalty given a Summerside player was his second of the period, warranting an additional 10 minutes in the penalty box. President Edgar Petersen of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association said the referee did not give the Combines' player a misconduct to go with the major.

He ordered the replay today to decide an opponent for Fredericton Capitals in the New Brunswick Capital Monday, in the Maritime semi-finals.

Hoop Game Is Postponed

The second game in the Island Interscholastic Girls "A" basketball total point championship series scheduled for Prince of Wales Thursday evening, between Summerside High and PWC, has been cancelled until next week because Prince of Wales are currently writing examinations.

In the first game of the series two weeks ago in Summerside the teams battled to a 24-24 tie.

Legion Juveniles Play Big Tilt Today

The Charlottetown Legionaires leave here this morning and travel to Nova Scotia where they will meet the Nova Scotia champs in a sudden death fixture for the N.B.-P.E.I. Juvenile honors.

The Legion management has gathered together one of the finest Juvenile teams produced in this province for quite some time. The "Old Lamplighter" of Maritime Senior Hockey, "Buck" Whitlock is at the helm for the Legion squad and has being going all out in an effort to pass on whatever he can to help these boys who are just as anxious to learn as "Buck" is to teach.

The team played in the Charlottetown and District Junior League during the regular season and outplayed older and heavier opponents to take first place in the newly formed circuit.

Along with the regulars who have been doing such an outstanding job for the Legionaires, the Legion management has added three members from the St. Dunstan's Varsity in the persons of: Dennis DeCarufel, George MacMillan, and Mike Kelly, who performed very well for John Kane during Intercollegiate competition and will undoubtly help the local team in their quest for a Maritime Championship.

The regulars include such starry performers as: Gerry Kane, Jamey Kennedy, Alan Flood and Bill Weatherbie who will be performing at top speed in these all important playoff tilts.

Carl McQuaid who has established himself as the most promising of the younger crop of goalies coming up in Charlottetown, will be between the pipes for the Legion aggregation when the teams take to the ice.

A number of local fans are planning to make the trip to N.S. this weekend to attend the playoff game. They can get complete details on the trip by contacting Hal Whitlock, Charlie Ryan, or Harry Sentner, who are looking after arrangements for the Legion team.

Windsor Blasts Montreal In Allan Cup Playoffs

HALIFAX (CP) — Windsor Maple Leafs, a hockey team with few problems on the ice, move into the Forum here tonight hopeing to settle some off-the-ice difficulties.

The Leafs, with plenty of goals behind them but short on cash, meet Montreal Boisclair in the second game of Eastern Canada Allan Cup quarter finals.

Windsor won the first game Thursday night — an 11-2 pasting in their home rink which holds less than 3,000. The rest of the best-of-five series will be played at the Halifax Forum, which has held up to 9,000 for a hockey game but the fire department usually holds crowds to about 7,000.

The Nova Scotia and Maritime Champions were making no attempt to keep it secret Friday that they are deply in debt and need the revenue that big crowds here could provide.

"We would like to play the series here (Windsor)," said Leafs playing coach Georges Roy, "but the money problems make that impossible."

Meanwhile, the Montreal Club has its own problem --how to stop the powerful Leafs who showed their fine conditioning after nearly 90 games games this year - including exhibition affairs - in walloping Boisclair Thursday night.

Several of the Montreal players said after the game that the team would be stronger tonight. They blamed their third-period collapse -- when Leafs scored six goals -- on their own tiring, brought on by the long trip from Montreal.

JACQUES ALLARD

The Leafs themselves, who have been openly predicting they will win the Allan Cup, were surprised at the ease with which they defeated Boisclair.

Both clubs reported injuries after Thursday's game, with Windsor getting a tough blow in the loss of Rod Gaudreault for at least the rest of this series.

Gaudreaul, a powerful left winger, suffered a severe bruise on his right ankle when he tumbled into the end boards in the second period.

The other injuries were minor. Windsor's Jacques Allard, who set a Maritime scoring record this season with 183 points, was cut over the left eye and Montreal's Jacques Castonguay received a deep cut along the side of his nose when he was hit by a puck.

Windsor hopes Oscar Gaudet, a Moncton Hawks winger who scored 182 points in the Nova Scotia Senior Hockey League, will dress tonight. Gaudet was scheduled to play Thursday but was unable to get out of Newfoundland where Hawks are playing an exhibition series. Weather cancelled air flights.

This Week's Forum Action

The Forum management has set up a full week of activities for the coming week at the Charlottetown Forum.

The morning sessions at the local Forum will be devoted to skates for the benefit of the children. The skating will be staged Monday though Friday from 10.00 a.m. till 11.30 a.m. There will be a skate held on Saturday afternoon from 2:30 p.m. till 4:00 p.m.

The afternoon at the Forum for this week will be the game of the Interscholastic hockey playoffs between the Charlottetown Regional High School and Queen Charlotte High School, with the winner of this series set to go against the powerful Birchwood High Team for the Charlottetown Interscholastic honors.

Friday night there will be the regular skate for teens but the time will be changed to 8:00 till 10:00 instead of the usual time.

The tentative date for the closing of the rink is set for April 4th., and the reason it is tentative is that the Maritime Juvenile playoff dates are yet to be decided upon.

Fleming MacKell Is Named Coach
