

Coal-Steel Development Urged By APEC Official

MONTREAL (CP) — Nelson Mann, executive vice-president of the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council, Monday advocated a national development policy that includes further development of iron and steel-making facilities in the Atlantic provinces.

Mr. Mann said in a statement that business and government leaders, working together on a national development program, might well encourage additional processing of northeast-area ores in Nova Scotia.

He said people in the Atlantic provinces are greatly concerned with plans the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation has to build rolling mill facilities in the province of Quebec.

“While we might recognize that this decision has been dictated by present economic necessity, the opportunity to place their products—produced on Canada’s Atlantic coast—on the market at competitive prices without the hindrance of added transportation costs could also form part of a national development program,” Mr. Mann said.

Expansion of steel-making facilities would give a further outlet and use for Nova Scotia coal.

steel exists and much discussion and investigation have taken place as to how to use it in the best interests of everyone. The economy of the whole region depends in part on the quantity and the manner in which the coal is used. It depends, too, on the quantity and manner in which steel is used.

“The production of much larger quantities of iron and steel, using our coal and transported to markets at a rate making our iron and steel competitive, could well form part of a national development plan.”

Mr. Mann said science indicates that coal eventually will be used for manufacturing many chemical products.

“Steps taken to bring this about as soon as possible could be part of a national development plan, too.”

He foresaw development of the Hamilton River in Newfoundland’s Labrador as a potential power source for industry in the Atlantic provinces.

“Power rates are not high in our region, now but Hamilton River power would make them even lower, perhaps considerably lower. Our forest-resources industries, our potential mining industries and many of our other industries would benefit.

“New contacts and new associations on the part of Atlantic provinces business in providing foodstuffs from Prince Edward Island and other Atlantic provinces—as well as many other supplies for the northeast part of Canada — would, I suggest, be promoted by a development program—that included the northeast Arctic area with the Atlantic provinces region.

“Such a program for regional development associated with the concept of national development cannot help but build a greater Canada.

“Initiative, ingenuity and determination on our part and on the part of our national business and government leaders could provide the Atlantic provinces with the economic-growth potential we have been talking about, certainly since the day the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council came into being.”

Mr. Mann stopped over in Montreal while en route to New York after meeting federal government officials in Ottawa. He met officials of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation here during his stopover.

a winning streak were short-lived, as the Y.M.C.A. donated them to the P.W.C. gym on Wednesday evening by a score of 48-35. Once again, the Saints enjoyed a half time lead which they saw fit to lose in the second half. Is it because they have not the stamina or is it because they are unable to hold a lead? We do not know, but we do know, that the lads are quite capable of going the distance, and we would like to see them bring home more victories in the very near future.

SAINTS EDGE ACES 5-4
Wednesday evening saw the Senior Saints hockey squad capture their first victory of the year in the Charlottetown and District Hockey League as they defeated the league leading Aces 5-4 in the University rink.

This was undoubtedly the best hockey match around here so far this season, if not the best, the most exciting and crowd pleasing.

TO WOLFVILLE
St. Dunstan’s has dispatched two representatives to the regional conference of the National Federation of Canadian University Students which is being held at Acadia University in the Nova Scotia town of Wolfville.

Louis Doucette, N.F.C.U.S. chairman on the local campus and Francis Poirier departed Friday morning for the conference and will return late Sunday evening. The purpose of the seminar is to discuss the problems facing the organization in the Maritimes and to conceive and put in effect the necessary actions to solve them.

W.U.S.C. CONFERENCE
Some time previous to this, we informed you that W.U.S.C. was holding its annual regional conference at St. Dunstan’s the fire weekend of February.

The purpose of this seminar is similar to that of the previously mentioned organization in that it is to deal with the problems confronting the various branches in the Maritimes, and to arrive at some solution of them. The duties of host will be shared by St. Dunstan’s and Prince of Wales, both members of the organization in this region.

All members of the faculty and the student body are cordially invited to attend the sessions of the seminar and to learn a little more about this world wide and powerful organization. It does a lot more than sponsor the formal every winter and most of its work is never known by the average student.

That just above covers the various activities which have occupied the spare time of the Saints during the past week and, with very few exceptions, everyone has been busy keeping track of the places he has to go, beside going to class and doing a bit of studying, that is. One thing which we omitted was the fact that the intramural hockey league has been in action and going full tilt for the past several weeks and the schedule has been partially completed.

Whether or not it will be played over again remains to be seen and depends upon several factors which we will not relate here and now. The Juniors seem to have the teeth to beat this year, with the Engineers running a close second. We can look forward to some very fine hockey in the finals and, right now, in league play, good hockey is being played.

And so, the time comes for us to close another edition of the Week, the weekly report of the life enjoyed within the walls of St. Dunstan’s, the life of the University student of today, and the leader, in peace and in war, of tomorrow.

Gov’t Told Hospitals Face Major ‘Financial Dilemma’

OTTAWA (CP) — A delegation representing all public general hospitals in Canada told Health Minister Monteith Tuesday that Canadian hospitals are faced with a major financial dilemma.

The delegation said the problem stems from the fact that depreciation on buildings and interest on capital debt are not recognized as shareable costs under the national hospital insurance plan.

The six-member delegation represented the Canadian Hospital Association and the Catholic Hospital Association of Canada.

Delegates included Rev. A. L. M. Danis, executive director of the Catholic Hospital Association and Walter Dick of Moncton, N.B., chairman of the Canadian Hospital Association committee on accounting and statistics.

FINANCING DIFFICULT
The delegation said in a statement that hospitals are finding it increasingly difficult to refinance bond issues currently falling due or to issue new bonds to finance major renovations and new construction.

This was because of uncertainty among investment dealers as to how hospitals would be able to repay loans.

They had told Mr. Monteith they made the same submission last June—that for financial stability, hospitals must be reimbursed in full for cost of care.

“In establishing a national war, of tomorrow. Once again, good luck in your endeavors from the boys and girls who are being trained to take your places in Canadian life of the future.”

After 10 hours of testimony, a war crimes tribunal deliberated only 30 minutes before ordering death for Capt. Pedro Morejon on charges of assassination, homicide and robbery.

Major Camillo Cienfuegos, chief of the revolutionary forces in the Havana area, and one of Castro’s closest associates, made the gesture of threatening suicide.

U.S. Moon Shot Planned In Feb.
WASHINGTON (AP) — Another United States moon shot attempt is in the works for the latter part of February.

The national aeronautics and space administration and the army hope to blast off an army Juno rocket from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and send its payload past the moon into orbit around the sun some time around Feb. 26. But it was learned that final decision on whether to make the shot will not be made until about a week prior to that date.

Beginning around Feb. 26 the moon, in its monthly swing around the earth, will be at its closest point for a period of about six days.

In general, the experiment will be much the same as the last one launched by the army in December when Pioneer III soared to height of some 68,000 miles.

Husbands In Doghouse Form Own Association In London

By STEWART MacLeod
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — The burdens of London’s doghouse-dwelling husbands were eased tonight. They now can have the pleasure of sharing their misery.

The International Doghouse Club, launched Wednesday night, is dedicated to this noble cause. The idea is to have an occasional party in the doghouse.

But any member who expects the club to intervene in his domestic warfare is going to be disappointed.

“We’ll never go that far,” said an organizer. “I’m ruddy likely.”

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The U.S. Air Force blasted its 19th Atlas missile skyward Tuesday night in a reported attempt at another ocean-spanning 4,000-mile flight.

Launching of the giant missile came five days after a 4½-ton Atlas satellite burned up after a 35-day swing around the globe in orbit.

The Convair rocket climbed aloft at 6:34 p.m. EST.

Although indications pointed to a 4,000-mile shot, the missile’s behavior during the early stage of flight led to speculation that the Atlas may have been assigned to a bigger job. What the job was was not known.

The latest launching was the second in a new Atlas series.

U.S. Fires Atlas Shot

Although this fraternity is essentially for husbands, it’s not necessary for a wife to qualify your entry. Bosses will do the trick, too.

The club’s constitution says it is a “free association of sufferers who, by reason of their sporting, domestic, or other misdemeanors, have been committed to long or short banishment to the doghouse.”

The two London businessmen who organized this institution, Clarence Schofield and Dick Brennan, said they were “up to our necks in the domestic doghouse” when they decided to bring fellow-sufferers together.

So they designed a “distress flag,” or necktie, which must be worn after a member is relegated to the doghouse. Purchase of this tie brings club membership.

There are no plans for club-rooms yet.

The ties sell for about 15 shillings, and one shilling of this is donated to the National Cancer Defence League.

All doghouse occupants get some benefit from the club.

Designing the ties took several months.

Finally the organizers, with the help of a tie manufacturer settled for a wine background with small silver doghouses. A pair of upturned feet can be seen in the doorway.

“Wipe is soothing,” said Brennan. “This is a tremendously important factor.”

The designs are registered in several overseas countries, including Canada, and the organizers hope clubs will spring up around the world.

“Let’s face it,” said Schofield. “Doghouses are being occupied in every country.”

THE WEEK AT SDU

Patron Saint’s Day Was Well And Truly Celebrated

The faculty and student body of St. Dunstan’s observed Tuesday as the annual holiday in honor of their patron, St. Dunstan. The celebration was marked with several events which are traditional on this day. The faculty, reinforced by two or three students, played the seniors in a game of hockey and, as usual, the faculty won the contest. However, the struggle was not an easy one as both clubs were out for that all important win. A. J. MacAdam and Joe Mahar treated the audience, strong supporters of the Seniors, to an exhibition of passing and stick handling that is seldom seen in this day and age. Ray Hache, defenseman with the Varsity squad in the City league, was on the faculty team and he proved to be the big gun in the scoring department as he collected four goals.

Once again the faculty showed their supremacy on the ice, not, however, without the aid of several students and we think that if the men of learning were to face the Seniors without this aid they would have a chance.

Perhaps this is attributing too much to the graduating class of 1959, but we think not.

ANNUAL DINNER
The annual dinner was held in the University refectory at 12.15, immediately following Solemn High Mass celebrated by the rector, Rt. Rev. J.A. Sullivan, assisted by Rev. James Kelly and Rev. Thomas MacLellan.

The usual toasts were proposed and responded to at this gathering of the whole student body. One of the few times during the year that we are able to see all the students gathered together in one spot is the annual celebration of this day.

The guest speaker for the occasion was an alumnus of St. Dunstan’s, Mr. Frank Sigsworth, who is now doing work towards his lawyer’s degree. Mr. Sigsworth spoke on the question of common law and the rise of a wave of nationalism in Canada; he showed the development of the system of law which is used in Canada today and which is a combination of the best of the world has to offer.

JUNIORS WIN
The Varsity and the Juniors staged a hockey match in the new rink. This was one of the better games played this year and it was enjoyed by all who were hardy enough to venture to the scene of combat.

The Juniors received their first defeat of the year as they fell under the Juniors by a score of 5-3. In the opinion of many, it is a good thing that the Juniors were defeated before they assumed the attitude that they were kings of the league. Nevertheless we are proud of the manner in which the Juniors have thus far acquitted themselves and we wish them every success in the future.

The game was followed by a general skate at which the student body and visitors were welcome. The skate lasted until 5-45 and was enjoyed by all present. The large ice surface is being used to the fullest and the new facilities are appreciated by the entire student body.

As related last week, the Varsity Hockey squad were hosts to the visiting St. Thomas Tommies on Friday of the week we have watched pass so quickly. The Tommies revealed a regular powerhouse and they outskated our shot, and, in general, outplayed the Saints for the Majority of the contest. The final score was in the vicinity of 6-0.

Leo Shephard in the Saints net gave his usual good performance and played a big part in holding the score where it finally rested. In the third period, the Saints showed more fight than they had shown all through the game, gave the visitors a very hard time for a while. However, even though they threatened several times, they were unable to put the puck in the net and ended up with a goose egg to their credit.

It looked as if this might be a repeat performance of previous games when the Saints fired four unanswered tallies in the first period and then watched the Aces rifle two in the second and another two in the third. However, the Saints had enough left to pot the fifth in the dying minutes of the contest, and the Aces were stopped by the clock from getting any more. The Saints used only two lines against the Aces, full squad and skated with them all the way.

Jack MacDonald was the big gun for the Saints as he collected three goals, one of them the winner. Hache and Manning picked up the other two while Manning and Harris were play-makers on three scores. Leo Shephard in the Red and White nets played a standout game as he stopped shot after shot, and his performance was a major factor in the victory. Several times he made stops which, from the spectators angle, looked like sure goals.

The game was one of the fastest we have seen this year and this includes intercollegiate play. There were spurts of heavy body checking by both teams and this resulted in the handing out of eight penalties, one of which was a misconduct to Harris of Summerside. The Saints were on the receiving end of three trips to the sin bin, but no damage was done during these periods.

The speed of the game showed that the Red and White boys are fully capable of holding their own for three periods. Whether or not they have hit the mid season stride remains to be seen in future games. However, they have shown that they are able skate with the league leaders and we can hope for better results and more victories in the future.

OPENING OF RINK
Saturday night saw the official opening of the new rink which has been erected on the campus for the athletic needs of the students. There was a costume skate from 8 until 8:30 and the various costumes ranged from Cuban rebels to clowns. The first prize in the mens’ division was won by Gerald O’Day who was dressed as the devil, and the womens’ division was won by David Gallant with his getup of the 1959 co-ed.

The evening was occupied with an entertainment hour which was sponsored by the Glee Club. Father MacDonald acted as master of ceremonies and the various selections ranged from solos to group singing. The Bohemians, a group of six male singers, the pick of the lot here at St. Dunstan’s, rendered two selections and were recalled again to perform once more. Many of the performers were recalled for an encore, and everything ran smoothly during the hour and a half program.

Several speakers were heard, the various contractors who were responsible for the erection of the structure, and, then, Fr. Simpson, the bursar at the University, pronounced the new rink officially open. A general skate followed the official opening and the ice was very badly cut up and several large and long cracks appeared before the skate finished. They were repaired the next day and have offered no trouble as yet. The extra cold weather lately has made it necessary that the plant be shut off and the ice has suffered from the temperature; it has been said that the ice was naturally frozen over the past few days.

Following the Glee Club production, those assembled adjourned to the basement of the gym where the members of the Sorority served coffee and doughnuts. As usual, little groups gathered and began to continue the singing which had started upstairs. There was a merry old time for awhile when several groups tried to drown each other out, but no one seemed to mind and this only added to the festivities of the occasion. Finally, with the aid of David Gallant and the services of Richard (Dick) Pattee, the sing song was centralized and this was the manner in which the Saints finished off the celebration of St. Dunstan’s Day, one big, happy gathering, brought together for a single purpose and united by the notes of song and the spirit of youth.

Varsity Basketball
Over the weekend, the Varsity squad tackled the visiting Moncton Tucks and, after a hard fought and foul splattered match, managed to come out on top by four points. The final score was 58-54 in the Saints’ favor. The game was late in getting started as the visitors had trouble travelling. Nevertheless, the Saints, with two of the starting line-up missing due to injuries, proved to be more than they could handle and the few spectators on hand saw a fast and very close game in which several foul shots near the final whistle told the tale and decided the outcome.

Friday saw the Saints leave for Fredericton to do battle with the U.N.B. Red Raiders in intercollegiate play. The Saints lost their initial start against Mount Allison and they in turn fell to the superior strength of the Red Raiders. Incidentally, the score was the same in both cases; both teams lost by 14 points.

As we write this column before Friday, we can not say definitely whether or not the Saints will be at full strength. The picture at present is not too clear but it looks as if the boys will travel at least one man shy. Lorne McGuigan is in the University Infirmary and Gerry Tingley is laid up with pulled thigh muscles. Whether or not these two will make the trip time alone will tell. Despite these injuries, we are sure that the Saints will give a good account of themselves and we wish them every success in the coming contest.

SECOND BASKETBALL
This year’s edition of the Second Team Basketball has started to roll in the City League, after several defeats, and we expect to see them bring home the bacon more frequently in the future. Their last two games have been wins and Wednesday evening they took on the Y.M.C.A.

However, the expectations that the Second Saints were in
