A Sizzling Race

THAT National League pennant race was a honey the last time we took a look. That was before any action occurred Friday, the most of it taking place under the lights.

What he found was that the upstart Chicago Cubs had battled their way to the top of the senior circuit heap and shared this top rung of the ladder with the Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals.

When Cubs beat the Giants Thursday afternoon it was the fourth straight win for Chicago over the defending league champions and the 8th loss in eleven starts for Al Dark's charges. The Cubs did everything right against the Darkmen and the Giants' once good looking lead faded completely once the Windy City crew got through with them.

THE success to date of the Cubs is surely shattering the conviction that a team manager means a great deal to a ball club. Folks have had a great time blaming Walter Alston for Dodgers' lack of success. They have never once thought of putting the blame on the players.

In Chicago they have no manager but they work on a system of rotating coaches. About ten fellows get their turn at running the ball club and the blame can be placed on any one of them. Now that the Cubs are burning up the league, the same coaches should be receiving the plaudits of all baseball fans.

Playing Great Ball

CHICAGO is winning its ball games with good pitching and good hitting. They acquired Ron Jackson and Lindy McDaniel from St. Louis Cardinals for Altman and Cardwell and the deal seems to be helping both clubs. Jackson and McDaniel combined their pitching talents in that last game against the Giants and Lindy smashed a home run in the tenth to win the ball game. So far this season Jackson has registered seven triumphs for his new club.

The Cardinals aren't growling either. They are getting good service from their acquistions, so everybody seems happy. After all, both Cardinals and Cubs are tied with Giants at the top. Why should there be growling under such ideal circumstances?

THEY talk about the superiority of certain teams and how much greater they are than other teams. Any team in the majors can throw any other team for a loss on certain days. Washington Senators can suddenly become aroused and take their anger out on the New York Yankees. Casey Stengal's Mets have already proved this season that they are not scared by anybody. They have had plenty of fun in 1963 at the expense of the big fellows. When you want a win in the worst way, the hardest team to find facing you is the one that you should have no trouble beating. That's the very time you just can't buy a triumph.

Loads Of Bad Luck

THE New York Yankees surely have their share of bad luck as far as injuries to players are concerned.

Mickey Mantle is out with a broken bone in his toe and it could be eight weeks before the Bombers see his services again. The very next game one of their promising hurlers Jim Bouton, gets smashed on the face with a line drive off Jackie Brandt's bat and eleven stitches are necessary to close the cheek wound. At that Bouton was mighty fortunate that he didn't get a injury similar to the one that ruined Herb Score's career.

These are the breaks of baseball and Ralph Houk, in his third year at Yankee Stadium, is experiencing plenty of woe this season. These are the breaks that make and break pennant winners and Houk has his work cut out repeating in 1963 if the bad luck continues to haunt him.

Some years there's very little difference between the pennant winner and the team that fails to get into that world series. A freak grounder, a fly lost in the sun, the muffing of a double play, all of these little things could decide a pennant winner.

RIGHT now we have a great race in each league and it would be a great thing for baseball if it continued right through until mid-September. The turnstiles would click merrily, just as they did for San Francisco and Los Angeles last year.

Both races could indeed be sizzling right to the wire.

Rodriguez Underdog For Return Title Bout

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight champion Luis Rodriguez, winner of his last 12 fights, is a 13-to-10 underdog for his return title bout with ex-champion Emile Griffith of New York tonight.

The odds may narrow down to even money by the time the fast-punching 147 - pounders climb into the Madison Square Garden ring for the 15-round televised contest.

Rodriguez, a clever boxer with nimble feet and shifty moves, dethroned the two-time champion on a unanimous but close 15-round decision at Los Angeles last March 21.

Griffith hopes to become the first boxer ever to win the welterweight title three times.

PREDICTS KNOCKOUT

An aggressive fighter who wears down an opponent with body punches, Griffith says he will corner the elusive Cuban and whip him soundly.

He runs like a horse, but I'm going to tide him this time," said the 24 - year - old New Yorker. "I'm going to get him and knock him out."

The 26 - year - old Rodriguez, who now lives in Miami, says: "Knockout or no, I'm going to win it so big there won't be any questions about the fight."

Chances of a knockout are slim. Neither has been stopped before. In addition they will wear eight-ounce gloves under the new safety regulations of the New York State Athletic Commission. Previously, the thinner - padded, six - ouncers were used for title fights in New York.

Another new measure provides for the mandatory eight-count on knockdowns and the three knockdowns in a round rule, previously waived for championship contests. A boxer knocked down three times in one round loses on a technical knockout.

All-English Final Seen In Cup Play

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (CP-AP)—British Walker Cup player Michael Lunt and fellow Englishman John Blackwell advanced through semi-finals Friday to give the British amateur golf championship an all-England final.

They knocked off the last two surviving Americans Friday afternoon following the elimination in morning quarter-finals of two other U.S. players, including defending champion Richard Davies.

Lunt and Blackwell meet today in the 36-hole match-play final.

Their success ended a U.S. run of triumphs in Walker Cup years in Britain.

Ever since 1926—the year Jesse Sweetster won—an American has taken the British amateur title in a Walker Cup year. The team match is played in Britain every four years and it was won this year again by the U.S.

Lunt, 28-year-old Englishman, knocked off two U.S. players Friday, first ousting Davies in the morning and then bouncing U.S. Walker Cupper Dr. Ed UpDegraff in the afternoon.

Blackwell, 48-year-old member of a food packing firm and a member of the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews, knocked out Dr. Ron Luceti of the U.S. in his semi-final, winning 3 and 2

Smith-Reined Poplar Flash Has Best Time On Card

Harness racing fans last night saw 7-year-old Poplar Flash step the fastest mile of the night, 2:12.2, in the twice-postponed second card of the season at the Charlottetown Driving Park.

Poplar Flash, a chestnut gelding owned by Ramsay and Howatt of Albany and reined by veteran trainer-driver Cyril Smith, had no opposition in racking up the victory in his first outing and as a result was barred from betting in the second dash of the Open Trot event.

In his second trip the gelding broke and came in fifth. Bifty Silver, owned by Wendell Barbour, took the second dash in 2:13.1.

The Sheik, favorite on the board going away in the second half of this race, was involved in a slight mixup shortly ofter leaving the wire and finished sixth. He came in second in the first dash.

Dale Regent and Captain Chief shared honors in an Open Pace feature, Dale Regent capturing the first half in 2:14 and Captain Chief, runner-up in the first dash, stepping the mile in 2:14.4 for the win in the second mile.

TAKES FIRST MARK

Dot's Boy, a 6-year-old brown gelding owned by E. H. Nicholson of New Wiltshire and driven by Joe Hennessey, scored the first and second victories of a short racing career in an event which included only green horses and maidens.

The gelding, who placed three times and showed once in 12 outings last season, beat out a field of six other horses to take a mark of 2:16.3 in the first dash of the evening. His time in the second trip was 2:17.2.

The two other winners on the card were Perfect Hal and Garth's Best.

Veteran driver Lorne Kelly reined Perfect Hal to victory in the second dash of the evening and the 12-year-old bay gelding returned the biggest single pay of the night paying $18.80 to win and $31.90 across the board.

Emmett Bernard, who had urged Garth's Best to a second place finish in this dash, took the second mile in 2:14-4.

The first daily double returned $37.70 on a combination of Dot's Boy and Perfect Hal. The quinella, on the third race, returned $8.90 and the second double, on dashes 6 and 7, paid $12.30.

First Stage Of Match Goes Today

The first stage of the president's match and also the qualifying round of the Dowling handicap match will be played today at the Belvedere Golf Club.

A mixed foursome competition will take place Sunday starting at 2 o'clock Post entries will be accepted.

CPGA Champ Sets Golf Target Today

TORONTO (CP) — Alvie Thompson, 1962 Canadian Professional Golfers Association champion, will shoot his National Golf Week "Beat the champions" competition round here Sunday at his home course, the 6,800-yard, par-70 Northwood Country Club.

The CPGA champion's score is the annual target of thousands of male amateurs who pay $1 a round during National Golf Week in Canada for the right to try to post a better score than the champion.

The ladies compete against the Canadian Ladies Open champion of the previous year. Nineteen - year - old Gayle Hitchens, 1962 ladies open champion, set the standard for women last week when she posted a 79 at the par-76 Capilano course in North Vancouver.

All proceeds from the cross-Canada promotioin go towards furtherng junior golf in Canada. Last year's competition ends next Sunday.

Thompson's last tournament action was in April when he was 26th in the Masters championship at Augusta, Ga. He shot a 66 on the tough Northwood course only two weeks ago. The course record is 65.

"Stan Leonard once shot a 62 or 63 as his national golf week round," says Thompson. "I guarantee I won't do anything as good as that on this course but I hope to rise to the occasion."

PLAYS IN FOURSOME

Trying to help Thompson "rise to the occasion" Sunday will be the other members of his foursome, Bill Mawhinney, head pro at Northwood, George Hevenor Sr., 1962 Canadian seniors champion, and National Hockey League star Andy Bathgate, assistant pro at Northwood.

Thompson, who won the CPGA title last year in a playoff with Stan Leonard and George Knudson, two of Canada's top pros, played on the United States pro circuit this winter.

A family man, Thompson says he wouldn't like to join the U.S. pro tour permanently but would like to play in the U.S. for part of the year, preferably during the winter.

Seven Three-Year-Olds Go In Final Triple Crown Race

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Candy Spots is rated the odds-on favorite at 1 to 4 to capture the 95th Belmont Stakes today at Aqueduct. Seven three-year-old colts are officially entered for the last of the big Triple Crown events.

Agreement is unanimous, even among rival trainers, that Rex C. Ellsworth and trainer Mesh Tenney from California have the solid horse for the tough 1½-mile classic. On the other hand, they point out. none of the starters ever has been asked to travel that distance.

There is only one way to find out, and that is to try on Candy Spots for size. The lanky chestnut was the 3-to-2 favorite for the 1¼-mile Kentucky Derby May 4 and finished third. He was 3-2 favorite for the 1 3-16-mile Preakness May 18, and won.

John W. Galbreath's Chateaugay, who won the Derby but finished second in the Preakness, is listed as second choice for the Belmont stakes at 4 to 1, with Patrice Jacobs' Bonjour next at 8 to 1. Rounding out the field are Louis Lee Haggin 2nd's Choker and C. V. Whitney's Tom Cat, both 20-1; George D. Widener's Top Gallant, 12-1; and Wheatley Stable's Insurrection, 30-1.

The race was shifted this spring from Belmont Park, where it had been run since 1905. The stands there are unsafe.

After he routed his Preakness foes, Candy Spots stopped off at Garden State Park and grabbed the Jersey Derby—his fourth $100,000 haul of the season. Earlier he won the Santa Anita and Florida Derbies.

WINNER GETS $101,700 .... ..

With seven going the Belmont will gross $145,450, the winner taking $101,700. Candy Spots already has earned $555,527.

Candy Spots has the top money rider in Willie Shoemaker, who won the race with Gallant Man in 1957, Sword Dancer in 1959, and Jaipur in 1962.

"I've got to think there's one big horse in the race—Candy Spots," said Syl Veitch, who trains Top Gallant.

"But, the Belmont has been the graveyard for many a big horse, and I think Top Gallant is the next best stayer in the race."

Showers wet the track Friday, but clearing weather is forecast for a crowd of some 60,000. Post time is 4:48 p.m., EDT.

Practice Called For Kingfishers

A practice has been called for Johnny's Kingfishers for 2.30 this afternoon on the K of C diamond. With league play getting underway early next week all players are asked to be on hand for this important workout.

The Kingfishers would also like exhibition games on the weekends. Any team interested in playing them are asked to contact Billy Gallant, 260 Dorchester St., or phone 894-3844.

Brit. Yachtsman Seeks Name For Challenger

GLASGOW (AP)—Tony Boyden, British yachtsman who hopes to win the America's Cup from the United States, was seeking an original name for his challenger Friday.

Boyden, a London paper manufacturer, said the yacht is to be launched on the Holy Loch near here June 25 and he still doesn't know what to call her.

"I've submitted several names to the registrar of shipping, but each time it has been rejected because someone is using it already," Boyden said.

The craft was designed by David Boyd, designer of Britain's last unsuccessful challenger, the Sceptre. She has been built at Alexander Robertson's shipyard.

Boyden said: 'My new yacht will have trial races against Sceptre on the Clyde between June 14 and 23.

"Sceptre is still the fastest yacht Britain has. If my yacht fails to beat her she will never put to sea again."

Mantle Placed On Disabled List

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle, convalescing at his home in Dallas from a broken left foot, was placed on the disabled list by New York Yankees Friday.

The slugging centre fielder sustained the injury crashing into the outfield fence in Baltimore last Wednesday. He is not expected to return to action for at least five weeks.

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk made the decision, which automatically makes Mantle ineligible for 30 days, after concurring with club doctor Sidney Gaynor.

Houk said he had no plans to bring up a replacement for Mantle. Instead, he will alternate Tommy Tresh and Joe Pepitone in centre field, depending upon the opposition.

Football Ass'n Head Dies Fri.

LONDON (AP)—Graham Doggart, chairman of the English Football Association, collapsed and died Friday while presiding at the association's annual meeting. He was 66 and had suffered heart trouble for some years.

REGARDING TRACK MEETS

MacArthur Says Decision Is Final

NEW YORK (AP)—An obviously piqued Gen. Douglas MacArthur bluntly told a dissident U.S. college group Friday that there will be no change in sanctioning procedures for open track and field meets.

"This decision is final," he declared.

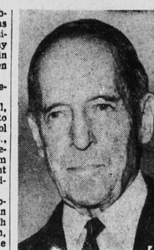
The 83 - year - old general, picked by President Kennedy to arbitrate a dispute over control of amateur sports in the U.S., rendered the latest in his series of decisions in a telegram to William W. Russell, president of the U.S. Track and Field Federation.

Russell, whose college - supported organization is locked in an acrimonious struggle with the Amateur Athletic Union, had balked at a directive by the general ordering colleges to rescind their ban on the AAU track and field championships at St. Louis June 21-22.

The meet will select U.S. athletes for the dual competition with the Soviet Union in Moscow this summer.

SEEN AS CRACKDOWN

The general's latest statement was interpreted as another crackdown on the college federation, which has been seeking a joint voice in the direction of amateur sports. The AAU long has been the sole sanctioning agent for the Olympics and other international events such as the Russian meet.



GEN. DOUGLAS MacARTHUR

Russell, reached in Houston where he is conducting the USTFF track and field meet, said he raised the latest issue because he and his group still felt that the colleges had a right to say where and when their athletes compete.

"All we want is that the AAU ask us formally to let USTFF athletes compete," he said. "It's strictly a jurisdictional matter."

The AAU apparently has no intention of giving the USTFF this kind of recognition.

Local Track Has Good Racing Card

Another great looking harness racing card is scheduled for Charlottetown Driving Park tonight.

It's the third program of the young season and it promises to provide the best action to date.

Classifier Frank Acorn has lined up a fine looking card and picking victors in this one should give folks a good deal of difficulty.

The feature dashes, four and seven, have seven starters and everyone of the seven has a perfect license to head the field to the wire. Emmet Bernard has drawn the rail with his Meadow General and this means that in that first trip of the feature the Bernard-driven pacer will be tough to head. The opposition in these dashes will be supplied by Slippy Queen, Ginger E, Hurrah, Ellen Joyce. Ida Budlong and Princess Mark.

Dashes three and seven could easily steal the spotlight from the feature race. In these miles you'll find six smooth going pacers battle it out. Walter Kelly has the rail in the third dash and that should mean that his Willard's Choice will be favorite leaving the first time out. Other speedsters in these dashes are Sky Prince, Arthuro Hanover, Denise Ann, Clover Boy and Chief's Gal. All of these horses will have plenty of backers at the mutuels.

Four other dashes round out the promising looking program which gets moving promptly at 8 o'clock.

Golf Week Nears End

National Golf Week winds up this weekend and local golfers will have their final tries at matching shots with PGA champ Alvie Thompson and Gayle Hitchens, Canadian Ladies' Open champ of 1962.

Miss Hitchens last week set a 79 mark for the local women golfers to shoot at and Alvie Thompson will set the standard for the men today.

The annual event is open to all amateur golfers who must pay an entry fee of one dollar for the right to match their low net score with the low gross score of the champions.

All proceeds from this competition go toward the advancement of junior golf in the respective associations.

The golfers who card better scores than the respective champs receive 'I Beat The Champ' medals for their effort.

Competition for Juniors is slated at the local club today but due to the poor weather may be extended for another week.

There will also be a short meeting of Junior members from the local golf club Sunday at 6 p.m. at the club. All Juniors are requested to attend.

Feature Set For Halifax

HALIFAX (CP) — Eight horses go to the starting gate in the first leg of the 1963 Maritime circuit free-for-all at Sackville Downs tonight.

Bob Brook, five-year-old pacer owned by Don MacKenzie of Glace Bay, N.S., rates as favorite in the two-dash $1,500 event on the basis of 1962 records.

A newcomer to Maritime racing and rated strong is the six-year-old Park Rainbow, owned by W.G. Barbour of Charlottetown.

The Francis Breau stable of Moncton will enter a double threat in the feature race with Symn's Best and War Cry Ranger.

Other entries include Edgewood Hedrick owned by the West River, N.S., stock farm, P and G, owned by Stan Mayhew of Kinkora, P.E.I.; Kinney Forbes from the Halifax Tartan Stables and Rhythm Time, owned by Telesephore Colette of Newcastle, N.B.
