and buying of meat. Mr. MacKinnon said that of seven meat shows held in Alberta and British Columbia, there was an overflow attendance at each one and the questions asked by the housewives indicated that there was a profound appreciation of the Council's efforts to make for a better informed buying public.

"Will it detract from the consumption of other agricultural products?" is the question asked by producers in other branches of agriculture. To this Mr. MacKinnon states: "Definitely not—we would simply show the housewife how to get more for her dollar in regard to meat products."

In conclusion the speaker asked the various breeders' associations present to give the matter very careful consideration. He felt that the organization can do much to improve the quality of meat products and tend to improve relations between producer and buyer, and thus insure a ready market at all times for Canadian meats.

Honored guests at the head table included Premier A. W. Matheson; C. C. Baker, Minister of Agriculture; Mr. R. Bell, Q.C.; Mr. George Kitson, M.L.A.; Frank Wolf, Judge of the Show; Mr. Tait, buyer for the Eaton Co.; Mr. T. M. Gilles, buyer for Swifits; Mr. G. E. Hartlen, buyer for Canada Packers; Mr. Ellington MacNeill; Mr. Snell, buyer for Swifits; Mr. William Flemming, vice-president of the Canadian Shorthorn Breeders' Association; Dr. Adrian Meurant and Mr. J. E. MacIntyre of the Federal Department of Agriculture.

Both Premier Matheson and Mr. Bell spoke briefly, and congratulated the committee in charge and the breeders who have shown a desire to improve their show from year to year.

All hatcheries in the Province report that the chick sales have been slow during the past month. In conjunction with this plant, a complete fruit and vegetable processing operation is being organized. This plant will, when completed, freeze and fresh package a complete lot of fresh vegetables and poultry.

show, indicates the increased interest that this agricultural event has aroused, not only among the farmers, but among the citizens of Charlottetown. Scattered among the crowd was a large number of local and mainland buyers which augurs well for the success of the sale today. Out of 109 cattle entered in the show, 42 were culled out. This indicates that the choice steers to be found in Canada will come under the hammer of Auctioneer Claude Craswell at 1 p.m.

U.S. Comedy Presented At Montague

"In presenting 'Jenny Kissed Me' to an overflow audience, at Yeo's Theatre, Montague, last night, the Benevolent Irish Society demonstrated that rollicking light comedy is always a headliner with the people of Montague and vicinity and putting it across is a natural for the Irish.

Directed by J. Pius Callaghan, C. D. A., who also played the lead as Father Callaghan, the cast of fourteen chalked up another successful showing.

All the scenes were played in St. Matthew's Rectory, where throughout the three acts a continuity of happy and unusual incidents kept the audience on edge in anticipation, or enjoying round after round of carefree laughter as the show developed to a climax.

The specialties between the acts were also of a high order. The Roberts Sisters never performed with greater grace and rhythm than in their two billed numbers and encores which the audience would not be denied. The clever young dancers moved as one through the Irish dance and the sailor's hornpipe with music by Al Dowling and Waldo Munro. Phil Dowling played the accordion.

The cast of characters included besides Mr. Callaghan, Michael Saunders by Everett Beagan; Mrs. Deazy, Bernadette MacDonalby; Sister Mary by Angela, Alice Morris; Shirley Tirabossi; Olga Dowling; Miss Stearns, Gertrude Balsam; Mary Delaney, Velda Noye; Harry, Benita Bins; Jo, Mary Elaine Trainor; Owen Parkside, James Dolron; Jenny, Maureen Beagan; Jane, Rosalie Hennessy; Mr. Parkside, James MacAleer.

Between acts two and three the Rev. J. W. McCauley, rector of St. Mary's Parish in Montague, expressed appreciation to Mr. Bruce Yeo for the use of his theatre for the entire cast of the play for their splendid performance, and to Mr. George Boudreau and his assistants who did a good deal of work in making the stage ready and contributed considerably to the outstanding success of the play.

RICH BROWN "GLASGO" BRICK

A home of warm, brown "Glasgo" brick has the luxurious appeal of rich old leather; timeless, impressive and comfortable. Yet "Glasgo" brown is the new star of materials with contemporary designers.

One reason for its great popularity is the range of shapes available. The standard shape for conservative designs; the long, thin Roman for ground-hugging ranch styles; the sensational modular, S.C.R. shape for spectacular economy.

If you can afford any home, you can afford to build better with brick.

Glasgow Visited By Dr. Bonnell

(By Alvin Steinkopf)
GLASGOW, (AP)—A Canadian-born New York Presbyterian minister who made a flying trip here to encourage American evangelists Billy Graham said Thursday he got his first briefing on the religious situation in Scotland from a manicurist.

"I was in a layman's suit—I find it the best disguise when I go spying among people to find out what they really think about churches," said Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell. He is a native of Dover, P.E.I., who went to New York's Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church 15 years ago after holding charge for Saint John, Halifax and Winnipeg.

"So, to break the ice, I asked the pleasant manicurist working on my nails whether she had been to a session of Billy Graham's all-Scotland evangelistic crusade.

MAKES RELIGION LIVELY
"Not yet," she said, "but I'm going to because I have heard Graham makes religion lively and interesting."

"So I asked her what she thought of Scottish churches, and she said 'too dull,' which is the Scottish way of saying 'low.' She said said music makes her sadder and what was the use of getting that way."

Dr. Bonnell said he passed on the girl's comments to Scottish religious colleagues.

Dr. Bonnell said 500 Scottish clergymen the Graham crusade will yield many newcomers to the churches, but the ministers will have to keep them there.

"Graham spreads the net and he catches many souls, but the Scottish way of saying 'low' must carry on after he leaves."

He advised simple sermons, saying: "Save the difficult theological terms for use exclusively at meeting of ministers."

POPULAR SPORT
Mechanical hares for greyhound racing were first tried in England as early as 1876.

Prince Street Home, School Ass'n Meeting

The March meeting of the Prince Street Home and School Association was held last evening in the assembly hall with the president, Rev. Marvel Dunbar, presiding.

The meeting opened with prayer by Mr. Dunbar, followed by a short business session.

Miss Marguerite Brehaut introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Gordon MacDonald, Provincial Home and School president, who spoke as her subject, "Teacher Recruitment."

This was followed up by a lively skit in the form of a discussion on the subject by Mrs. Wally Scantlebury and Mrs. Charles Willett, after which discussion groups were formed and the findings brought back to the meeting. The following questions were discussed: (1) The advantages and disadvantages of the teaching profession; (2) The desirability of forming a Home and School council.

Mr. Dunbar moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. MacDonald and her competent assistants.

Delicious refreshments served by the catering committee, brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

Oppose Yellow Fire Hydrants

SUDBURY, (CP)—Mayor Leo Landreville told board of control Wednesday he mentioned to his wife that fire chief Bob Scott had recommended painting the hydrants yellow for easier visibility at night.

So did board of control.
