HASZARD & MOORE SUNNYSIDE.

Good Night '98!

Will soon be said, and as we enter upon the threshold of the New Year we think it well to express our acknowledgements of the many favors received from the buying public of the City and country during the current twelve months.

They have patronized us liberally, many even going so far as to say that our selection of Flour, Tea, and all General Groceries can always be relied upon. We certainly have tried to do our best, and it is gratifying in deed to learn that the effort is appreciated. We shall say nothing about next year's plans at present, but with best wishes for a happy New Year, would suggest that you get our prices before buying elsewhere.

TO OUR Friends

& Patrons

We desire to thank you heartily for your most liberal patronage during the holiday season.

That our efforts to please the people, have been appreciated is evident from the fact that this last week has been the busiest in our experience.

We shall continue our efforts to make this store an attractive one.

Endeavoring always to sell good goods at lowest prices.

Sincerely yours

NEW YEAR MAGAZINES.

HARPER'S.

The New Year's issue of Harper's is especially valuable by reason of noteworthy contributions to political criticism, important estimates of contemporary men and events, and interesting descriptions of regions of the world that have lately been brought into prominent notice. Among the most prominent features are "Bismarck the Man and the Statesman," a personal estimate of the Iron Chancellor, by Charlton T. Lewis; "The Sultan at Home," by Sidney Whimmar, F.R.G.S., illustrated by Harry Fenn; and "A Glimpse at Nubia, miscalled the Soudan," by Capt. T. C. S. Speedy, illustrated from the author's photographs, by R. Caton Woodville. The number opens with an accurate and interesting account of "The Naval Campaign of 1898 in the West Indies," by Lieutenant S. A. Stanton, U.S.N., illustrated by Charlton T. Chapman. Henry Loomis Nelson contributes a timely and instructive criticism entitled "The Weakness of the Executive Power in a Democracy," as illustrated in our late war. Other articles of great value and contemporary interest are "Brother Jonathan's Colonies," by Professor Albert Bushnell Hart, and "Fifty Years of Francis Joseph," by Sydney Brooks.

LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

The New Year's Ladies' Home Journal gives assurance of a purpose to make the magazine more useful and helpful, and stronger in its literary and artistic features, during 1899 than ever before. It contains a number of practical articles, besides a score of features of light interest, and opens with a full page drawing by W. L. Taylor, illustrating Longfellow's "Village Blacksmith." Early Colonial social life is mirrored in "The Most Aristocratic Social Event in America"—the annual ball of the Philadelphia "Assembly," an article that will be read with unusual interest. A close-range view of strong interest is given of Leschetizky, by Cleveland Moffat, who discloses the methods of "The Man Who Taught Paderewski," and Elizabeth G. Gordon tells "What it Means to be a Newspaper Woman," a subject upon which she writes from her own experiences.

Edward Bok, in the January Journal, writes on "The Rush of American Women," making a plea for more respect, through which the real pleasures of life are to be extracted. In fiction, the experiences of "The Girls of Camp Arcady," "The Minister of Carthage," and "The Jamesons in the Country" are continued. The first of a series of articles on "The House Practical" details how to furnish and decorate the hall and staircase, and other page features give photographs of "Fifteen Good Halls and Stairways" and "Pretty Rooms of Girls." Mrs. S. T. Rorer tells how to carve and serve meats and game, and gives a variety of menus for small social affairs. There are numerous other practical articles upon subjects of helpful interest in the household. By The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar per year; ten cents per copy.

Miss Dora B. Lohr of Truro, who has been spending Christmas on the I-land, will be a passenger by the Summerside express to Charlottetown this evening on her way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rogers, of Alberton, were passengers by the Stanley this morning en route to New York. Particulars of their marriage will be found in another column. The EXAMINER joins in the congratulations.

Miss Mary Layton, the talented daughter of Rev. J. Layton, of Marshfield, St. Peter's Road, P. E. Island, brightened the 'New's' sanctum with her presence this morning. She has been teaching at that most delightful place, especially as a summer resort, D. H. G. River, Cumberland Co., and will spend her holidays in town, a guest with Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Christie, and family, on Alice street.—Truro News.

A SAD CASE.—A Memramcook correspondent of the Sackville Post tells this pitiful tale: While the joyous Christmas times bring happiness to many, to others sorrow accompanies its coming. A very sad instance of such occurred in this village during the past week. The mind of one of our prosperous farmers, Theo. Leger, having become deranged last April, he was conveyed to the provincial lunatic asylum. This was so great a shock to his wife that her health began to fail. After spending the summer in the asylum Mr. Leger returned home about the first of December, and his wife, who was in poor health, was so joyed at his return that she became insane on this point and wished to be continually with her husband. Mr. Leger began to show signs of renewed insanity, and it was deemed advisable to place both husband and wife in the asylum, whence they were taken last week. This unfortunate couple have one child, which is being cared for by relations.

THE STANLEY LEFT PICNIC at half-past two for Georgetown. A special train has gone to meet her and bring up mails and passengers. The special with the outgoing mails and passengers will leave Charlottetown about nine o'clock to-night. If you want to see a brilliantly lighted building; if you want to see a crowd of very pretty girls; if you want to have a generally good time come to the rink to-night.

HOT WATER BOTTLES

Now that the cold weather is here, Hot Water Bottles are in order. They warm the bed for you, and keep your feet warm on the coldest night. For cramps and pains, they are superior to anything known. We recently received a large and well assorted stock of these goods, also Fountain Syringes etc., direct from the makers, and as you know rubber goods should always be fresh if possible, as they deteriorate more or less with age. Sizes 2, and 3 quarts. Prices 25c to $2.00 depending upon size and quality of bottle.

Local and Other Items

NOT RUNNING.—The ferry boats are not moving to-day.

THERMOMETER READINGS.—The lowest indicated during last night was five below zero. There was no change at nine this morning.

SECURED.—Prof. Vinnicombe's orchestra has been secured for the Burns' concert, and special music imported for the occasion.

THE WEATHER.—Decreasing westerly winds, fine and decidedly cold to-day. Friday: fresh to strong south to west winds and milder weather.

QUARTERLY BOARD MEETING.—The Quarterly Official Board of the First Methodist Church will meet for the transaction of business at the close of the concert this evening.

CHANGED HANDS.—The Milligan property on Great George street has been purchased by Mr. P. Newsome, of the firm of Saunders & Newsome, who intend remodeling and fitting it up for a private residence.

ARM BROKEN.—We regret to learn that on Tuesday last, while Mr. John Profit of Burlington, Lot 18, was driving on a load of hay, he fell off and broke his arm below the elbow. The arm was set and he is now doing well.

ANKLE BROKEN.—Whilst shingling his house on Great George Street, a few days ago, Mr. Michael Egan fell from the roof to the ground, and fractured one of his ankles. About this time last year Mr. Egan had his leg broken while working about the ferry wharf.

THE ELECTION TRIAL.—A telephone message from Alberton this afternoon says: The petitioner's case is closed. Out of eleven charges in the petition three have been dismissed and two abandoned. The remaining charges are open for rebuttal and argument.

B. I. S. SOCIAL.—The social under the auspices of the Benevolent Irish Society last night was a most enjoyable affair. It was held in the Society's fine new hall on Kent street, which was especially fitted up for the occasion. There were about 140 guests, who were received by Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Byrne, Mrs. Conroy and Mrs. McCourt. Mr. Pickard was the caterer.

NEARLY A FIRE.—The dwelling house of Mrs. Alexander Anderson, Stanley Bridge, had a narrow escape from being destroyed by fire the other night. It appears that the flue took fire in the daytime and, as it was thought, burnt out, but some fire remained smouldering, and made its way, during the night, to the woodwork. It was fast making headway when discovered by some friends who happened to arrive late during the night, and who extinguished it.

A SINEC ANNUITY.—A Toronto despatch says that Sir W. C. McDonald, the tobacco king, has made a grant of $500 per year to Mrs. Kingsford, widow of Canada's historian. The annuity will be paid Mrs. Kingsford for life. Mr. McDonald, it is stated, did not know the late Dr. Kingsford or any of his family. He simply made the grant as a mark of appreciation of the noble work of the late historian, who sacrificed practically his all in order to produce his great work.

POCKETS FULL OF CASH.—Seven interior Indians have arrived at Skagway, where they are saying nothing but spending money. They have been away prospecting all year, and returning to Lake Bennett they recorded all manner of claims on two new creeks which they call Sheep and Moose. Moreover, they paid the location fees in virgin gold, and had with them nuggets of considerable value. It is believed the Indians intend to lead a big party of their friends to the new creeks and keep out the white men.

A PROBLEM IN DETECTION.—Here is a problem for Sherlock Holmes: A robber has just finished plundering the house of John Shaw, at Quincy, Massachusetts, when he was shot through the heart. The body, with the plunder in his pockets, fell in front of a bay window which was open on the piazza. It was found there by a servant of the household, and outside were the burglar's coat, hat and shoes. The mysterious part of the whole affair is that none of the Shaw family heard a shot or knew that a burglar was on their premises. Detectives are working on the theory that a pal, doing sentry outside, mistook the burglar for the owner of the house and shot him.
