

WOMEN

Page 8 The Guardian, Wed., August 3, 1955

LET'S EAT Making French Fries The Home-Frozen Way

By Ida Bailey Allen

"It has taken the frozen French fried potatoes to make this form of potato popular in American homes, Madame," the Chef was saying. Belgium, it is the favorite method of preparing potatoes, both in the home as well as in the restaurant because homemakers, in those countries, are willing to spend plenty of time in preparing food.

TO SAVE TIME

"In this country," he continued, "many homemakers prefer to pay more for prepared foods, in order to save time. But I am sure all those who own food freezers will be happy to learn how they can quickly prepare frozen French fries in quantity and so save a little money.

TOMORROW'S DINNER

Tomato-Lettuce Salads
Minute Steaks
Panned Summer Squash
French Fries (frozen)
Spice Cake Squares
Hot or Iced Coffee or Tea Milk

Home-Frozen French Fries: Select first quality white potatoes. Peel and cut in finger-length strips. Let stand 15 min. in cold water; drain and dry on absorbent towels.

Use Fresh Melons and Berries To Give Salad Refreshing Look

There's no better time than right now to bring the magnificence of Canada's fresh melons and berries to your salad service!

Fresh melon salads give the cool, refreshing look and taste to a meal that we all enjoy so much at this season. These are salads of color and beauty that also score high in important vitamins and minerals, especially vitamins A and C. A wedge of honeydew, cantaloupe or watermelon, perhaps left from breakfast or from a picnic, often provides enough for making your salad for the day. You can cut the melon into cubes or slices. For an extra pretty touch, scoop melon into balls. Use a ball cutter, or if you do not have this gadget, the teaspoon of your measuring set will do the job.

MELON - CHERRY SALAD.

Sliced peeled cantaloupe
Leaf Lettuce
Moneydew melon balls
Bing cherries
Mayonnaise

Place rings of cantaloupe on lettuce on a round chop plate. Fill the centers of the rings with the honeydew balls and cherries. Put a bowl of mayonnaise in the center of the plate.

ANNE ADAMS PATTERNS

LOVELY ENSEMBLE

Wonderful fashions for summer and early fall! The sundress is smart, simple — with an asymmetrical line that's so-o becoming! The little bolero repeats the pretty trim; a perfect cover for town travel, cooler weather!

Pattern 471: Misses' Sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 40. Size 16 dress and bolero take 4 1/2 yards 36-inch fabric; 1/2 yard contrast.

COAL HOLE

CHESTERFIELD, Eng. (CP)—Workmen digging up a street in this Derbyshire town struck a seam of coal.

Robertson-Tubb Wedding At St. Paul's Church, Sussex

St. Paul's United Church, Sussex, N. B., was the scene of a pretty summer wedding Saturday afternoon, July 23, when Brenda Mary, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Tubb of Sussex, was united in marriage with William Waldon Robertson, son of Mr. Fulton Robertson and the late Mrs. Fulton Robertson of Charlottetown, P. E. I. Rev. Allan Reynolds officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Miss Gertrude Sherwood was organist and Miss Audrey Gould was guest soloist.

The church was tastefully decorated with a colorful array of summer flowers and fern. The pews were marked with small red and white rosebuds and white satin streamers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a gown designed and created by "Elspeth Smith." It featured full-length redingote of Swiss embroidered tulle worn over a strapless gown with tulle mesh up Peter Pan collar and fastened to the waistline, with an unusual border type panel down the front and around the hemlines. The sleeves were long and tapering to points over the hands and fastened with tiny self-covered buttons. The strapless gown over which weight silk chiffon was of nylon tulle; the skirt of unpressed pique was worn over crinoline. The finger-tip veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a half hat with pearls and iridescent sequins. Her only ornament was a crescent pin of amethyst and pearls, a family heirloom. She carried a white prayer book with a spray of white stephanotis.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. R. P. Desjardins as matron of honor and by Mrs. F. C. Kent, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid. They wore identical floor length strapless gowns of turquoise and shrimp nylon tulle illusion over taffeta and crinoline with matching jackets. Halo bandeau of pleated tulle adorned with miniature flowers completed their ensemble.

Ann Katherine Kent, niece of the groom, was a winsome flower girl in a floor-length gown of frosted lemon nylon over taffeta and crinoline. She wore a pleated bandeau with miniature flowers on material to match her dress. The attendants carried nosegays of yellow and white mums bordered with white and shrimp sweetpeas and baby's breath with streamers of rainbow ribbon.

Mr. Frank Robertson, brother of the groom was best man. The ushers were Mr. Ronald Tubb of Moncton, Mr. R. P. Desjardins of Sussex, Mr. Fred Kent of Halifax and Mr. Chester Whitlock Jr. of Toronto.

The bride's mother wore a street-length dress of pink crepe with matching lace inserts, champagne accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Robertson wore a gown of yellow net over tulle with pale blue embroidery and black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The reception for 150 guests was held at the Colonial Home in Sussex. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. R. E. Sullivan of Saint John and fittingly responded to by the groom. The guest book was looked after by Ann Katherine Kent. Presiding over the tea table were Mrs. Ronald Tubb of Riverview Heights, Mrs. John Jensen of Sussex and Mrs. R. E. Sullivan of Lancaster. Mrs. Larry Honor and Mrs. Thomas Tubb replenished.

The bride's table was served by Mrs. Earle Ross of Moncton and Mrs. Wm. Wortley, Sussex. Others serving were: Mrs. E. C. Copp, Mrs. Howard Price, Mrs. Matthew Rothwell, Mrs. Stirling Howatt, Mrs. Sydney Holmes, Mrs. Gerald Dickinson, Mrs. June Banks, Mrs. Ervin O'Brien, Miss Rhoda Seddall, Miss Alda MacMillan, Mrs. Hazel Johnson and Miss Evelyn Jensen.

The newly-weds left on a tour of the Maritimes. For travelling the bride wore a sheath dress of hand painted silk with cocoa brown redingote with lining to match her dress with white accessories. Her dressing, mustard, cream and seasonings. Add half of this dressing to the dressing to the green cabbage and toss lightly. Chill well, and serve on crisp lettuce in individual salad bowls. Top each portion with a spoonful of salad dressing.

Wedding Bells

Hayden-Clarkin Wedding

St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, Toronto, was the setting of a pretty wedding on June 29, 1955 when Irene Phyllis Clarkin, New Willshire, P. E. I. became the bride of Francis Hayden, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hayden, Toronto. The Rev. Fr. McMahon officiated at the double-ring ceremony and Nuptial Mass. Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Francis Sturdy, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white crepe with inserts of Chantilly lace, the fitted bodice featuring a portrait scooped neckline. The long sleeves were pointed over the hand and embroidered with seed pearl. Her fitted head-dress embroidered with rhinestone held an elbow-length veil and she carried a cascade of white roses with stephanotis.

The matron of honor was Dorothy Barton and the bridesmaids were Esther Hayden, and Vera Gazak. They were gowned similarly in blue crepe paper ballerina-length with shirred bodice and full skirts. They each wore a satin flowered bandeau and carried crescent bouquets of pink carnations and white mums.

Mr. Frank Brown was best man and the ushers were Messrs. Allan Arnold, and Guy Labbe.

Receiving at the wedding breakfast, the groom's mother wore a pink ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of white mums.

A Hungarian reception followed in the evening where approximately 250 guests were present. Music was supplied by the String Quartet Orchestra. The newly-weds left on a week's honeymoon to North Bay, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden are residing in Toronto where the bride is employed as a salesclerk at T. Eaton Co. Ltd. while the groom operates his own dry cleaning business.

Prior to her marriage the bride was tendered five showers where she received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Friends of Canada's ice skating sensation, Barbara Ann Scott predict a formal announcement of her engagement is imminent. Now a professional with the Hollywood Ice Revue, 26-year-old Miss Scott is rumored to marry Tom King, 31, of Chicago, a publicity director for the show. Their marriage, however, is not expected to put an end to skating career of former Olympic and world titleholder from Ottawa. While she has often stated that she would eventually "marry, settle down, raise kids, and forget all about skating except as a sport," it is believed she will skate professionally for at least another season.

Latest Creation By Dior is "Y" Line

PARIS (Reuters) — Christian Dior, high priest of Paris fashion who exploded the New Look, the A- and H- lines on the world's bewildered womanhood, has decided to peacefully coexist with the female anatomy with his latest creation — The "Y" line.

In an interview prior to the showing of his winter collection later today, he plumped for the curvy woman "unhidden by layers of cloth."

Miss Y-girl of 1955 will have the males stopping in the street to admire her full, round shoulders — "the shoulders of a happy woman," said Dior — and her curves accentuated by a high waist just below the bosom.

But no more A- and H- lines for Dior. That's passe. The accent now will be on the "simply dressed" woman who looks like a woman and not a human string bean, he said.

Wife Preservers
To make sweet milk into sour, if your recipe calls for this, mix a tablespoon of vinegar to one cup of sweet milk.

ELLEN'S DIARY By An Island Farmer's Wife

Kittens, Granddaughter still hollering has never yet seen, are among our treasures at Alderlea. Held in high regard by all, and discovered recently after an intensive search by Gage and Mack. Straightaway the Family must come in turn to visit them.

"Aren't they the prettiest kittens yet? And the plumpiest? Just lift one and feel the weight! You'd think it was born long ago, wouldn't you?" And James lifted them, the tawny, and the two "tiger" ones marked like their mother, and duly admired them before they were returned to the soft nest in the not-long-saved hay of the mow.

There we came too, to feel the warm silk coats of them oft against a cheek, and stand by while Mack made another of his inspections to see if their eyes were open.

"They weren't the last time I looked, but they might be this time. I bet" with a nod "they will make good mousers! They're just the right colors for that... One, two, three," he numbered them over, touching each with a forefinger "three's not too many to keep? In fact we could do with more—I saw a mouse in the feed-house today."

Before long if fortune smiles on us, the Nell-mare's foal will have come, in another gift of birth. There are growing chicks in the

HOUSEHOLD HINT
You can slow up roller skates by taping a half inch of adhesive tape to each wheel. This will help keep the little ones from falling, or rolling away with themselves.

BROOKFIELD W. M. S.
The July meeting of Brookfield W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. Lloyd MacLeod. The resident Mrs. Blaikie presided and meeting opened with Call to Worship John 4: 23-24, followed by the "Lord's prayer in union, Hymn 590, Singing in the Morning was sung. The Scripture lesson was taken from Matthew 24: 3-14 and was read responsively.

Miriam Dollar read from her Study Book. Next meeting will be at Mrs. Pearl MacLeod's. Mrs. Donald MacPherson to have Study Book. The meeting closed with hymn 374, Jesus Shall Reign followed by Mizpah benediction.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess and a social hour followed.

COOK'S CORNER
DATE CHEWS
1 cup granulated sugar, 1 tsp. baking powder, 3/4 cup flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1 cup dates, 1 cup nuts, 2 eggs beaten lightly.

METHOD — Mix dry ingredients, add nuts and dates, vanilla, beaten eggs and add to first mixture. Bake in moderate oven. Don't let them get too well done. Take out in squares and roll in icing sugar. Work while they are still hot.

EVIL TO HIM WHO EVIL THINKETH
Mrs. A. reminds that a shadow-proof undergarment, worn over a good bra and panty, is just as modest, in terms of drapery, as the average sun-dress (so called) one sees nowadays. As you know, a sun dress has a slip-type bodice, held up by shoulder straps—and a comfortable skirt, call-length, usually. Thus your scandalized reaction to your neighbor's kitchen garb is due to your emotional conditioning—to your personal feeling that underclothes, or their implications, are erotic stimuli. Or suggestive of immodesty, if used as outer clothing.

Well, as to that—"evil to him who evil thinketh." Possibly there are drifters on our streets, in these troubled times, whose sick minds could be evilly inflamed to harmful aggression by the sight of a housewife, innocently slipped at her chores. Hence you might be justified in giving your neighbor a friendly kindly tip—that "accepted" conventional outer dress is essential hereabouts, in making a right impression, and giving herself intangible protection.

Don't best about the bush with an anonymous letter. Make opportunity to discuss common interests, children, the weather, household tasks, etc., and then say directly, "I admire you so much as a neighbor, I've been wanting to make just one little suggestion—do be careful about going outdoors in your undergarment. It's frowned on here, people disapprove; though they don't mind sun dresses or shorts and bra—for keeping cool, in your own backyard." Etc. M.H. Mary Haworth counsels through

Year Round Elegance

There is great elegance in little fur pieces that were designed to enhance the beauty of many different types of costumes. Today furriers are making these charming fur in styles which can be worn all year round.

For example here is a beautiful reversible kerchief stole of black Russian broadtail, cut to wrap luxuriously. It has a pointed back and is lined in white ermine. A perfect complement for dramatic gowns.

Neighbor Who Goes Outdoors in Slip Is Cause of Concern

Dear Mary Haworth: What would you do? I live close neighbors to a woman—in her forties. I judge—who hasn't been in this country very long. She is married and has three children—ages 17, 12 and 8 years of age. She doesn't understand our language very well, although her children seem to have a pretty good grasp of it.

What irks me is that she goes outside in her undergarment—to hang clothes on the line, or to give her children a drink. My children come running to tell me; and I feel her example is teaching them bad manners; and that it is dangerous, too, as some people on this street might take advantage of her.

I don't think she means to be bold, or tries to attract attention. I just think she hasn't realized that we don't do that in this country. She is a wonderful neighbor otherwise.

I have been thinking of writing her a letter and not signing my name, as I don't want to make bad friends. What would you do in this situation? I don't want to go through it every summer. G.R.

WORRIER REVEALS
CHRONIC ANXIETY
Dear G.R.: Another housewife (sail-of-the-earth type), let's call her Mrs. A., said merely as I outlined your problem to her: "An underslip provided more cover-up than I wear when hanging out clothes! I wear shorts and a halter top, usually." Then we went on to compare notes seriously on our feelings about your neighbor's attire.

Wanted Mrs. A.'s views in the matter because she is sensible, wholesome, mature-age, and homemaker and good neighbor in a section where backyards adjoin.

We feel that if you were happily secure in your domestic partnership, you wouldn't be emotionally upset by your neighbor's half-dressed appearance when she darts into the yard on hasty errands.

And as for her slapdash garb being a bad influence on your children's manners, I don't get it—because healthy children tend to take most human foibles in stride, unless made critical and excitable by parental example. And their manners are usually the flexible product of home teaching—or lack of it.

Words Of The Wise
Four things belong to a judge: to hear courteously, to answer wisely, to consider soberly, and to decide impartially. — (Socrates)

Clever Costume Brightener!

Costume jewelry is a happy addition to last of the summer clothes and gives them a new look for the remaining hot weeks. And these clever accessories will also go right along with you when you are sporting your new fall outfits.

This set consists of two colorful circlet pins, wreathed in enamel leaves and pearls, and matching earrings. The pins add interest to a simple necklace and the large earrings complete the costume look. They come in a variety of fascinating colors including avocado, desert sunset, mauve, pastel pinks and blues.

Summerside Home Economics Display

A section of the Grade VII and VIII Girls' Sewing Display, seen above in the Library of the Summerside High School, showed samples of dirndl skirts, cotton and linen summer dresses, wool jumpers, wool pleated skirts, corduroy two-piece skirts and weskits, pedal pushers, pyjamas, etc. The teachers of the Home Economics Classes in Summerside High School are Mrs. Allison MacLean and Mrs. Davis Lidstone. Photo by Wotton