A Hard Working Woman.

All day she hurried to get through,
The same as lots of wimmin do;
Sometimes at night her husband said,
"Ma, ain't you goin' to come to bed?"
And then she kinder give me a hitch,
And pause half way between a stitch,
And sorter sigh and say that she
Was ready as she'd ever be,
She reckoned.

And so the years went one by one,
An' somehow she was never done;
An' when the angel said, as how
She sorter raised her eyes to look
A second, as a stitch she took;
"All right, I'm comin' now," says she,
"I'm ready as I'll ever be,
I reckon."

Tobacco Chewers Among Women.

A well-known physician, while walking down the street with a friend, remarked, a patient of mine lives in that house who is dying—an idolized wife—beyond all help, and tobacco chewing has killed her. Why, Doctor, what do you mean? I mean this: her husband is literally steeped in tobacco juice, and the insensible perspiration from his body has become so saturated with nicotine as to be a deadly poison. His wife, before I was called, had absorbed enough of the poison so that no human power could could save her; and even he will, I believe, end his days in torture from some form of skin disease. The skin is really the most wonderful and important organ of the human body. Night and day, every hour of our lives, it is filtering out from the blood useless or poisonous debris. If it stopped work even for twenty-four hours in this or any case, death would ensue. You can imagine, then, what it means for a delicate, sensitive-skinned woman to sleep in a warm bed night after night with an inveterate tobacco chewer. The skin and mucous membrane of some persons is much more sensitive than others. A person who in summer is subject to hay fever, tanned or burned skin, in winter to colds, bronchitis, chapped hands or chilblains, ought always (whether at home or traveling) to keep a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment near at hand. Dilute the liniment with water and gently bathe, or moisten a cloth with it and lay upon the irritated skin if very sensitive; then wash it clean in the morning with Castile soap and water. If a person who takes cold quickly, or is predisposed to bronchitis or catarrh, or exposed to any poison, irritating to the skin or mucous surfaces, which might tend to cause consumption, will every night, before retiring, bathe the chest and throat with Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and, before dressing in the morning, rub the whole body smartly with a coarse towel, slightly dampened, and then wipe dry, we believe they never would have pulmonary troubles or disease from defective working of the skin. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send a pamphlet free, describing other uses for this old household remedy, now eighty years old.

In Society.

Interestedly from a corner of the ballroom he surveyed the scene, his glance resting for a moment upon each swaying figure.

"Tom!"

He was beckoning to a gentleman who had just released his partner.

"I say, Tom, who was that grand creature with whom you last danced?"

"Why, Fitzy, I'm surprised."

"Who is she, Tom?"

"Why, Fitzy, you know her better than I do."

"Not a bit of it, me boy."

"But you used to go with her."

"I know it."

He twirled his eye-glasses carelessly.

"And, Fitzy, it was reported you were engaged."

"So we were."

He stared nonchalently at the kaleidoscope of varying black and white before him.

"Fitzy!"

"Ah, yes. The engagement was broken, and we parted as strangers. Will you kindly introduce me to the grand creature with whom you have just danced, Tom, me boy?"

They were in society.—Detroit Tribune.

CONFIRMED.—The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrop of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers the California Fig Syrup Company. *

Canadians may be interested in knowing that it is the Honorable Dominick Edward Blake who was recently elected M. P. for South Longford. Mr. Blake so long ago dropt his first name that perhaps few people knew of its possession. Probably, also, few know that the full name of the Democratic candidate for the presidency is Stephen Grover Cleveland.
