NEWLY INTRODUCED.

Sensation Caused in Barnaby River,

N. B., by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Barnaby River, N. B., May 14. — Quite a sensation has been caused here lately by the introduction of a new medicine—Dodd's Kidney Pills. Although there had been many deaths in this village and surrounding district from Bright's Disease and other kidney troubles, yet strange to say Dodd's Kidney Pills had never been tested. Our people had little faith in patent medicines.

Now, however, Dodd's Kidney Pills are creating a sensation. A large number of people are using them and expressing surprise and delight at the result. "From the first week I began to improve," says Cornelius Crotchie, of Barnaby River, who had been given up by the doctors. The fact seems to have surprised him, but it is always true where Dodd's Kidney Pills are used.

MAFEKING.

ENTRY OF RELIEF COLUMN.

Lady Sarah Wilson has managed to get through a message from Mafeking, dated Thursday, and announcing the entry of the relief column. She says: "The fighting before the relief was very hard. A severe struggle proceeded yesterday (May 16) from 2 p. m. until dusk. The Boers were forced slowly to retreat, contesting every inch. At sunset they still held the last position.

"Colonel Mahon entered the town in the brilliant moonlight. The Boers were as tired out as we were, and they never guessed that an attempt would be made to force an entry before morning. Therefore, their surprise was complete. They deserted their laagers leaving a lot of food which was divided up among the people of Mafeking."

A Daily Telegraph correspondent, describing the march of the relief column, says:

"On the morning before the little force started from Kimberley, General Hunter wrote to Colonel Mahon. 'This is the most dashing exploit of the war. Every man in the column has been especially selected. I wish you God-speed.'"

AT MAFEKING

A FEW DAYS BEFORE THE RELIEF.

At Mafeking on the 13th May a correspondent wrote: The whole town is alive with a keen sense of exultation over yesterday's victory, which was completely decisive and far-reaching. The military position shortly after sunrise was extraordinary. All the outlying works of the town were intact; the British had lost hardly any men, and yet three bodies of Federals, right inside the British lines, had been surrounded, cut off and given an opportunity to surrender which they had declined.

Commandant Sarel Eloff did not realize that his supports had been driven back, and he informed a messenger that the town was at his mercy. Toward noon there was a lull in the fighting. Everybody at headquarters went to breakfast, and the commissary requisitioned for horse-sausage, bread, and water for the men on the fighting line. There was no thought of half rations; everyone got all they could eat.

The British in the town, moving from rock to rock, gradually drew in their circle around the Federals, whom they corralled like cattle.

Shortly after 4.30 p. m., a white flag was hoisted by the enemy, and then, amid ringing cheers, the first batch of Boers was disarmed and sent to the town.

ELOFF'S SURRENDER.

As the afternoon advanced the crackle of musketry began again continuing until nearly 7 o'clock, when Col. Singleton shouted "cease fire." A message had come to headquarters to the effect that Eloff, his officers and men, had surrendered and had laid down their arms unconditionally to Col. Hoare, who with a handful of men, had been a prisoner of Eloff during most of the day. Shortly before this fusillade was heard. It was Eloff and the men who stood by him firing on their own deserters, eighty of whom fled.

As the news spread by telephone to the garrisons of various forts, cheer upon cheer resounded. In the town some one started "God Save the Queen," and the strains of the National Anthem mingled for a few minutes with the hoarse shouting of the natives. Soon Capt. Singleton and Col. Hoare approached, accompanied by Commandant Eloff and his officers. The meeting between Baden-Powell and the Boer commandant was dramatic.

INVITED TO DINNER.

"This is Commander Eloff, sir," said Captain Singleton.

"Good evening, Commandant," said Col. Baden-Powell, "won't you come and have some dinner?"

As the British had already captured 120 prisoners, about all they could handle. Col. Baden-Powell sent word to Lord Charles Bentinck to open the way and allow the scattered remnants of the Federals to be driven from the town. In half an hour everything was over, and in the mess-room at headquarters the three Boer officers were dining.
