

Pop Ivy on Only Choice For Toronto Argonauts

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Editor

Every year, a 20-something gets around about certain personnel changes in the coaching ranks of Canadian Football League teams. And each time the same names crop up as would-be successors.

Frank (Pop) Ivy, who gained some fame as coach of Edmonton Eskimos when they beat Montreal Alouettes three straight years in the Grey Cup final starting in 1954, is usually the No. 1 nominee. He left Saskatchewan in 1957, coached St. Louis Cardinals in the National Football League and now is a scout for New York Giants of the NFL.

Another is Frank Clair, head coach of Ottawa Rough Riders who piloted Toronto Argonauts to Grey Cup titles in 1950 and 1952 and the Riders in 1961.

Other names have cropped up but no one has ever mentioned one of the toughest, roughest guys in the business. That's where he coached and played for Calgary Stampeders in 1957 when they upset the highly favored

Ottawa Rough Riders 17-7 and opened the gates for the cup extravaganza as we know it today.

HANDY WITH FISTS

He was the type of coach who could hit 100 per cent from every player. His 1948 club, for instance, was made up of a few old pros and a bunch of kids. The experts said Stampede didn't belong on the same field with the Eastern champions, but they didn't figure on the particular prowess of big Ivy who was willing and able to accommodate any player at any time in an old-fashioned battle of fists.

It was the supreme power of Ivy that Stampede club in the dressing-room and on the field and every player knew it.

Leaf scout around with Calgary in 1952 and then became a horse owner and trainer and later a coach although he had a track. He wouldn't even consider getting back into football in the business unless he had the credentials.

The game in Canada hasn't changed drastically. There are still only five or six basic plays in a coach's play book and, in some cases, various offshoots from these, although some coaches would have people believe they have scores of plays.

Leaf's name came to mind

WARMTH and COMFORT

Does CN have dome cars running through the Ontario provinces?
A Yes. The glass-topped observation deck on Canadian National Scenicrounners, runs the full length of the car, and seats 86 passengers. There is also a comfortable refreshment snack lounge below.

What are the best days to travel for children?
A On CN, it's "Tot Priority" every day. And children under 12 travel half fare, while tots under 5 travel free.

Why do I always have to go to the station to get my railway tickets?
A You don't! CN sends tickets by mail. Just phone early enough to allow for return mail delivery. Your tickets will arrive promptly.

My husband, two children and I want to go from Toronto to Western Canada, then drive through the Rockies, take the Alaska Highway and drive back to Toronto. How can we do this without carrying the same road twice?
A Send your car by CN Car-Go-Roll. Then even your husband can relax for part of the trip. You can do this for less than you may think. Call CN for details.

How much baggage can I check on a train?
A As much as you wish. And the first 150 pounds per adult is checked free. Of course, you can also carry all the hand luggage you want.

What does the word "complimentary" mean in "complimentary meals"?
A It means "free", which they are when you travel in sleeping or parlor car accommodation.

I've got a lot more questions.
A Ask away. Call 894-4722

Home Team in Atlantic Bowl Game

HALIFAX (CP)—Coaches of both teams in the Atlantic Bowl Game here today (Saturday) said a dry field for the classic, but the Maritimes' first snow storm of the season this week and rain Friday will soften the turf at the Wanderers' Grounds and one groundskeeper says the field is likely to be "mucky."

The weatherman has called for intermittent rain today. Leaf coach Bob Hayes said he would prefer a dry playing field but has confidence in his team in any kind of playing conditions.

McMaster's coach said he would prefer a dry playing field but has confidence in his team in any kind of playing conditions.
