

THE EXAMINER.

Branch Office at Souris.

Mr. J. H. HOOPER, of the Apothecaries Hall, Souris, has kindly consented to open an agency for THE EXAMINER in that town.

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

APRIL 8, 1889.

Notes and Comments.

The suggestion of Hon. Mr. Prowse, that a certain amount be deducted from the allowance of members of the Legislature for every day they are absent at the opening of the House, is a good one.

It is, of course, understood that the business of the Legislature may go on without the reporter. Yet it is undoubtedly advisable (1) that a record of the proceedings of the Legislature be obtained, and (2) that the public should be informed concerning the sayings and doings of its representatives.

Harper's Weekly, (April 6), has the following, which is as applicable to public men in Canada as to public men in the States:

The rumor that a judge in Ohio has actually proposed himself as a candidate for the seat of the late Mr. Justice Stanley Matthews, if not untrue, of course makes him an impossible selection by demonstrating his unfitness for the office.

To the Agricultural Committee, on the 3rd inst., Mr. W. A. Webster told in a very matter of fact way about his trips on foot through Dakota and the Canadian Northwest for the purpose of learning the actual condition of settlers in the respective countries.

Mr. Van Horn said to-day that if Parliament did not rise before the 10th of May, the Canadian Pacific would probably take the Maritime Province members home by the Short Line to St. John.

Opening to-day, soft and stiff American Hats, bought well and will be sold cheap.

An elegant line of Spring goods just received at McLeod & McKenzie's.

If you are going to furnish this spring, don't fail to see Paton & Co's Carpets, Art Squares and China Mats, with Fancy Borders.

There are men who are really wise. To be wise in one's own conceit is otherwise.

Have you seen the latest? We are now showing the largest variety of the newest colorings and latest designs in Carpets.

Under the Stars.

While night envelops with her tender shade The loveliness of earth; and tree and flower Are hid from mortal view, and silent all The songs of birds and sounds of busy life,

Of quiet stars that ever kindly shine; And all its sorrowing and anxious pain, Its selfish aims and wild ambitious hopes, And from the restless fever of my life,

Then darkness settled on a wearied world, And one by one the beacon fires on high Began to glimmer from the depths profound
