MONKEY ON HIS BACK

It was the ape's idea, not his, but Flying Officer Fred Ellsworth of Welland, Ont., seems to have acquired a "monkey on his back" anyway during a visit to Gibraltar. The warnings posted at left aren't calculated to assuage his uneasiness as this rock ape, one of hundreds which roam the "rock", embarks on an exploratory inspection. F-O Ellsworth was at Gibraltar aboard and RCAF Argus anti-submarine aircraft on a long-range exercise.

Pathologist Outlines Role For Benefit Of Community

"Every tissue removed at operation in the three large hospitals in this province as well as most of those from the smaller hospitals comes in for examination by myself or by my colleague, Dr. Robert Abel," Provincial Pathologist Dr. John Craig said in addressing the luncheon meeting of Rotary at The Charlottetown yesterday. More than 3,000 specimens are examined each year, he said.

"The pathologist is first and foremost a doctor engaged in the practice of medicine. His work is very often just as important to the patient as the work of the physician whom the patient actually consults", he declared.

"His usefulness to the community and his place in it can best be summed up by saying that he, along with the radiologist, gives to his colleagues in clinical practice, a great deal of information about their patients, that they cannot get by the more usual means", Dr. Craig said.

Histopathology, or the study of diseased tissues, which engages the interest and activities of Dr. Craig, was described very fully and in a highly interesting manner.

EXPLAINS PROCESSES

Dr. Craig explained in detail the technical processes which finally when correlated, with the clinical story supplied by the surgeon, make it possible to determine the extent and nature of the patient's disease.

"The most obvious example is that we can tell whether a swelling is of inflammatory origin or a tumor. We can tell whether it is benign or malignant", he pointed out.

Dr. Craig then dealt with post mortem examinations, the examination of those dying suddenly when no doctor has been in attendance. "It is rather irritating that this is the only part of the pathologist's work that the public ever hears about," he said.

"Of much more value and interest are those post mortem examinations carried out at the request of the attending physician, and of course with the permission of surviving relatives. These are of the greatest educative value to both doctors and nurses and should be encouraged as much as possible," Dr. Craig said.

LIVES SAVED

Emphasizing the importance of blood and blood plasma, he said about 4,000 bottles of blood is used here each year as well as various products of blood such as serum, albumin.

"The number of lives literally saved in this province by transfusion must run into several hundred a year", Dr. Craig said.

"Within the last two months we have instituted on the Island, tests by which we can forcast before birth, whether a baby is likely to be affected by jaundice of the newborn-haemolytic disease caused by differences in the rhesus factor of its mother and its father. These specimens previously had to be sent to Halifax.

A great deal of public health work is carried out by the laboratory division which is of vital importance, its purpose, among other things, is to ensure that water supplies, milk supplies and milk products are safe and not contaminated by disease producing germs.

TRIBUTE PAID

"I think it is fair to say that for its size this province has pathological services at least as good as any comparable part of the country, largely due to the foresight and energy of the late Dr. Harold Shaw. As his successor, it is my duty, and will be my endeavour, to maintain them and if possible improve them still further," Dr. Craig concluded.

The speaker was introduced by chairman Ted Chandler and thanked by co-chairman Dr. Todor Gencheff.

NEW MEMBER

Bill Hancox was introduced as a new member by his sponsor Lockery MacKay who referred to various activities of Mr. Hancox, including his membership in the Rotary Club of Moose Jaw, Sask., where he relinquished the position of Rotary vice-president on being transferred to Charlottetown as publisher and general manager of The Guardian and The Evening Patriot.

President Gerry Hartlen said he was "happy and glad to welcome the new member", as he appointed Mr. Hancox a member of the public information committee.

Lockery MacKay, the energetic chairman of the Rotary Auction committee asked members with outstanding cards to complete them immediately in order that a full list of articles for auction may appear in the Evening Patriot on Friday in order that patrons may be the more easily decide on what they will bid on Tuesday night.

A partial display of goods will be on view in the Maritime Electric office window and full coverage will be made throughout the city when the Boy Scouts will make a house to house distribution of tear sheets from the Patriot on Friday and Saturday.

Guests were: Dr. John P. MacIntyre, city; Roger Bonneville, Montreal and Heath Macquarrie, M.P.

A resident of Hunter River was fined $15 and costs or five days and another from Newton Cross received a fine of $10 and costs or five days. The fifth from the city was committed to Riverside Hospital.

The Kensington man was arrested following a break at the store of Waldron Darrach. The arrest was made by Kensington Policeman Vernon Reeves.

Entry was made by breaking a window at the rear of the store and it is reported that some personal papers and a cash box containing a small amount of change was taken.

City Resident Found Dead

Frank Gorman, 156 Cumberland Street, was found dead in the kitchen of his home shortly after 9 o'clock last evening.

Mr. Gorman who is believed to be in his late fifties or early sixties apparently rolled off the couch on which he had been resting and was found on the floor.

When it was learned that Mr. Gorman who lived alone, had not been making his regular visits to the grocery store, neighbors became worried.

Sgt. Neil MacNevin who lives nearby was notified and in company with some neighbor entered the house. The city police sergeant said that the doors and windows were all locked in the residence and that nothing appeared to be out of order.

It was not known last night whether an inquest would be held.

H. JOHN HARRIS

H. John Harris, FRCO, organist and choir director of St. Paul's Anglican Church since December 1956 has tendered his resignation to become effective immediately after Christmas in order to accept an appointment in the same capacity at All Saint's Church, Peterboro, Ont.

In addition to his church musical activities, Mr. Harris has been giving instruction in singing to the pupils of Queen Ssuare School, Spring Park School and at Central Royalty with marked success.

As a member of St. Paul's Laymen's Association he has taken part in the activities of that organization.

Mr. Harris as vice-president of the Royal Canadian College of Organists, represents Charlottetown on the organization's council.

The musical fraternity and others will learn with regret of the departure of the Harris family from the city in view of the additional talent so often enjoyed through the presentations of Mrs. Harris in the Little Theatre Guild and their 17-year old son Graham, first year student at Prince of Wales College who is a member of the RECCE band and the recently formed PWC Band.

Their daughter Susan, age six, is a grade 1 pupil in West Kent School.

Mr. Harris is a native of Leicester, England.

Canada Flag Under Study

ALMA, Que. (CP) — Associate Defence Minister Pierre Sevigny said Sunday the question of Canada having its own flag is under study.

During a press conference preceding a Progressive Conservative party rally in this community 125 miles north of Quebec City, Mr. Sevigny said:

"The question is under study and I hope that before too long the Canadian people will get together in finding a solution to this problem."

Mr. Sevigny said an earlier dispatch was incorrect in quoting him as saying he thinks Canada will have her own flag before long and that Canadians are nearing complete agreement on the flag issue.

Chan Wins First Round

VANCOUVER (CP) — Weldon Chan won a round in his fight to remain in Canada—the reservations on the ship that was to take him and his family back to Hong Kong were cancelled by the immigration department.

The American Mail Lines, owner of the passenger ship China Mail, said in Seattle Monday the reservations were cancelled on instructions from the Canadian government, presumably the immigration department.

Chan disappeared 10 days ago and the immigration department has issued an order for his arrest. His lawyer and his family say they do not know where he is but he was written he is hiding in Eastern Canada.

The family arrived here from Hong Kong 18 months ago on visitors' visas. The immigration department refused Chan's application to become a permanent resident.
