(Correspondence of THE EXAMINER.)

The prospects of the cod fishery this year, on the whole, are good and late accounts from the Labrador stem favorable. The price of this staple has been low, owing to the Spanish-American war, but the return of peace together with the short catch of the French fishing fleet will probably lead to a decided advance. New industries are gradually developing throughout the island. The increased value of copper has reopened the valuable mines at Tit Cove and Hall's Bay to the northward.

There is a flourishing pulp mill at Black River Placentia Bay, deposits of iron pyrites are largely worked at Pilleys Islands, and valuable timber is being cut in various sections. Unfortunately the supply of the last is but limited and forest fires have destroyed large quantities. At Belle Isle, Conception Bay, there is an extraordinary deposit of hematite iron ore. This is found at a very slight depth, and is uniformly broken in pieces about the size of a brick so that it is all ready for exportation. A large part of this metallic area is owned by the Steel Co. of New Glasgow, and it was understood that extensive smelting works were to have been erected in the vicinity of Louisburg to deal with this ore. The Dominion Government having declined to pledge themselves as to the permanence of the present iron duties, the scheme seems to have fallen through and the ore is now being exported to Belgium for smelting.

A few words as to sport.—Enormous herds of caribou (a species of reindeer) pass north and south across the island according to season, their tracks across the country being beaten as hard as a road. Large numbers are killed, venison being sold last winter in St. John's for three cents a pound. The government charges non-residents a license fee of $100, and restricts the number to be killed in any one season. The Arctic hare is not uncommon, while our own rabbit abounds. Ptarmigan, or Arctic grouse, will geese, ducks, snipe and curlew are abundant. Every lake and stream teem with magnificent trout and as soon as the sportsman leaves the ordinary beaten track he is sure of a splendid catch. From Salmonier River a party of three took 150 grilse, weighing from three to seven pounds. On asking one of the party why they did not secure larger salmon, he informed us that the mouth of the river was netted and only the smaller fish got through. It appears that some, at least of the fishery wardens in Newfoundland like the Shussumite of old "dwell among their own people." Possibly the same may hold true in our own island. In this same river two of our fellow passengers captured four salmon in an afternoon's fishing on a very unfavorable day, and they have returned to the "Hub" doubtless authorities in salmon catching as the fish seen through the mellowing vista of time will gradually increase in weight the oftener the story is told. In such rivers as the Codroy, on the west coast, large salmon are readily captured at the proper season. There can be no question that Newfoundland is justly entitled to be called "The Sportsman's Paradise."

But summer holidays are all too short and reluctantly we turn our faces homeward.

Leaving St. John's at 7 p. m., on Tuesday, we find a very comfortable sleeping car at our disposal, the berths not quite as wide as on the Intercolonial, but otherwise almost precisely the same. There is ample room for one in each berth. We speed smoothly along catching a glimpse of the pretty village of Topsail, on the shore of Conception Bay—the favorite summer resort of St. John's people, with Belle Isle in the distance, laved by the sea, glittering silver in the moonlight, on part Manuels with its charming river and falls, skirting the shore till we reach Holyrood at the head of Conception Bay, from which point we strike across country till we reach the thriving village of Whitbourne, the junction of the Harbor Grace Line. Seven miles farther we reach Placentia Junction and then turn northward. Bed time had now arrived and during the night we passed the narrow three mile isthmus that separates Trinity and Placentia Bays, running close to Bay of Bull's Arm, the landing place of the first trans-Atlantic cable in 1858, past Shoal Harbor, with its valuable copper deposits; and then, leaving Trinity Bay, we strike across to Bonaville Bay, reaching Clove Sound with its picturesque scenery and long pier, whence large quantities of lumber are shipped. We are now in the northern belt of timber, and in rapid succession pass Gambo, Gander Lake and Gander River, which bring us to Notre Dame Bay. We are wide awake now and soon remark the splendid pine timber, boards and shingles, shown at the station of the Glenwood Lumber Co. A few miles further we reach Norris Arm, the head waters of Notre Dame Bay, into which the Exploits River pours its volume of water, draining Red Indian Lake the last refuge of the unfortunate "Beothicks," the aboriginal inhabitants of Newfoundland. One of the darkest pages in the history of the colony is the treatment of this unfortunate tribe who were hunted by the settlers like wolves and shot down in coldblood wherever they were encountered. The last survivors are believed to have died on the shores of Red Indian Lake about 75 years ago.—J.

A FINE SHIP.—H. M. S Pearl is anchored at the south pier of the dockyard. She will remain in port some time. The Pearl is much better looking ship than the Pallas. She resembles the Intrapid in model, and has a larger complement of men, and is a more powerful vessel than the Pallas, with greater speed and heavier armament. She is one of the slickest looking warship that ever entered Halifax harbor.—Halifax Herald.

HAY EN N. S.—According to reports received from Westmorland County, N. S., much of the hay which has been saved is in very poor condition on account of the catchy weather during the past month. Some grassfields are still uncut. The wet weather has also caused the rust to appear in the grain fields. Wheat particularly is in bad shape. At Shediac J. D. Weldon had a field which two or three weeks ago was the admiration of all beholders. Today it is a dirty brown mass, not a green sheaf visible and will be almost worthless. Mr. R. C. Tait of Shediac, sowed 22 bushels of wheat last spring and his fields are in about the same condition.

BICYCLE TRACK OPENING.—In order to keep Oxford, Nova Scotia, in the front rank of enterprising towns, several of the citizens procured a site and built a bicycle track, which is now completed and is pronounced by the judges to be one of the best in the Maritime Provinces. This track is to be formally opened on Tuesday, the 23rd inst, and it is the first time the management have decided to make the prizes sufficiently valuable to induce some of those crack riders to enter for several events. The principal prize will be a cup for the ten mile race, open, valued at something over fifty dollars, which must be won three times to become the property of the winner. The prizes for the other events will be medals of more than usual value. The track which is a quarter mile one is considered rather a fast one and is well made and covered.

THE UNPRECEDENTED SALES OF JOHNSONS BAKING POWDER
during the last month, speaks volumes for its purity and merit. It is the cheapest high grade Baking Powder sold on the Island. Why pay 60c a pound for Baking Powder when we guarantee ours to be the best and purest obtainable. You have no middlemen's profit to pay on our Powder, so we sell it at 25c a pound.

MORE SPORTS.—Electric Sports will be held in St. John, N. B., on the evening of Thursday next.

CHEESE PURCHASED.—Mr. Horace Haszard has purchased the July make of cheese from several of our factories.

POLICE COURT.—Nothing doing today. So many of the usual offenders have been locked up of late that the policemen will probably enjoy holidays for a while.

POLL TAX.—Please take notice, all persons who have not paid their poll tax had better attend to it and save expense, as executions are ready for service.

THE POLINO.—The steamer Polino of the Dobell Line, from Montreal arrived here at 6 p m yesterday. She left late last night for St. John's, Nfld via Sydney. Several passengers were aboard making the through trip.

MILITIA IN CAMP.—The Nova Scotia Militia will go into camp at Aldershot, N. S., on the 20th of next month. It is not likely that our Island Companies will be brought together this year for their annual drill and camp out as the date appointed is too late.

PROHIBITION.—Mass Meetings will be held in the Opera House on next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings and will be addressed by Mr Wm Buchanan, one of the foremost temperance lecturers in Canada. He is accompanied by Miss Grace Wallin, a popular contralto soloist who is spoken of very highly in the Canadian Press.

CRICKET.—Owing to some misunderstanding the New Glasgow cricketers did not arrive here last night. It appears they were under the impression that the match was to be played on Friday. Consequently the match is held over. The New Glasgow men will arrive here tonight about 9 o'clock in the Acadia, and stumps will be pitched at the Park early to morrow morning.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S GOVERNOR.—It is announced that Lieut-Colonel H E McCallum, R E, C M G, governor of Lagos, West Africa, will succeed Sir Herbert Murray as governor of Newfoundland. The British Government, it is believed, acted so promptly because of the conditions created by the petition now in circulation here for the retention of Sir Herbert Murray in the governorship.

THE BRAM CASE.—The sailors of the barkentine Herbert Fuller, who have been imprisoned two years as witnesses against Thomas W. Bram, the mate of the vessel, were liberated from jail at Boston on Monday, and practically placed on parole. Although they are still under surveillance of the United States Marshal Swift's officers, the limits of their confinement are very elastic, and they are practically at liberty. It is practically settled that Bram will be placed on trial for the murder of second mate Bloomberg this time.

DEAD AT AMHERST.—James Brown, C. E., died on Tuesday at his residence at Amherst, aged 57 years. Mr. Brown, who was well known in Charlottetown, was born at Aberdeen, Scotland, and came to this country in 1876. He was a practical engineer of great ability, and besides being for a term manager of the Londonderry mines held responsible positions on the Intercolonial and C. P. railways, at Joggins Mines, Springhill and Glace Bay. Mrs. Brown, who was Miss S. B. Gilbert, sister to Lord Belhaven, and one daughter, Miss May, survive him.

WEDDING.—We chronicle in another column a very interesting event in which two of the most popular young people of Charlottetown were the principals. We refer to the marriage of Mr. Ewen Cameron to Miss Lena Isabel MacDonald, the well-known and efficient teacher of Prince Street School. The marriage was celebrated at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. John McDonald, of New Glasgow, Wednesday morn, at half past seven o'clock. The officiating clergymen were Rev. A. D. MacDonald, brother of the bride, and Rev. Geo. Millar. The bridesmaid was Miss May Stewart, of Charlottetown, while the groom was supported by Mr. F. J. McLeod. The bride was attired in a travelling suit of brown, while the bridesmaid's dress was of pink silk. After the ceremony the guests partook of a bountiful wedding breakfast and immediately afterwards the happy couple started on a wedding tour through the New England states and the Upper Provinces. Among the many beautiful bridal gifts was a handsome silver ice pitcher, the gift of the choir of St. James' Church, of which the bride has been a valued member.—Guardian.
