IN MEMORIAM

ANGUS T. MCINNIS

Angus T. McInnis of Goshen, Indiana, died at his home there of a heart attack on November 18th. A Goshen resident for 15 years, Mr. McInnis had previously resided in Des Moines, Iowa, for 13 years, and was a native of Southport, P. E. I. He was a member of the Roman Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society and the Moose Lodge.

Funeral services were held on Friday, November 21st at the Visitation Church in Des Moines with burial in Glendale Cemetery there. A rosary service was held the previous day.

Surviving are his widow, Mary; a daughter, Angela, 12; his father, Hugh L. of Des Moines; a brother, William L. of Des Moines; and four sisters, all of Des Moines, Mrs. Mary Lehman, Mrs. Helen Flannery, Mrs. Florence Oldfield and Beatrice McInnis.

Relatives on the Island include William McInnis, 294 Euston St., Charlottetown, and Mrs. Owen McGarry, Southport, uncle and aunt of the deceased.

GREAT INSTITUTE

The Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C., was established in 1846 with a legacy from James Smithson, an Englishman.

Smith-Parsons

Wedding

In a pretty wedding ceremony recently, M. Viola Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron L. Parsons, 79 Ashland Street, Malden, Mass., and granddaughter of Mrs. John W. MacLean of Charlottetown, was united in marriage to Robert Bernard Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Smith of Saugus, Mass., at the First Church, Congregational. The Rev. Roy L. Minch officiated at the double-ring candlelight service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full skirted gown of slipper satin, with lace trimmed bodice, long pointed sleeves and lace panels in the centre of the skirt. Her cathedral length train featured a centre panel of lace, and her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a halo cap trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a trailing bouquet of stephanotis trimmed with greens.

Mrs. Allen J. Fleming of Saint John, N.B., was her sister's matron of honour. Her peacock blue gown was fashioned with a satin bodice trimmed with nylon at the neckline, and her tulle skirt was caught at the waist with a velvet which dropped its petals to the hemline of the skirt. The gown had a satin bolero with a stand-up collar and her glabella headpiece matched her horseshoe bouquet.

The bridesmaids, who wore similar gowns of lilac hue, were Leona Parsons, sister of the bride, Demetra Makry of Malden, Theresa Smith of Saugus, sister of the groom, and Virginia Cameron of Malden.

Four year old Alana Lee Fleming was her aunt's flower girl. Her aqua gown had a satin bodice and long tulle skirt, and she wore a glabella headpiece and carried a basket of rose petals. Little George Hedley Folland, four year old cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer and was dressed in a formal suit. He carried the wedding rings on a lace trimmed satin pillow.

Connie Mirages of Brookline served as best man and ushers included Richard and James Smith of Saugus, brothers of the groom, Frank Kusby of Worcester, and Robert Steadman of Medford.

Over 150 guests attended the reception which was held at the VFW Hall, where the parents of the newly-weds assisted in the receiving line. Mrs. Parsons' ballerina length blue nylon gown was set off with dusty rose accessories and a rose corsage. The mother of the groom wore a purple gown trimmed with velvet and rhinestones, with a glabella corsage. Mrs. George Folland of Melrose, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Malden High and Malden Business School. She is employed in the office of the City Clerk, and is a member of the Congregational Church and the Massachusetts Ski Club.

The groom is a graduate of Saugus High and served for four years with the U. S. Marine Corps, spending 16 months overseas in Europe and Korea. He is a holder of the Purple Heart and Cluster, awarded him when he was twice wounded in battle. He is employed with the Highland Contracting Company.

After a motor trip to New York and Washington, D. C., the couple will reside at 14 Rockland Place, Malden.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. FRED GAMBLE

—There passed away suddenly at Lady Fane on October 13, Mr. Fred Gamble well-known farmer and neighbor of that community in his seventy-eight year.
