

Guardian Angels Shutout Firemen

The Guardian Angels kept their chances for a berth in the CIO Commercial League finals alive last night by bombing the Firemen 10-0.

It was the first victory for the Guardian squad in the semi-finals. The Firemen captured the first two games of the best of five set.

Gordon Fairgrove was the star of the game last night. The lanky right-hander allowed only a double in the fifth inning and a misadvised infield fly that went for a hit in the first frame.

Dick Murley hurled the entire game for the losers and was touched for 16 hits.

The Angels picked up a single tally in the first inning to move into an early lead and never looked back. They scored two more in the second, three in the third, three in the fifth and their final marker in the sixth inning.

Ralph Koebeke, playing left field for the winners came up with a perfect night at the plate. He banged out three singles and one double in four trips to the plate. Don Rogers was close behind with three hits in five trips including a booming triple in the seventh.

For the Firemen, Roy MacArthur had the longest hit, a double while Roy Scantlebury reached base on an infield fly.

The next game in this series will be played tonight at Queen Charlotte diamond. Both squads are expected to go all out in an effort to pick up the decision.

The winner of this series will advance against the other finalist, Johnny's Kingfishers. The game tonight is scheduled to get underway at 8:30 p.m.

Bill Takes Over

BILL Gillespie takes over at Charlottetown Driving Park tonight.

This is the night that The Prince Edward Island Harness Racing Club stages its annual colt stakes and of course, as everyone knows, Bill Gillespie is the man responsible for the continuing of the colt stakes year after year.

At times, some folks might grow weary of the task but if they do not, it is because they know what it is. The efficient secretary-treasurer of The Prince Edward Island Harness Racing Club appears to relish his work and the job is Bill's as long as he is willing to devote his energies to it.

Bill has worked hard at his colt stakes' job. He is deeply interested in getting the 'babies' to the races. The purses at the present time are such as to encourage horsemen to bring along their own colts and prepare them for other race participation in years ahead. The job has been discouraging at times but Bill keeps going, aware, referring to allow the colt stakes to pass out of existence.

Interest in the race appears to be on the increase and this is proved by the program that is being presented at Charlottetown Driving Park tonight. Particularly the three-year-old race is decidedly popular. This will be raced in two divisions, four and nine, with a race-off of the first four in one and five in the other set for dash 11.

It is anticipated that there will be a lot of interest in the race, as will the three-year-olds. Four year-olds appear in the trot only.

It's A Difficult Job

THE developing of colts is a painstaking job. It requires loads of patience if one expects to get the young trotter or pacer to the races. There are plenty of troubles from the time the young colt is born until the time comes to take the first trip behind the starting gate. Nobody is in the colt raising business to make the money. At least we don't think they are. However, there is a terrific satisfaction which comes with the colt or filly develop and building up hopes for a fair performance in the colt stakes.

TONIGHT some owners will be overjoyed at the performances of their young trotters and pacers. Others will naturally be disappointed. They will be expecting greater things than their 'babies' will be able to produce tonight.

However, failure tonight doesn't mean the end of the line. Sooner or later will be a real interest in these colt stakes and as the competitors this time next year. A disappointing two-year old tonight may become a humdinger of a three-year old in 1964. A three-year old tonight may be a favorite at the mutual windows a year from now.

Big Turnout Needed

WE hope that the colt stakes are well patronized tonight. President Jack Annear and his fellow members of the executive would appreciate a good-sized turnout on hand to watch their youngsters. They have a real interest in these colt stakes and are desirous of spreading that enthusiasm to other members of the racing fraternity.

We have the idea that those who do attend tonight will witness a fine racing card. There may be one or two of these youngsters that are a bit better than the rest but in colt stakes it's hardly safe to go betting your last two dollars on the favorite. Remember that the colt stakes are a very many of them performing before the public for the first time.

If you are a real racing fan, then you'll be on hand tonight for these stakes. Post time is 7:30 sharp.

Welcome, Mr. Semple

WE notice that the well-known reinsman from Kensington, Tyndal Semple, will be driving the three-year trotter, Susie (Jenny) at the opening of the colt stakes.

This grand old gentleman still maintains his great interest in the race game and fans will certainly give him a great hand tonight when announcer Frank Annear makes his introduction.

Welcome to the city, Tyndal, and loads of success with your two trotters tonight.

GREAT CATCH OF TROUT

Harold Ballen, a former Inshore fisherman, is shown above, having caught his biggest trout to date. He was going back to the same spot soon and expected to catch more.

Colt Stakes Set For Ch town Track

The entry list for the 10th annual P.E.I. Open golf tournament showed 169 names yesterday, including 107 from mainland clubs, and tournament officials said last night they expect the cutoff point, 225, will be reached early today as entries continue to pour in.

Almost every club in the Maritimes will be represented, and it appears that more than half the 250 golfers taking part will be from out-of-province.

Some 15 professionals from the mainland will be shooting for part of the $500 jackpot, including such well known figures as Pete Kelly, Jack Munroe, Jim Walker, Jim MacNeil, Bob Rogers, and Jim Dumeah. Four local professionals will be in the hunt, too, including Cec and Bob Dowling, Errol Nicholson, and George Andrew.

Top amateurs from the mainland include Dartmouth's Peter Roper, Peter Leggett of Saint John, Mossie Dowling, and John, Dave Douglas, Amherst; Joe Mahar, Montreal; and a host of others. They will be matching shots with such local hotshots as Bill Beer, Earl Smith, Art MacKenzie, Deryn play meet.

Huestis, Merrill MacKenzie, Don MacDonald, Jack MacNeil, Jiggs MacDonald, and others.

The big tournament will be run off with the championship division an four non-championship divisions, as well as the open championship for pros and amateurs, team championship bracket, and senior and junior championship divisions.

Charlottetown's Art MacKenzie is defending open and amateur champion, and the recent winner of the Island amateur will be back in this one to defend his title. Top professional at last year, and runner-up MacKenzie in the open was Jack Jackson of Shelburne, N.S.

Jack Jackson edged Cec Dowling a year ago for top money in the pro section, but he has left the Maritimes and is not entered this year.

The club president and tournament officials extend an invitation to the general public to come out and watch the action on Saturday and Sunday, free of charge. The first of the large field teas off Saturday morning at eight o'clock and another 18 holes on Sunday will wrap up the 36-hole, medal play meet.

Flyers Grab Win In Final Contest

The Flyers handed the Dodgers a 6-1 defeat last night in the final game of the regular schedule.

Pouche Burke was on the mound for the winners and allowed seven hits. He walked one batter while striking out three.

South paw Roger MacLeod got the pitching assignment for the Dodgers and was charged with the loss.

The winners jumped into an

Foreign Stars Dominate Play

OTTAWA (CP)—Chuck Brainerd, 15, of the Hoxie Tennis Club, won the 1963 Canadian four matches Wednesday as foreign stars dominated play at the 10th annual Canadian junior open tennis championships.

The 16-and-under singles play was won by the 15-and-under category.

Playing in hot weather on clay courts at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club, the 17-year-old American took two matches in the boys' 16-and-under division and another two in the 15-and-under category.

The 16-and-under singles he whipped Dave Brown of Toronto 6-3, 6-0 and Ken McDaniel of Toronto 6-1, 6-0.

Later in the day, Brainerd had a tougher time with a pair of Canadians. He won 7-6, 6-0 over Pete Burwash of Toronto and 7-6, 6-0 over Bob Paddicombe of Vancouver.

Meanwhile, other Americans were competing among themselves for three titles and a fourth American has a strong chance for another.

Tom Conlie Capozzi of Middleton, Ohio, defending U.S. girls' 12-and-under champion, won the running for two crowns.

She entered the finals of the 12-and-under knockout, where the other finalist is Marjorie Gendler of Locust Valley, N.Y., and also won her semifinal in the 14-and-under division.

The boys' 12-and-under, Tim Marks of Oak Park and John Lamerato of Hamtramck, Mich., reached the final in the boys' 12-and-under singles.

Faye Urban of Windsor and Vicki Berra and Hedy Euzenbeck of Vancouver hold Canada's hopes for a title in the girls' 10-and-under category.

However, the fourth semi-final, the opening bid for the 10-and-under title in the final frame when Bobby Peaches Bartowick of Hamtramck, who whipped Miss Urban on singles by Roger Goss, and MacLeod.

did they SPROUT this summer?

...then so did their feet! If your youngster's feet are to develop healthfully, they need school shoes that are correctly shaped and properly fitted. It's poor economy to crowd growing feet into shoes that are outgrown—even if there is still a "bit more wear" in them. The result can be permanent injury.

Your Savage dealer understands the importance of proper fit. Right now he has his new selection of school and party shoes by Savage, for boys and girls of all ages. All are well-made, of good materials, over correct lasts. They're Sanitized-treated too, for lasting hygienic protection. It doesn't pay, ever, to take chances with growing feet. They held on to this lead until the fourth frame when Burke reached base on an error and later scored the third marker of the game. The winners kept picking away at McLeod's pitching and managed another tally in the sixth inning the Flyers made the score 5-0 when Bagley and later scored on a long double by Carl MacQuaid. MacLeod kept out of trouble in the next two frames as he retired all six batters to face him.

Burke had things pretty much his own way as he kept setting the Dodgers down with any real scoring threats. The losers came close to scoring in the fourth frame when the first two batters reached base. Burke however bore down and made the following three hitters get out.

The Dodgers spoiled the game by scoring three runs in the final frame when Bobby Rice singled and crossed the plate on singles by Roger Goss and MacLeod.
