

NOT ANOTHER WORLD

This article will not only discuss the Matthews clan but it will also deal with the Frames since the two families are so closely connected. This week N.A.W. will also provide an update on the Corys and Randolphs. Dr. Russ Mathews and Gwen Parish are getting married! To recap, Gwen Parish is a very ambitious, aggressive, highly talented architect who works under Willis Frame. Willis Frame is the younger brother of the late Stephen Frame who was married to Alice Gordon (since Steve's untimely death in a helicopter accident Alice Frame nee Mathews married her adopted child Uncle Ray Gordon) Willis and Gwen frequently confide in one another about their turbulent romances. Willis, who has been heavily dating Alice Gordon (her marriage to Ray lasted what appeared to be two weeks), hopes to marry her but is unsure of his feelings concerning his ex-girl friend Angela Perrini. On top of that Ray Gordon refuses to grant Alice a divorce because he still loves her and knows Willis is wrong for her. Meanwhile Angie, with the frequent help of Otis Frame, (better known as Vince) Willis' older brother, is trying to pick up the pieces of her life and start afresh. Vince does not feel Steve's widow is not right for his younger brother but thinks Angie was perfect. The key word being "was" because now we find Vince becoming very attracted to Angie. For Gwen Parish on the other hand, she has fallen in love with a very attractive and eligible divorcee - Dr. Russ Mathews (Alice Gordon's brother). Russ is deeply in love with Gwen and is only too happy to marry her even though his other two marriages ended in disaster. (Russ was previously married to the present Rachel Cory and Charlene Frame of the Willis, Steve, Vince Frame family). Gwen is worried however that they are rushing into things. Pat Randolph (Alice and Russ's sister; mentioned in the previous article) is still in a state of despair although John has begun to acknowledge her now and even recognized the fact that Pat still wore her wedding band. Meanwhile Aunt Liz - Alice, Russ, and Pat's deceased mother's sister - protests the affair between Russ and Gwen and Willis and Alice. Aunt Liz has never been fond of the Frames consequently she has gone through a lot of heartache the Matthews family has married into the Frame family three times (Steve being killed; Alice a widow; Charlene running away; Russ divorced; Molly Frame leaving Micheal Randolph thus separation - Micheal is Pat's son and Russ and Alice's nephew, Molly is Steve, Vince's, and Willis's niece). Jim Mathews, Alice Gordon, Russ Mathews, and Pat Randolph's father is becoming fond of Ada McGowan, an old friend whose second husband was killed in a mine explosion (Ada is Rachel Cory's mother).

Liz protests this flickering of romance as she does not think Ada is refined enough and has never liked Rachel, Ada's daughter, for the heartache she has brought to the Mathew household. Jim is also a widow - Mary Mathew died many "years" ago - and works as an accountant for his ex son-in-law. Liz is a lonely lady although Susan her daughter, has just recently moved into her apartment. Susan and her husband have separated much to Liz's concern. Susan gets along with her mother as well as the rest of her family. Consequently, Susan is deliberating moving into her own apartment thus the lonely well intentioned lady gets lonelier.

Rachel Cory has successfully undergone an operation supervised by Dr. Zimmerman and has obtained her eyesight once more. Jamie, her son, is moving away from home so Mac and Rachel can be alone whereupon he will live the life of a lonely, rich, single guy in a swinging apartment. Ada is going to help Rachel with the housekeeping as the housekeeper (Rageena's mother) has gone back to Sweden. Rageena however has not left.

John Randolph is beginning to talk more and recognizes Pat as the woman he once loved and still does. Craig, John's young lawyer, is becoming unusually sympathetic toward Alice Randolph and feels someone should move in with her. Ahem! The true story of what took place that dreadful night is finally being realized.
