HAPPENINGS

Bending with dignity in his Windsor uniform the new Lieutenant Governor of Ontario, Hon. J. Keiller Mackay and his pretty wife, greeted 700 guests at the reception following the Opening. Mrs. Mackay wore a graceful floor-length gown of gold lace with a tiny headdress of bright green feathers.

Mrs. George J. Tweedy entertained at a shower and tea Friday afternoon at her lovely home, 20 Greenfield Avenue in honor of Miss Irene MacLeod Giddings, R.N., who will be married on St. Valentine's day. Mrs. W.E. Scantlebury poured tea. Mrs. E. S. Chandler, Mrs. E.S. Lord, Mrs. H.H. Pierce and Mrs. A.G. Hogan, Miss Helen Crosby, assisted in the dining-room.

Mrs. Percy Sharam and Mrs. W.E. Scantlebury will entertain at Mrs. Scantlebury's residence, Kent Street, Monday afternoon at a tea in honor of their niece, Miss Irene MacLeod Giddings, R.N.

A very pleasant shower party was given in honor of Miss Irene Giddings, R.N., by Miss Dorothy Simmonds, R.N., at the latter's home. These girls had been classmates. The gifts presented to the bride elect were personal gifts.

Mrs. W.J. Dunlop, wife of Dr. Dunlop Minister of Education, was among the guests attending the opening of Ontario's Legislature. Mrs. Dunlop, a tall golden-haired woman, was wearing a pink coat, colored in pink fox, and a pelted pink hat. Mrs. Dunlop was the former Miss E. Carleton Kilby; one of Canada's outstanding contralto soloists. She has visited this province with Dr. Dunlop who was here in connection with his Mesonic work.

Miss Mary A. MacKenzie, deaconess of the North Tryon Presbyterian Church, is convalescing at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Tremere, 9 Chestnut Street, Charlottetown.

February 8, 1945: First Canadian Army entered battle of Germany. A massive smashing attack into the Reichwald Forest crushed six of seven enemy battalions. The fighting which followed was among the heaviest of the war as Canadians over-ran the north end of the Siegfried line.

The battle of the sexes in Ottawa West's Progressive Conservative ranks has intensified as the Women's PC Association served an ultimatum to the executive of the Men's Association. The women, avid supporters of Charlotte Whitton as the riding PC candidate, are angry at the men who support Ossie Howe for nomination.

The ladies say the Men's Association won't produce its membership lists, while they, the ladies, have turned over their lists to the men.

If the men don't come across, the Women's Association will boycott the Feb. 24 convention at which Miss Whitton, former mayor of Ottawa, is scheduled to oppose Mr. Howe.

The women are meeting today to decide whether they will seek a court order to compel the men to produce the lists;—or nominate Miss Whitton independent of what the men decide.

Whoever wins the PC nomination, Mr. Howe or Miss Whitton, will face Liberal George McIlraith in the election. Mr. McIlraith won the riding last June.

Mrs. Leslie Simmonds, Mrs. Victor Inman, Mrs. Allie MacNeill and Mrs. Edythe Woodside returned home from a motor trip to Halifax. While there they visited with Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Simmonds.

Mrs. W.P. Callaghan entertained the East End Bridge Club on Monday evening.

Mr. Reginald Saunders, Alabama, and his sisters, Mrs. Myron Stoll, Youngstown, Ohio, and Mrs. Ollie Cleveland, Detroit, Michigan, are guests of their sister, Mrs. Harold Schurman, and Mr. Schurman.

Mrs. Harold Magee was hostess to her bridge club on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Inman and young son George, Coronation Avenue, are on a ten-day trip to the United States.

Mrs. Leslie Simmonds, Belmont Street, entertained the members of the local branch of the I.O.D.E. on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Somers left recently for a three weeks' holiday in Florida.

Hostesses at the Summerside Curling Club tonight will be Helen Hubley (convener) Jean Boby, Elsie MacCauley, Bertha Jenkins, Eve MacAlpine, Phyllis Jenks, and Mrs. Harry Laphorne.

Mrs. Robert Boby entertained the members of the Beta Chapter of the Sigma Phi on Wednesday evening. During the business meeting a letter was read from the International office stating that $15,000 had been donated to the Canadian Polio-myelitis Fund, and also this year $2,000 will be given for scholarships offered to Canadian students in Music and English. The program was presented by Mrs. Elsie MacCauley and Mrs. Fern Hall, the subject "Contact of Environment Through Health, Work and Play." A lively discussion followed. The members worked on valentine favors for the patients at the Chronic Health Centre. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Sheldon Cameron, Summerside, entertained at a hospital bridge on Monday evening.

Mrs. Cyril Kenny, Harvard Street, spent the past weekend in Charlottetown, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harry Laphorne.

Her days are filled with good intentions.

The folks she meets all say, Her words and deeds to them have meant New hopes along life's way.

The beauty of her charming smile With none it can compare, For it speaks of the sincerity That is not wanting there.

She's related to the flowers For nature made them both, With all the lily's purity To bloom they are not loath.

Perfection of the violet, Gentleness of dew, Were all stored up in one sweet heart When God created "You". M.M.

N. GRANVILLE W.M.S.

The February meeting of the N. Granville W. M. S. met at the home of Mrs. Stafford Coles. The devotional period was led by Mrs. George Dunning, the theme being, "Looking to Christ and not to Ourselves", taken from the Missionary Monthly.

Hymns sung were, "Come Thou Almighty King", and "O For a Thousand Tongues To Sing". Scripture lesson taken from Philippians 3:1-16 and read by Mrs. Horace Taper.

The talk was given by the leader. The members who had prayer for adopted missionary was not present. "The Lord's Prayer" was repeated in unison.

The business part of the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Horace Taper, president. The roll call was answered by five members repeating a verse of scripture in connection with the lesson. Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

Correspondence consisted of a thank you card for a get well card sent. The sick committee reported 22 cards sent, 12 home calls and two hospital calls made.

Literature secretary reported four books read during the month. The members kindly accepted the invitation from S. Granville Presbyterian W. M. S. to join with them for the World Day of Prayer on February 21st, to be held at the home of Mrs. Sterling Corbett. Plans were made for the service.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES A. MURRAY

Pretty Winter Wedding Solemnized At Montague

Hillside Inn, Montague, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Rev. Fred MacKinnon United in marriage, Norma Ellen Scott, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Scott, Grandview, and James Alexander Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Murray, Valleyfield.

The bride, given in marriage by her father looked lovely in her wedding gown of white nylon lace and net over satin, ballerina length, and lace bolero with Peter Pan collar embroidered with pearls. The long sleeves tapered to points over her hands. Her shoulder length veil was held by a crown of sequins and pearls and she carried a white Bible with satin streamers and rosebuds. She wore pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Miss Elizabeth Gillis, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of coral nylon net over taffeta with matching bolero and headdress. She carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Roland Ford, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. The wedding music was played by Mr. Clarence Gillis. The soloist was Mrs. Thomas Jackson, who sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register and "How Great Thou Art".

Mrs. Scott chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of beige lace over taffeta with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses.

The groom's mother wore a two piece dress of royal blue crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. D.A. Gillis was attired in a navy crepe dress with white accessories.

Following the ceremony a delicious hot turkey dinner was served to about thirty-five guests. The bride's table was centered with a miniature bride and groom and arch of pink rosebuds.

The toast to the bride was proposed by the Rev. Fred MacKinnon and fittingly responded to by the groom. Miss Dorothy MacDonald was in charge of the guest book.

Following the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to Cape Breton and other points of interest in the Maritimes.

For travelling the bride wore a royal blue wool dress with matching accessories and fur jacket. She wore a corsage of red roses.

Prior to her wedding the bride to be was entertained at a shower in Grand View Hall, where she received many beautiful gifts also at a linen shower in Charlottetown at the apartment of Miss Elizabeth Gillis. The staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Montague, presented her with an electric steam iron.

The couple will reside in Toronto, Ont., where they are both employed. The bride has been transferred to a branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia on St. Clair and Avenue Road. Their many friends wish them every success and happiness.

BING'S BRIDE ENROLLS

Kathy Crosby, 23-year-old wife of Bing Crosby, enrolls at Los Angeles City College yesterday for three courses which she says will help her become a registered nurse. Later in the day, through a studio spokesman, the former Texas beauty queen said she and her 53-year-old husband are expecting a baby next August. At right is Charles W. Trigg, dean of instruction at the col-

ELLEN'S DIARY

He Is Growing Up Fast He's No Little Boy Now

"Who dat man?" queried a sparrow. He peered off through the orchard to the fields beyond from his perch of a low roof, not far from where we swept a night scattering of snow from the floor of the back verandah this morning.

"Love dat man!" the black cat chuckled fondly, lounging by a pillar.

"See him a-comin'! Growin' up fas'. No little boy any mo'!" he nodded.

"He'll soon be eleven!" we whispered, watching him step off smartly the last length of the mile which had brought him, this younger lad of Rob's to keep a Saturday tryst with Mack.

"Do you see anybody?" Mack across the yard at the door of his workshop where he saved a board, looked up eagerly.

We smiled. "Were you expecting someone?" he queried "just hopin'."

"Hopin'?" "Yes—hopin' that Gage would come."

So pleasant the morning was, flushed and fresh in the new wakefulness that had come with the dawn. A little breeze and mild, moved in the trees stirring the twigs gently. The yards and fields lightly snow-spread reached up the slope to meet the spruce-crowned valley's rim. And overarching was the silver sky, pinned with a bluejay's call, which gave notice of a change of weather ahead.

Presently redskins skulked behind trees in the yard, to be stalked and flushed from their hiding by a minimum force of "law and order, with young lads."

"Reach! You're covered!" of the cowboy games. And the "Bang, bang! You're dead!" which ends them. And makes us wonder if perhaps in such play, parents may be carelessly rearing a hard generation of children, or is it only a harmless and it would seem necessary phase of the times?

centered with a three tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Clair Jenkins was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a dusty pink dress, lace over taffeta, with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The mother of the groom wore a blue dress, lace over taffeta with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following a brief honeymoon the happy couple left by car for their home in Kingston, Ontario, where the groom is employed. A telegram was received from a friend.

Prior to her marriage the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower at her home. The shower was given by her friends in the community, also Mrs. Everett Saunders and Mrs. Vic Runtz, were hostesses to relatives and friends at Mrs. Saunders home on December 17th. The bride elect was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts at both of these showers.

On December 10 the bride was guest of honor at a dinner at the Windmill given by her co-workers of Eatons. On this occasion she was presented with a lovely gift.

And the day is gone—and the week too is "as a tale that was told." It's scenes however engaging, beloved, collected are enshrined in folks' hearts. And ah!—I opening, the unknown avenue of a new week beckons. How shall we enter it? How proceed into the shadowed way? By faith and...led. One says.

"Lead me aright that I may know the way."

I do not fear the things that may assail me.

Through crossed and harassed through the untrodden day, Help me to know that Thou wilt never fail me;

For, Lord, I walk by faith and not by sight.

Lead me aright."

"Lead me aright and give me inward peace."

Which comes alone by perfect trust in Thee,

For where Thou art, unrest and striving cease.

And quietness abides continually. So when I feel the raging sea's great might—

Lead me aright."

Until Monday—Diary—Good night.....

TO MY SISTER

Here is a poem that is a lovely example of sisterly affection. It was written while one sister was in Ottawa (and a little bit homesick to see sister) and the other here on Prince Edward Island.

Folks talk about the angels With sparkling silver wings, Well, my dear sister, she Possesses all angelic things.

For example, she is heavenly, And certainly divine, Her gentle personality Must surely show a sign.

With all the pure unselfish thoughts That each day cross her mind, They leave their mark upon her face

To show her heart is kind.

Her days are filled with good intentions.

The folks she meets all say, Her words and deeds to them have meant New hopes along life's way.

The beauty of her charming smile With none it can compare, For it speaks of the sincerity That is not wanting there.

She's related to the flowers For nature made them both, With all the lily's purity To bloom they are not loath.

Perfection of the violet, Gentleness of dew, Were all stored up in one sweet heart When God created "You". M.M.
