

A KLEANER'S KORNER

by Ed Orlowski
3rd & 4th Duffy

Every day I visit the coffee chapel. The coffee chapel is that place where all dedicated employees go 'by sole travel' to have their coffee chapel break, as one is not a cup carrying member unless one has a coffee chapel break.

But perhaps where I have my cup is more quiet than most chapels. I am sometimes quite alone to drink my hot water with 'whatever' but usually the Rose One is with me. She's my synthetic ostrich feather duster (as ostriches are a protected species now). She's real chicken though, and blushes very, very easily. She's 27th cousin to the Grimey One.

She is a valuable companion, as she is in charge of keeping all the dusties off of the books here on 3rd and 4th floors Duffy. She really gets charged up, too, and by moving over the book shelves she generates static electricity which lifts the tiny particles of dust onto her feathers to fall down onto the floor, where Grimey One later collects them.

The Grimey One really gets special treatment in his hair. That is a clingative type "hair oil" chemical, which will not release the particles of dirties unless they are given a good old fashioned shaking.

Once the dusties are given the salt-shaker treatment, they are swept up by the Pink Kitten (the Pink Kitten is a sexy, sweet, lightweight thing, with split ends on her broomhead. She's a small job go-getter) who in turn calls on the Quiet One, for assistance. The Quiet One is our superstar. She's hung up on a nail (the nail's name is Spike) and she's a genuine synthetic rubber dustpan. She moves across the floor almost without a sound, and collects the dusties and grimies which the Pink Kitten has collected for her. Then the Quiet One gives them (the dusties and the grimies) an elevator ride to the grab bag. (The grab bag is the bag where all no-goodies are dropped after they have left the capable hands of the Quiet One.)

Actually the Grab Bags are very common and high strung. They have their place in every classroom, and Lab., here at 3rd and 4th Duffy. Also there is one in the "Little Girls Room" on 4th floor Duffy, and so the "Little Boys" will not feel left out, well, they have one too. In the tinkle rooms, though, the Grab Bags are held in the strictest of confinement by the silent sentinels. One has to push open the Jaws of the sentinel and deposit one's hand paper there, and as the jaws swing back they squeekily say, "thank you, thank you" but you have to listen carefully. You have to be in tune to such goings on, you know. Often times we don't give any kind of thought at all to the little things that we hear around us....especially in the classrooms.

A KLEANER'S KRISTMAS KALANDAR P.S. Anyone, that is Anyone, who does not expect to be getting a Christmas gift this year, who visits 3rd or 4th Duffy, please write your name and give your telephone number, or where you can be reached, in the book provided, and we will see what we can do about making you feel "Gifted" with a little something.

Rum flavoured.
Wine dipped.

Crack a pack of Colts along with the cards.

POST SYMPOSIUM DRAW

The Kleaner's Korner has made an official 5-o-puss (perhaps its partly from his association with the biology department on 4th floor Duffy). To win it all you have to do is turn to the editorial (page 4) of the November 15th edition of the SUN and write down "one" of the names of "the 12 apostles of Truth" your name and telephone number or where to reach you on campus. Fill in, and cut out the coupon below - and drop it in the box for the draw.
