TWO
 SUGGESTIONS
 BY FORBES BRUCE Suggestions of "two new Europeans" were heard at last week's meeting of the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs, whose topic was The New Western Spoken as of late Western spokesmen said trade won't grow until Russia wants to grow and this appears unlikely, yet spokesmen said likely for present, the effect of the Common Market probably will be to make the division between the two Europeans more pronounced.
 At last week's conference of the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs, most opinion for east-west trade was expressed by Vladimir Velebit, the Yugoslav minister of commerce and director of the Yugoslav branch of the United Nations Commission for Europe.
 However, he saw little possibility of a fast increase in volume. "But," he added, "we are trying to sell our goods that may lead to an easing of the situation."
