ROTARY MEETING - The regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Summerside Rotary Club will be held yesterday with president E. Hickey, C.A. in the chair.
The well arranged program was in charge of Rotarian Earl Corney.
Guest speaker was Colonel Keith Rogers of Charlottetown who spoke on "The Birth of Television" and of the possibilities of having T.V. in this Province in the not too distant future. He also spoke of the experimental steps now being taken in this Province to make this plan a reality.
Guests present were Alan Piper, Ottawa, C. M. Belyea, Summerside, Brenton MacLean, Summerside, and Rotarian guests were Meride, and Rotarian guests were C. M. McCubrey, Sydney, C.B., guests of the club at their regular meeting.—S.

SAD NEWS RECEIVED - The sad news has been received recently of the death of Mr. J. S. Walker at the home of his stepson in Erie, Pa. The deceased was born to the late Mr. and Mrs. John Walker in Freelton seventy-eight years ago.
For the past five years he lived in Miami, Florida, where he suddenly passed away after a short illness took ill and after a short illness passed away in Erie, where he had lived for approximately forty years.
He was married first to Miss Annie Rogers of Freelton who passed away several years ago. Besides his widow there are left to cherish his memory three children, Florence, Mrs. R. W. Guts, W. Barrington, R.
L. Louie, Mrs. Benjamin Ellis, Sydney, N. Y.; and John Walker of Boston, Massachusetts; one sister, Mrs. James Jardine of Sydney, N. S.; and one brother, Mr. Paterson Walker of Kensington. —S.

Church Dedication
At Wellington
The blessing and dedication of the new immaculate Conception Church at Wellington took place on Sunday morning with His Excellency Most Rev. James Boyle officiating. A large number of priests from other parishes as well as many visitors were present for the occasion filling the beautiful new church to capacity. After the blessing of the corner stone and of the interior and exterior of the church, Solemn High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Dr. R. V.
MacKenzie with Dr. A. G. Ellis-worth as deacon and Rev. J. D.
McCoy as sub-deacon. Rev. Joseph LoClair, Summerside, acted as master of ceremonies.
The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. M. Buote, Mt. Carmel, who spoke on the place of the church in the lives of the parishioners from birth until death.
His Excellency Bishop Boyle also addressed the congregation in a brief sermon appropriate to the occasion.
Members of the fourth degree Knights of Columbus formed a guard of honor for His Excellency and for Sir William MacMillan, KCSG and Sir Roderick MacDonald, KSG, who were present in the sanctuary.
Also present in the sanctuary were His Excellency Most Rev.
James Boyle, assisted in the sanctuary by Rev. Urban Gillis and Rev. B. J. MacDonald, chaplains; Monignor Patrick McMahon, Rev.
Father Schutte; Rev. J. P. Buote, P.P., Mt. Carmel; Rev. W. D. Mac-Donald, P.P., Grand River; Rev.
Louis Dooley, P.P., Brae; Rev. P.
F. MacDonald, chancellor; Rev.
L. I. MacDonald, P.P., Wellington.
The choir was under the direction of Mr. C. F. Gallant and the organist was Mrs. Leo Gallant.
At 3:30 in the afternoon the dedication of the cross was solemnly performed by Rev. P. F. MacDonald and Rev. L. I. MacDonald.
Following was an instruction on the meaning of the devotion and the indulgences attached to it.
Pontifical benediction was given by the Bishop assisted by Rev. P. F.
MacDonald as deacon and Rev.
George MacDonald, P.P., St. Martine, as sub-deacon. Rev. R. J.
MacDonald, K.C. Columbus, occupied a place in the sanctuary during the benediction.
The former church which had served the parish for about 75 years was destroyed by fire on January 21, 1951, and in the following spring, work was started on the new edifice which was opened for divine service on the Feast of the Immaculate Conception December 8, 1952.—S.

East Prince Teachers In Convention At S' side

Let's Talk It Over

by "A"

The Summerside Police Department must feel justly proud of its new police patrol. Its fine-looking exterior is perhaps not particularly important as the general run of passengers are not in the mood or condition to appreciate its beauty.
More to the point, its motor is smooth and silent, purring like a cat as it roams the streets for signs of evil doers and like a cat, its approach is unheralded, and so more likely to be successful in making the "pinch." The old patrol was getting to be a noisy contraption, and like a clumsy puppy after a bird advertised its predatory mission before zero hour thus scarring away the culprits like a burglar alarm. This stealthy, streamlined 1953 model should get better results.

The motor patrol is, of course, much more efficient in preventing "breaks" than the policeman his beat on foot. The experienced burglar can time his break to begin just after the pedestrian policeman has passed, break, enter, and do a considerable lot of looting before the cop gets back to the spot again.
A motorized patrol can cover the business section so rapidly that Raffles himself would have to be in top form to handle all the details of the break in the allotted for undetected villainy.

Some bold, bad burglars did make a break in Summerside's business section the other morning, however, and got away with considerable loot in spite of the new police patrol. With scornful disregard of the efficiency of the new "paddy wagon" they entered from the front of the store. It goes to show that as surely as techniques for defence are improved and made more efficient, new methods of attack will be devised in an attempt to outwit the forces of law and order.

ent will meet with Prime Minister Nehru of India and Prime Minister Mohammed Ali of Pakistan.
The two Commonwealth leaders in Asia, and probably will discuss international developments and the chances of a lasting peace on that continent.

One sore spot in East-West relations has been the rift between India and the U.S. over the Korean situation. Some Indian newspapers have been critical of the U.S. decision to block India's entry to a Korean political conference on ways to bringing peace to the Far East.

Hopes For Eisenhower Visit Mr. St. Laurent, who conferred with Mr. Eisenhower in Washington last May on Canada-U.S. trade and defence problems, said he hopes Mr. Eisenhower will visit Ottawa "before too long."

Other sources said the Canadian government would like to have Mr.
Eisenhower visit Ottawa about the time the first session of the 22nd parliament begins, so that the president may be able to address both houses of Parliament, the Senate and the Commons.

Mr. St. Laurent said the first session of the new Parliament will be called either on Nov 12 or Nov. 19. The firm date may be announced following Wednesday's cabinet meeting.

Plan Stiff

He is listed as missing in action but some repatriated prisoners have indicated he may have been taken prisoner.

The 30 Canadians returned by the Reds accounted for all 18 the Canadian Army had listed as missing from Canada's 25th Brigade, but only 12 of the 27 men listed as missing, believed captured.

Refuse Repatriation
The Communists have said they hold more than 20 non-Korean prisoners and about 300 South Koreans who refuse repatriation.

Allied repatriation lists show 344 fewer South Korean prisoners returned than the Reds promised.
Other sources indicated there were about 22 Americans who refused repatriation.

The armistice provides that Allied officers will have an opportunity of offering "explanations" to these detained prisoners for 90 days, beginning about Sept. 25, in the demilitarized zone.

Then if the prisoners still refuse to come home, the Korean political conference will attempt to reach a solution in an additional 30 days.
By Jan. 25, four months later, if the prisoners still refuse repatriation the armistice provides that they shall be reclassified as civilians and allowed to go to the neutral country of their choice.

FATALLY INJURED
KINGSTON, N. S. (CP)—Mrs.

Tuesday from injuries received in a car crash during the peak of car and a truck collided during the storm and she was thrown to the road.

hubby's wrath at the bill.

—Noting that the annual average salary of rural school teachers in Prince Edward Island is only $1-300.00 per year, the report of Mr.
J.A.S. Williams of Charlottetown, retiring as general secretary of the Prince Edward Island Teachers Federation was presented yesterday to the East Prince School Teachers Federation by the newly appointed general secretary, Miss Estelle Bowness of Summerside.

The report covered the activities of the federation for 1952-53, and also revealed that very few districts had reported on their Education Week activities.

The teachers of East Prince district are meeting in convention at the auditorium of the Summerside High School.

Mr. Malcolm MacKenzie, chief supervisor of education from Charlottetown, addressed the convention and discussed the text books to be used by the various grades in the coming year.

A new geography, one of the changes referred to, has been brought up to date and has been printed and compiled by Canadians for use in Canadian schools.

Mr. MacKenzie pointed out the need for additional books for school libraries and reminded teachers that the Department of Education will match the effort of any district dollar for dollar in this project.

Mr. Alvin MacLennan formerly in charge of the Vocational School in Charlottetown, gave an interesting demonstration in science.

Mr. Braden Jelly, the local supervisor, conducted a very interesting discussion on the teaching of language work through grades 1 to 10, with various teachers leading the discussion.

He mentioned that the enrollment at over 150 at yesterday's convention was the largest here to date.

The convention was presided over by the president, Miss Mary Mac-Lure. —S.

Vagrant in Cow Bay, just east of Halifax, had his life preserved and jumped into churning seas to try to save him. She reached him but her strength failed in the heavy surf. His body slipped from her grasp.

Mrs. Bishop was carried onto the beach by the sea. She is in a Halifax hospital suffering shock and exposure. Others aboard the craft declined to talk of the accident.

Along the Nova Scotia coast small craft took a battering. Many yachts were wrecked.

The Windsor, N. S., tug Fundy Queen, unreported on a trip across the Bay of Fundy from Bangor, Me., to Bear River, N. S., with barge in tow, turned up Tuesday afternoon at Bass Harbor, Me.

There had been no word from her since she sailed Friday night well before the storm struck.

Other vessels in distress reached port safely. The 75-foot Joyce and Mary out of Yarmouth, N. S., was out of danger after reporting she was sinking off western Nova Scotia.

The 57-foot fishing boat Sister M. Antonio, missing on her way home from the LaHave banks, rode out the gale and reached Lockeport, N. S.

The 50-foot pleasure schooner Gilda Grey owned by Maj. James Lovett of Dartmouth, N. S., blew ashore in Mill Cove on Halifax harbor during the storm's height and was a total loss.

Washed Into Ocean
Robert O'Connell, 18, was washed into the ocean at nearby Herring Cove while watching the surf from a rock. He was rescued and taken to hospital suffering concussion.

Telephone, telegraph and power companies had a heavy damage bill. Falling trees caused scores of line breaks. Circuits to Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland and Nova Scotia points were interrupted and many localities had power failures. There were 40 power breaks in Halifax alone.

Thousands of trees were toppled, some of them blocking streets and highways. At Lakelands, 35 miles from Halifax on route 1 to the Annapolis Valley, a tree landed on a passing car but the occupants escaped severe injury.

Week To Clear Trees
August DeBar, Halifax city manager, said it would take a week to clear trees and branches from the streets.

In the Annapolis Valley orchard owners counted heavy damage to their trees as well as loss to the year's crop. Many new orchards will be delayed in reaching production.

Many buildings lost display windows. At Dartmouth light standards at a ball park were blown down. Part of Halifax's air raid warning system was put out of commission when the wind carried away siren installations atop downtown buildings.

The weather office said the storm was the worst to hit Halifax since 1950. The damage, however, was the worst in a decade.

Grand Old Man Of

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—John Macfarland Phillips, known as Pennsylvania's "grand old man of conservation," died Tuesday at the age of 92. He was largely responsible for what he called "the greatest hunting club in the world"— Pennsylvania's system of game refuges surrounded by public hunting grounds. He drew up and fought for the state's basic game code which became a model for many other states.

Interesting Lecture
On Mission Work

—Miss Mary Nichol, nursing superintendent of the Jobot Hospital in Central India gave a most enlightening and interesting illustrated lecture in the Summerside Presbyterian Church hall last evening to the members. She is of the senior and junior missionary societies, now on furlough having spent five and one half years in India to which place she had been sent by the Eastern Division of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Miss Nichol's work was with the Bill Group, an aboriginal tribe, and she gave a detailed account of daily life in the 72-bed hospital, which had a three-fold mission of teaching, preaching, and healing.

Mrs. William E. Forbes presided and was assisted in the worship service by Miss Irene Mountain, Mrs. Fred Moase and Miss Constance Enman. Mrs. Cleve Whalen was pianist and accompanied the girls trio as they sang "Love Divine." Mrs. J. S. Perry expressed the appreciation of those present for an inspiring address.

Following the talk, Miss Nichol's exhibited many of the costumes and jewelry worn by the people of India. Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies. —S.

No Developments
In Robbery Case

—No new developments were reported yesterday in the armed robbery that occurred at the West End Service Station in Summerside about 9:30 on Monday evening during a wind and rain storm that lashed the Province.
Carrying a revolver, wearing light flamed glasses, and apparently making no effort to disguise his appearance, the robber backed the service station attendant, Austin McInyre and Earl Banks against the wall while he took approximately $100 in Canadian bills from the cash register and ignored some American currency also in the same cash register.

Chief of Police Peter White, who is co-operating with the R. C. M. P. in the investigation, said yesterday that this was the first armed robbery that has occurred in Summerside in more than twenty-five years. It is considered quite probable that it is not the work of a local man.—S.
